Local and General

No Standard next week.
Read Standard "Want Advs." on Page 5.
The brick is now on hand and the work is in progress on the five-room work on building.
Mr. Blandford and family are leaving for Toronto, and are holding a clearing sale of household effects Saturday at 2 p.m.
The next meeting of the W.M.S. will be held in the Methodist church parlour on Thursday, the 31st August, at 2 p.m.

Alex. Green and W. N. Campbell, of Owen Sound, have been awarded a contract for a ship post office at Shelburne, to cost $29,700.
The party who took Mrs. Sprague's check is known, and will be notified if it will not return within four or five days.

It is surprising the numbers of letters that are dropped in the postbox without a stamp at all. Your friends are not receiving and you do not pay postage.
The Methodist church—10:30 a.m. Quarterly sacramental services, subject "The Crucifixion." The following lessons from the Bible, St. Joseph. A special invitation extended.

They have "bumped down" about 150,000 in the market. The market is still in a state of uncertainty. The price of wheat is still high.

Mr. Chapman, who has bought an undertaking business in Owen Sound, will hold a sale of household effects at 4 p.m. on Saturday next. He will also offer for sale at same time his residence and heavy barn. Rudd Mathews, auctioneer.

Beware! It is contrary to the by-law to use town water on lawns except between the hours of 7 and 9 p.m., and citizens infringing this by-law will be dealt with according to law. A word to the wise is sufficient.

By Order of the Com.
A group of men and teams are being used to finish the C.P.R. station yard improvements. The freight shed will be moved east and the driveway and yard expanded with coal engines. Mr. Cresser has the flower garden and lawn already in excellent condition.

The dust nuisance is at times almost intolerable, and a street sprinkler not yet even in sight. Many places are using crude oil on their streets, and we believe with satisfactory results, but even this requires the sprinkling cart, the investment for which latter appears to be the sticker.

The gas or gasoline engine is going a long way towards making up for the scarcity of labor. When people begin to realize the amount of work that can be done and the small expense in connection with the running of an engine, then its use will become more general. Those who think they do not know enough about machinery to take care of an engine should quickly get rid of that idea, as gas or gasoline engines are now so simple that any one with the smallest amount of common sense can soon understand them.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Laughton, of Chicago, are on a visit with the former's mother, Mrs. B. H. Walden, in town.
Mr. John Hutchinson, of Aurora, was visiting in town, and was the guest of his cousin, Mr. John Hutchinson.

Family Re-Union.

An exceedingly pleasant and enjoyable occasion was the coming together of the entire Thibaudeau family to celebrate on Saturday, July 19th, the 81st anniversary of their mother's birthday. The surviving members of the family are Louis Napoleon, of Ithaca, Mich.; Mrs. John McNeill, Bay City, Mich.; Mrs. E. S. Rutledge and Richard S., Fort William; Pythagoras H., Inspector of Schools, Lacombe, Alberta, and John B., Peter V., and Mrs. R. W. Wilson, of Markdale suburbs, all of whom are married. Besides her eight children, Mrs. Thibaudeau has 33 grandchildren and 7 great-grandchildren living. Seventeen of the grandchildren were present on this auspicious occasion. The three who reside in our suburbs have each on their fine farms a spacious brick house, but none of them quite equal to comfortably accommodate such a gathering, so it was decided to spend the day at Bell's Lake, and the weather being such that could be desired a most pleasant day was spent in picnic fashion by the near forty and fifty, including a few near relatives. Mr. Koutner, our popular artist, took some excellent family group-photos and also a life-like picture of Mrs. Thibaudeau standing in the midst of her well kept and thrifty vegetable garden.

Mrs. Thibaudeau was born in Trewan Parish, Cornwall county, Eng., July 19, 1833. Came with her father's family to Canada when 17 years old, settling at Toronto, then "Muddy York." Was married in October 1854 to John Baptiste Thibaudeau, who died in December 1892. They settled in this part in 1855, and were thereafter among the early pioneers, and notwithstanding the strenuous experiences incident to "life in the bush" Mrs. Thibaudeau is still possessed of all her faculties, has wonderful physical and mental vigor and reads without glasses.

During the reunion the following address was read and with it an easy rocker presented by the family:
Dear Mother: Kind Providence has permitted your eight children once more in a family circle, as we did in days of childhood. Once more have we met to visit the scenes of our youth, and be reminded, and to hear good words of counsel from you. "Once more" and reads with such other, in having a happy time. We have enjoyed ourselves and hope you have. Few indeed, are the families that are favored by kindness of Providence to thus meet and have a family reunion. Health, safety in travelling, and even the weather have favored us, thus far, to meet with and help you in celebrating your eighty-first birthday. We should be thankful for this being allowed to assemble and live again the by-gone days. The battle of life eternally compels us to soon take our departure for our own homes in far away lands. But we have been doubly, yes truly repaid for all efforts we have put forth to be here. First, we have been repaid by seeing you in good health, for a person of your years. Second, by learning of the kindness to you and esteem for you, by the old friends and neighbors. Third, by seeing the good care given you by sister Belle. Few sisters would do so well. None could do better. We go to our several homes knowing that mother is in good hands; so are we, it is a good one. At times you will get tired, so we in anticipation of this desire to leave you this rocker as a slight token of our visit. You would not forget us had we left no such mark. No mother forgets. Take this chair, sit in it, rest in it, and if conditions and environments permit we will try to meet on your ninety-first birthday. "Happy to meet sorry to part," happy to meet again."

After a long illness, Rev. J. M. Simpson, a former well respected pastor of Markdale Methodist Church, passed away at his home in West Toronto, on Thursday, July 24th, at the age of 81 years. The funeral took place on Monday, from High Park Avenue Methodist Church to Prospect Cemetery. He was born near Belleville in 1832. His career in the active ministry closed at Kingston in 1902, and he has since resided at Toronto Junction. He is survived by his widow and four daughters, Mrs. W. H. Post, Mrs. John Eyer and Mrs. John R. Robinson, all of Toronto, and Mrs. A. D. Wright, formerly of Regina, but now of Los Angeles, Cal., also his sister, Mrs. Morley of Buffalo, and three brothers, Capt. Simpson, Owen Sound; Rev. C. A. Simpson, Brampton and D. Simpson, Eureka, California. Mr. Simpson was an exceptionally fine type of man, of a kind disposition, and an eminent preacher and superior presiding officer.

Sudden Death of Gervis Hazard.
Mr. Gervis Hazard, employed as section man on the C.P.R. at Flesherston Station, met with sudden death from heart failure on Tuesday evening, last week. Returning from work with others he complained of not feeling well and in a minute or two expired on the truck. The body was conveyed to his home on Stone's Lane and was a great shock to his family, especially to his wife, who received the sad news at Owen Sound, where she was visiting.
The funeral took place to Flesherston cemetery on Thursday afternoon, service being conducted by Rev. Mr. Leece, of Priceville, assisted by Rev. Mr. Kerr, of Flesherston. Mr. Hazard was a Conservative in politics, and a member of the Orange Order. He was the eldest son of the late John Hazard and was born in Artemesia nearly 53 years ago. About 25 years ago he was married to Miss Martha Stone, daughter of Mr. Henry Stone, who, with four sons and four daughters, survive him, and have the sympathy of the community in their loss.

Death of George McNally

The death occurred on Thursday evening, July 24th, of Mr. George McNally, who passed away at the home of his mother, Mrs. McAlp, of Derby, after an illness of over a year. Deceased had contracted pulmonary trouble, brought on by a bad cold, and though his illness was trying, he was an uncompromising sufferer. He was born twenty-six years ago near Markdale, where he spent the greater part of his life. He was a member of the English Church and a regular attendant. Besides his mother, one sister, Miss Irene McNally, of Calgary, and two brothers, John, of Markdale, and Albert, of Sault Ste. Marie, survive. The funeral took place on Monday afternoon, the body being brought to Markdale on the 4:20 train, and interment on the place here. Rev. Mr. Dymond conducted the services. The sympathy and regret of all who knew the young man are extended to the bereaved family.

Chard--Bond.

A very pretty wedding was solemnized at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bond, of Shirley street, Toronto, at 2:30 last Wednesday afternoon, July 24th, when Miss Rosina Georgina was united in marriage to Mr. John Wilbert Chard, of Markdale. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Dr. Gordon, of Toronto. The bride entered the drawing room, which was prettily decorated with ferns, palms and roses, leaning on the arm of her father. She was charmingly attired in ivory satin trimmed with lace and pearls with a bouquet of roses and lily of the valley. The groom's gift, a gold bracelet, was also worn. Miss Ethel, sister of the bride, acted as bridesmaid, crowned in pink satin with pearl trimmings and carrying a bouquet of pink roses and white lily of the valley. Miss Gladys Marsh, who appeared at the piano, provided a special touch as her gift from the groom. The latter was attended by his brother, Mr. Fred A. Chard. The young couple left on a short honeymoon for Whitby Port Perry. Prince Albert and other points and on their return will reside on Shirley street.

The Game of Bowls.

The spirit that invades men from business activities to the domain of sport is a spirit to be encouraged. Men do not die of overwork. Sages tell us that it is a folly to believe they do. The employment of the mind and body is keen and taxing. It is not the thing that kills. It is when we interject worry that trouble comes. Business conditions are a worry. Hence, when men escape from their business worries, they are enabled to forget their troubles, and their minds are free. An active agency to this end is the modern game of lawn bowls. The development of the game in recent years in Western Ontario has been rapid. To-day the sport is followed in every part of the province, save where the rocks and the nature of the soil make it impossible. The towns and villages have their bowling clubs, while in the cities the numbers of clubs, with its attendant to the members, are increasing during the fine summer months, may regularly be found at play. Local tournaments are organized, adding zest to the sport.
