Immediate steps to repair the Garafraxa street bridge are being taken by the town council and next week will see the work well under In order not to have a repetition of the Lambton street slipped and his leg went into the bridge affair, Mayor Black states that they are looking about for an ing of wire. He was severely burnexperienced contractor and have ed. their eyes on a suitable man and all that is now needed is his assent to go on with the work. His worship does not deem the structure to be in a very bad shape and expects little trouble in making the repairs, still he intends to be careful. The mill owners have agreed to assist and the lower Mc-Gowan dam is being raised several feet and the McKechnie dam lowered. Pumping in the neighborhood of the bridge will also he necessary to accomplish the repair

Rev. Mr. Prudham had an ex perience on Saturday last, which accounts for the honeyed words he put into his sermons on Sunday. On Saturday evening he was stung on the hand by a bumble-bee, and on Sunday morning it was swollen to double the size, the swelling extending to the elbow. On Sunday the shed at Zion, he was stung given a line and towed back to afternoon, when tying his horse in gain, but this time it was on the ther hand. Nature claimed her ight and to give the preacher proper equilibrium and assist him e appeared in the pulpit here on qually swollen, and was apparntly one of the best balanced men hat ever appeared before a Duraudience. We don't know what the preacher said when he cas dealing with the business end hour of four o'clock in the presence of the bumble-bee, but we have a faint idea of the inspiration it would give to an ordinary newsaper man.-Chronicle.

While working at the harvest Mr. John Batchelor, of Brice Hill, had his hand badly torn in a binder on Thursday last. He was finishing up cutting a field of oats and pushing in some straw with his hand to make up the last sheaf. The hand was caught by the needle which penetrated right through oack of the index finger and tore he flesh and cords right out between that finger and the thumb. It is a very nasty wound, but when he was in town Monday it vas improving nicely.

Two or three weeks ago James Keating, of Melancthon, was bady hurt in a runaway accident in his village and was just beginning to regain his strength when he attended a barn raising at Walter Carson's on Thursday: He met with another misjortune by falling from the framework. He alighted on a seed drill which was, on the ground below. His wrist was broken and the side of his head badly cut by the fall. He was unconscious for nearly half an hour.
