

after all It is Quality that Counts

During the past few weeks of Slaughter Sales the people of Markdale have had a great opportunity to choose between my exclusive high-class clothes tailored up to a standard and those of the other kind made down to a price. Never before have I been so well satisfied with the foundation of "quality" on which I built this business. My ideal has always been high-class goods at a fair price—fair to the buyer, fair to the seller.

To-day that policy is giving its best results. While others are driven to questionable methods to unload their "cheap" clothing, my hand-tailored garments for men stand out in a class by themselves and sell at 100 cents on the dollar, and the customer knows they are worth the money.

At present I am showing a beautiful range of two and three-piece Summer Suits cut in a smart two-button model (same as illustration,) made from "Hewson Homespun" in grey, brown, leather mixtures, prices $10, $12, $15, $18. See these exclusive lines before you buy.

DURHAM

With commendable vigilance License Inspector Wm. Allan met the Grand Trunk Railway train on Saturday night and succeeded in intercepting three cases of liquor addressed respectively to John Schutz, N. McIntyre and one "Louis." This latter was claimed by Louis Bauer, who said that they had simply got the wrong end of his name down. All pleaded that the stuff was intended for private use and the inspector gave them the benefit of the doubt and allowed them off.

Jammed A Finger—Returning from Palmerston sports on Tuesday night, Mr. Alex. Kearney had his arm on the window of the car when he noticed it falling. Quickly he drew it back but barely in time for the window caught his second finger on the left hand, jamming it flat slightly below the nail. It was a painful wound, and on arrival home two stitches were required, and the nail may yet be useless. As the left hand is Alex's "right" hand it will inconvenience him for some time.—Review.

The electric light system was put out of commission on Tuesday night about 10.30. The break in the service was caused by the filling of the furniture company's dam at the Rocky, which had been let out a couple of days before.

While fishing below the McKee-dam a few days ago Mr. Swindler, a feeble old gentleman over 80 years of age, toppled into the stream and had a narrow escape from drowning. It is thought the old man was overcome with the excessive heat.—Chronicle.

MEAFORD

Dr. McNally, Provincial Health Officer, was in Meaford last week explaining the various means adopted by the Provincial authorities to prevent the spread of small-pox.

Mr. Fred Neely had the misfortune to have his right arm broken by being kicked by a horse on Tuesday.

Mr. William Pollock, of the Molsons Bank staff, had a narrow escape from drowning this afternoon. He was in swimming and got beyond his depth and had to be rescued.

Some time last Thursday night horse thieves entered the stable of R. McKinley, Gravel Road, and after carefully harnessing one of his horses and hitching it to his buggy drove quietly off. Arising early next morning to his astonishment Mr. McKinley found his stable vacant of horse, harness and buggy. He at once sent out an alarm but as yet the thief or thieves are at large. The previous day Mr. McKinley had his dog shot and it is evident the thieves had been sizing up the situation some time before.

DUNDALK

A new business' is being opened in town this week. Mr. Alex. McDuff, late of the firm of Stephens & McDuff is opening up in a store recently vacated by J. F. Vandusen, the jeweller, and is putting in stock of sewing machines, kitchen cabinets, cream separators, stoves, etc.

The congregation of Erskine Church and Knox Church, Ventim, met in Dundalk on Monday and extended a call to Rev. Mr. Harvey of Worcester, Mass., who preached here a couple of weeks ago. The salary offered is $1200 and should the call be accepted, the congregation bear the expense of bringing Mr. Harvey and family from Worcester.

Speak thieves were busy in town last week. S. Kinnel's garden was raided and onions, lettuce and rhubarb suffered. Apparently the thieves were disturbed, as they left a quantity of the vegetables strewn over the ground. S. Simmons' cream can was visited two nights in succession and contents carried off. A third call would not have been healthy for the visitor.

After a lingering illness the angel of death relieved the sufferings of Ellen McCullough on Thursday evening, June 27th. From last fall Miss McCullough had been in failing health and about six months ago became bedfast. All that skillful medical attention and tender nursing could accomplish was done. Her suffering at times was very severe but all was endured with Christian patience. It was known for some weeks that recovery was impossible.—Herald.

SHELBURNE

Jeremiah Brundige, one of the best known residents of Shelburne, died suddenly Sunday afternoon last, at his residence, Wellington street, Shelburne, in his 71st year.

Joseph Thompson, an old and respected resident of Shelburne, died on Friday evening last, in his 72nd year, after an illness of several months. Deceased has not resided here continuously but might be called one of the pioneers, as he was in the employ of the late Wm. Jelly and assisted him in building the first hotel in Shelburne in 1865 that stood on the present site of the Mansion House.

Hand Hurt—Geo. Laking, foreman in the Shelburne Planing Mill, had his left hand badly injured Monday evening last. He was engaged turning the large planer, and when the knife caught on a board and threw it back on his hand with great force. The hand is badly swollen and he will be laid off for some time. Had the board struck him in the body he would have been killed.

Rev. W. A. Rodwell, who is giving up the active work of the ministry on account of his health, preached farewell sermons in Shelburne Methodist Church Sunday last, and leaves this (Thursday) morning for Carleton, near Parry Sound. Mr. Rodwell has been exceedingly well liked during his stay in town and his departure is looked on with real regret. Sunday was also the last day of service of Mr. T. F. E. Claridge as choir-master in this church, he having had to resign his position on account of throat trouble.

THORNBY

Last Sunday evening while returning home from Heathcote in his father's auto, Mr. Clifford Devins had the misfortune to strike a large stone in front of W. J. Goldsmith's. The car turned turtle but fortunately the young man escaped uninjured.

Mr. John F. Kerr is lying in a critical condition at his home near Heathcote, the result of being thrown from a high wagon while driving down his lane on Saturday last. The accident was witnessed by those in the house who immediately succeeded in getting the unfortunate man to the hospital, and after telephoning for medical assistance proceeded to lend first aid. On the arrival of the Dr. an examination was made when it was discovered that two ribs were broken and he was suffering from congestion of the lungs.—Reflector.

OWEN SOUND

On Thursday about 2 o'clock the fine new steamer North American called here on its first trip. A thousand citizens went down to the wharf to see it, and when they went on board they were in no way disappointed. The boat is beautifully and most completely furnished and is truly a model passenger craft. The officers of the boat were feted by the town fathers and expressions of admiration for our town were everywhere heard from both officers and passengers.

Arthur Harris, son of Mrs. E. Harris, 623 7th street East, was badly injured yesterday. The lad, who is about fifteen years old, was leading a cow, and had tied the rope around his waist. The animal took fright at something and started to run, and Arthur was thrown off his feet and dragged for a considerable distance over the rough ground, sustaining many painful cuts and bruises.

Holley--Winterburn.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Winterburn was the scene of a very pretty wedding at 4 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, June 25th, when their second youngest daughter, Florence Macneave, united in marriage to Mr. Charles H. Holley, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. John Holley, of Plesherton. Promptly at the hour, as the strains of the wedding march played by Miss Vera Winterburn, sister of the bride, floated through the air, the young bride entered, the parlor escorted by her father, and took her place beside the groom under an arch of evergreen ferns and cut flowers a large white bell was suspended from the centre of the arch with a back ground of potted flowers, while Rev. Mr. Marks, of Strathvoun, tied the knot truly well. The bride was most becomingly attired in embroidered crepe with a satin sash, an embellished Juliet veil caught up with orange blossoms and carried a shower bouquet of bridal roses, lilies of the valley and maiden hair fern tied with white satin streamers. The bride was assisted by her friend, Miss Edith McKay, of Southampton, who was attired in cream tulle trimmed with baby Irish lace over cream silk. Little Miss Vera Atkinson, niece of the bride made a charming little ring bearer, carrying a basket of sweet peas, which were buried in the flowers, and was dressed in white embroidery. The pianist was dressed in grey tulle trimmed with pink silk and over lace. The groom was supported by Mr. Arch Winterburn, brother of the bride. After congratulations, the guests, numbering about seventy, partook of a dainty repast. The diningroom was prettily arranged with evergreens and cut flowers. The groom's gift to the bride was a beautiful Heintzman piano, to the bridesmaid a handsome locket and chain, to the pianist a gold bar bearer a gold brooch and to the groomsmen at pearl tie pin. Mr. Kentner photographed the wedding party and photographed the wedding party and photographed the wedding party.

The happy couple left for Owen Sound Thursday and motored from O.S. to Port McNicoll, sailing from there to Sault Ste. Marie on a short honeymoon trip. The bride's travelling costume was a smart tailored suit of blue serge with black picture hat trimmed with ostrich plumes. Mr. and Mrs. Holley will be at home to their friends after July 15th at Vandell.

Erroneous Rumors.

In reference to rumors which are being circulated to the effect that the Ford Motor Company contemplates selling cars direct from the head office, only, and that at greatly reduced prices; and also that all agents would be dispensed with, the Company states in a circular to agents dated June 12, 1913, that the Ford Motor Company, of Detroit, will not accept any more orders for delivery of Ford Cars until after October 1st. In other words the factory has on hand enough signed orders to take care of their output for the season of 1913, which will be over 200,000 cars, and their factory at the present time is turning out 1,000 cars daily. And further, under date of July 3—"We have not considered, nor are we going to consider the sale of Ford cars at any other than full advertised prices, neither is there any foundation in the rumor that the Ford Company is going to eliminate its organization of dealers and sell direct to the Customer."

Euphrasia S. S. Convention

The convention of the Euphrasia Sunday School Association held in New England Church, on Tuesday, June 24th, had a record attendance, the delegates being present in large numbers from the various Sunday Schools.

The Executive extends to the people of New England many thanks for manner in which they entertained the delegates as well as all those attending the convention. The Executive resolved that all Sunday Schools report to the Secretary immediately after organization.

The visiting committee reported eight Sunday Schools with an enrollment of four hundred and ninety scholars and one hundred and nine officers.

The convention meets next year at Epping Methodist Church. The following officers were elected for 1914.

Hon. Pres.—Rev. J. R. Wilkinson. Pres.—Mr. Jonathan Gordon. Vice-Pres.—Mr. A. Rodgers. Secretary—Mrs. L. Sewell. Vice-Pres. T. Training—Miss J. Smith.

Rev. R. M. Phalen, Chairman of Com. W. Gibson, W.M. W. C. Davis, Secretary.

Boy Burglars at Durham

Saturday last Mr. J. P. Telford and family left by auto for Owen Sound and in their absence their home was entered by two little English boys named Wright living near by and plans laid to make an extensive steal of things valuable and useful. Their plans likely reckoned that the family were away over the holiday, but they returned Monday night while the boys were actually in the house. The lads, about 11 and 13 years of age, hearing them come slipped out through a cellar window and ran off for the night and it did not take a minute to discover the doings of the intruders. They had been all over the house, had packed some values with clothing, had a collection of knives, forks, &c., discovered some rings and other jewelry and appropriated them along with a gun and other stuff. This was being collected in the coal bin and the intention evidently was to draw some of it to, hiding in a little wagon when night

Mr. Knott Again.

Since returning to Markdale some months ago Mr. Hugh Knott has unceasingly endeavored to interfere with us in our legitimate business. He first broke out publicly in a tirade of abuse, with profanity and bad temper, which was quite unseemly for even a degraded specimen of humanity, much more an official in the Church. This we passed over with out resentment, rather pitying his human weakness and lack of discretion. Since then he has resorted to taunt after taunt in public print. We would much prefer to utterly ignore these effusions, but yet, in defence of character and reputation, be obliged to enter an action for slander. His drive in last week's Standard, like the previous one, was made up of false insinuations which the public will doubtless take for what they are worth, basing judgment on the source from which they emanate.
