We had the pleasure of a private view on Monday of the portrait of Hon. T.S. Sproule, recently paintal by Mr. John Colin Forbes, the artist. The picture is three-quarter lengtit, measuring 4x5 feet, and is remarkably life-like. It represents the Speaker in his official robes, in a standing attitude, apparently about to speak. The expression is admirably portrayed, and is in every way a striking likeness of the Speaker, exciting nothing but admiration from those who
