Gibson, of near Markdale. The bride, who was tastefully and neatly attired in white crepe de chene, entered the parlor unattended to the strains of Lohengrin's wedding march played by Miss Jennie Muir. After the marriage was solemnized, Rev. Mr. Matheson officiating, the guests were entertained to a bounteous repast. The night was far spent when all dispersed, after having a very enjoyable evening. The many beautiful gifts received by the bride show the high esteem in which she was held. The best wishes of the community go with the young couple. They will reside in Flesherton.

Glenelg Centre Farmers' Club

"In order to be a good and an economical feeder one must understand something about the feeds which he is using," said Pres. T. H. Binnie, at the meeting of the Farmers' Club held on Nov. 4th last. Taking protein as the most important compound in the food he showed the different value of the different feeds used on the farm. For example, timothy hay contains about 3 per cent protein and red clover about 7 per cent. This makes the clover twice as valuable for feeding as the timothy. The protein is what is used for the formation of lean meat and muscles in the animal system. Besides being able to give the feed in proper proportion by knowing what is in it one can also buy to advantage. Nearly everyone has an abundance of oats but no peas or other rich feed to mix with them. Which shall I buy is a common question. Oats contain about 47 per cent of the starchy matter of the food and to make a good mixture it is necessary to add protein. With corn at 70 cents per bushel the protein feed is worth 15 cents per pound; the peas are worth $1.00 per bushel the protein is worth 10 cents per pound; with oil cake meal at $38 per ton the protein is worth 54 cents per pound and with cotton seed meal at $36 per ton the protein will be worth 5 cents per lb. Which then is the cheapest feed? The starch and the fat are used for storing as fat or for giving heat and energy to the animal body. The proper proportion of these feeds for the animal is one part of protein to five parts of starch and fat. Music and dancing gave pleasure to those present and a very enjoyable evening was spent by all.

Death of W. G. Baker

After an illness of some six weeks, Mr. William George Baker, a respected Euphrasia pioneer, passed away on Tuesday last at the home of his son, Mr. Ed. Baker, of Vandeleur, aged 75 years. Mr. Baker was born at Port Hope, coming to Euphrasia near Heathcote, 44 years ago. Recently he has been residing in Collingwood and was on a visit to his son, Ed.; when he was taken ill with above result. Besides his wife six daughters and three sons survived as follows: Mrs. F. Dove, Port Huron; Mrs. D. Laughlan, Sarnia; Mrs. Wilbert McMaster, Sarnia; Mrs. Charlie Lawrence, Collingwood; Mrs. George Emerson, Nottawa; Miss Alice, Collingwood; Herb, Sarnia, Ed., of Vandeleur, and Fred, Collingwood. Mr. Baker was in religion a Presbyterian, and in politics a Conservative. Interment will take place at Temple Hill cemetery, the funeral leaving his son's residence at 12.30 on Thursday.

A Terrible Fate

And it came to pass that after he had advertised his goods there came up to him great multitudes from all regions round about and did buy of him. And when his competitors say it they marvelled among themselves saying: "How be it that this man is busy while we loaf idly about our doors?" And spake one unto them: "In this age of push and rustle, it is easier for a camel to enter the eye of a needle than for a man to flourish without advertising."

Left Fortune

Julier McKechnie, at Walkerton, received a letter last week announcing the good fortune that had befallen an ex-prisoner of the jail, Jack Murphy, the steeple-Jack, who has been left a large estate by a deceased relative in Ireland. Murphy, it will be remembered, jumped out of an upstairs window of a Formosa Hotel and was subsequently arrested and acquitted on a charge of attempting to commit suicide. He has apparently escaped from the grave to inherit a fortune. Last week while painting the steeple of the Formosa Church the good news was flashed to him from the Walkerton jail. And the fact that he kept on wielding the brush after he heard the news shows that he didn't lose his head like some who have become suddenly and wonderfully rich. He has lysed his claim to the legacy and is now awaiting the coming of Pluto's golden showers.—Herald.

Shade Trees

The maple shade tree is a slow grower, but is a beauty when it does mature. Some streets in our town would be improved with a few additional ones, while others are in need of a thinning out process. Fifteen feet apart was reckoned a reasonable distance to plant them, but by the time they become from ten to twelve inches in diameter stump high, thirty feet close enough. Here comes the problem, what to do with them. It seems like sacrilege to destroy these handsome trees. Mr. S. Hill has done the proper thing, and our civic authorities might well do likewise. Mr. Hill's half-acre residential lot was literally covered with beautiful shade and ornamental trees, but the lawn beneath was practically destroyed by over-much shade, so the proprietor recently had more than one half the trees sawed off level with the earth and converted into fuel. On Mark street every alternate tree might be similarly dealt with which would prove a decided improvement. Some citizen could doubtless be rot who would do the work, taking the trees for his pay, so it would cost the corporation nothing.
