C.P.R. Holds Lease For 1,000 Years Killed by Acetylene Explosion

On the Tracks of the Toronto, Grey & Bruce Railway—Interesting Statistics Regarding This Line. The Toronto-Grey and Bruce Railway and other of the earlier railroad companies were in the limelight last week in the Toronto press, in connection with the appointment of directors to these roads from the members of the city council. To Markdale the conditions on which the C.P.R. operates the Owen Sound and Owen Sound branches of their system, which is the Toronto, Grey and Bruce railway, have been somewhat of a mystery. From the financial reference books some information of interest is gleaned. The tracks of the Toronto, Grey & Bruce were leased by the Canadian Pacific Railway Company on November 1, 1883 from the Ontario and Quebec Railway Co., which held a lease of the road and also other roads. The lease which the C.P.R. holds was for one thousand years, so that there does not appear to be any immediate danger of the big corporation entirely deserting Owen Sound. The Toronto, Grey and Bruce Railway Company has $785,490 capital stock and $719,000 bonds outstanding. The latter will fall due on July 26th, 2882, and the Canadian Pacific pays interest on them at 5 per cent. It also pays annual rentals amounting to $140,000 into the treasury of the Toronto, Grey and Bruce Company. A report in the Toronto Star of Friday that the company was "defunct" is entirely misleading. It cannot be absorbed or become defunct as long as they are parties of the first part in the lease which has about 970 years to run yet and the terms of the charter requires that it has a Board of Directors and hold annual meetings. In consideration of the fact that Toronto heavily bonded the Toronto, Grey and Bruce Railway, the city is entitled to a director on the board and each of the Councilors to act. Last year the Council was the city's representative. Incidentally it is interesting to note that Toronto's debenture debt in connection with the Toronto, Grey and Bruce Railway Co. is $387,997.39, and the tax-payers of that city will not complete their payments of interest and sinking fund for this assistance to the road until the year 1931. Evidently Toronto had to pay pretty well for their connection with this section of the province. Mr. J. C. Coke, of the Department of Agriculture, conducted a stock judging course in Meaford on Tuesday and Wednesday.

DUNDALK In failing health for several months, William Clark, a well-known and highly esteemed farmer of the 12th con., Proton, passed away on Thursday, Jan. 8th, at the age of 75 years. Not satisfied with conditions in the West Mr. and Mrs. James Locke, former residents of Dundalk, who went to Weyburn, Sask., last spring, returned and will reside in Owen Sound. Mr. Howard Williams arrived home from the West where he has been on survey work since spring. On Monday night, Jan. 5th, at Wabington between Winnipeg and Fort William the train on which he was travelling was wrecked in a run off and the pullman sleeper toppled over an embankment. Luckily no one was seriously injured. Mr. Williams was first to reach the door of the overturned sleeper and helped to release the inmates. On Tuesday, Jan. 6th, John McConachie, a pioneer merchant of this district, passed away at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Ripley, in Toronto. The deceased, who was in his 84th year, was born in Aberdeen, Scotland, came to Canada as a young man and was in the mercantile business in Napanee and Peterboro. Nearly forty years ago he opened a general store at Wareham. He afterwards moved to Budjers and later to Honeywood, at which latter place he was postmaster for 23 years. He was a Mason—a member of Prince Arthur Lodge at Flesherton—and the burial ceremony at Honeywood on Thursday was conducted by the members of the Flesherton Lodge. He is survived by one son and two daughters, namely: William at Weyburn, Sask.; Mrs. (Mrs.) McWilliam in Dundalk; Mrs. Ripley in Toronto. The storm on Sunday night played havoc with the Bell Telephone Co.'s wires on both the east and west sides of the town. The lines are down near Mr. Palmer's out to Mayburae corner, then from Moody's mill out to Gordon's corner and beyond the cemetery for nearly half a mile. The poles are broken right off and with cross arms and wires strewn along the roadway. Farmers coming into town from the west have made a road through the fields to avoid the debris. Dundalk has a big telephone business and the poles and cross arms carry a great weight of wires close to the village. With the addition of wind, though not unusually strong, struck the line at the right angle to start the swaying motion. We understand it will require two weeks time to put the lines in good working order.—Herald.

The Late Mrs. Jane Coventry

On Thursday, January 8th, 1914, at the ripe age of 78 years Mrs. Jane Coventry passed peacefully away at the home of her daughter, Mrs. John McArthur, Walters Falls. Mrs. Coventry was the eldest daughter of the late John and Tamar Pinkney, of Caledon, both of whom passed away many years ago. She was twice married, her first husband being Mr. Joseph Martin, Chingacousy, who died in October, 1866; leaving five children all of whom are living: Mrs. J. Manarey, Euphrasia; John, of Toronto; Mrs. J. Breadner, of Owen Sound; Mrs. John Breadner, Chingacousy; and Mrs. Isaac Breadner, of Cheltenham. Later she was married to Mr. James Coventry, of Chingacousy. Shortly after their marriage, they moved to Euphrasia township, where he resided until his death in 1892. Two children were born to them, Mrs. Angus Innis, Euphrasia, and Mrs. John McArthur, Walters Falls. Besides these she leaves to mourn her death five brothers and one sister, all of whom were present at the funeral. Also forty-three grandchildren and twenty-two great grandchildren survive. On Friday morning six grandsons bore her body to the hearse, whence it was taken to Markdale, and conveyed by C.P.R. to the home of her daughter, Mrs. John Breadner, 3rd line, West Chingacousy, Peel Co. Her funeral took place from above residence on Saturday, January 10th, when six other grandsons acted as pall bearers. She was laid to rest in the family burial plot, Home Church Cemetery.

DURHAM

The family of Mr. C. L. Grant received the disquieting news on Saturday last that their son, Brock, was in Toronto and preparing to undergo an operation for appendicitis. Mr. Grant had just time to catch the train and was in time for the operation. Latest accounts say he is getting along as well as could be expected. Was It A Trick?—Principal Allan made a discovery about a week ago that roused all the sanitary blood in him. The ventilating system of the school has provision made to allow fresh air into the rooms from outside. What was his horror to discover that the eight ventilating openings had been carefully plastered up, sealing up the rooms to fresh air except what was admitted at doors or windows. He has not discovered yet who was trying to poison the lungs of the little ones.—Review.

THORNBUURY

Last Thursday while about to enter Carr Bros. store Mrs. Robt. Nixon had the misfortune to slip on the icy sidewalk and break her arm. Mr. Harry Newkirk had the misfortune to slip on the sidewalk near the Rover Hotel on Tuesday and break his thumb. Dr. Kent dressed the member. While examining a tin cutter in Hartman & Sons Hardware store last week Mr. Thos. Palmer had the misfortune to lose the end of one of his fingers. Answering the door bell Mrs. John Rutherford, Alma Street, was confronted by a portly gentleman whom she took for a stranger and even after conversing some time the identity of the visitor would remain unknown until he not only divulged his name, but was none other than John Henry, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. John Rutherford, who left Thornbury 25 years ago to seek his fortune in the great North West and who had returned to pay his first visit to his parents in that time.—Reflector.

SHELburnE

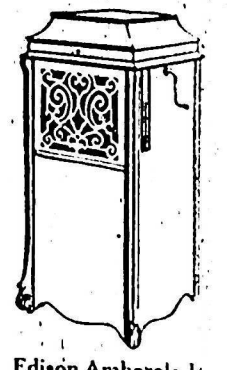

Something went wrong at the electric light power plant Monday night and as a consequence the "juice" users had to fall back on coal oil lamps, candles and anything else that was handy. The moon was kind and supplied good street lighting. The fire alarm was sounded Saturday night and the brigade promptly turned out. The trouble was located at Mandley's shopping mill on William street and the blaze was extinguished before much damage was done. Quong Lee, Shellburne's Celestial Laundryman, is going to shake the snows of Canada from his feet and hike far over the seas to his waiting wife and family in China. At least so he says. At any rate he leaves Shellburne next week. His successor here will be Joe Rong, who is already in town making the acquaintance of Quong's many customers.—Economist.

OWEN SOUND

The fine new Carnegie free public library will open on Thursday, January twenty-ninth, to the public for the first time. The beautiful new library is one of the show buildings of the town, and everyone has reason to be proud of it, even if it is the gift of Andrew Carnegie, whose name some have believed is possessed only of tainted millions. On Friday evening, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Boddy, the genial host and hostess of the Queen's Hotel, were pleasantly surprised when they were presented by the regular boarders at the house, with a beautiful silver set as a slight mark of the boys' appreciation of their kindness. Mr. G. S. Robertson, science master at the Collegiate Institute has handed his resignation to the board of education, to take effect on or about the first of March. Mr. Robertson has taken a position as science master in the London Collegiate Institute. Mr. George Cleaver was the victim of a serious accident the other day when he fell on the slippery sidewalk and broke his leg. He was walking along the street when he slipped on a slippery spot and falling sustained a rather serious fracture near the knee. A lively runaway occurred yesterday about noon when a horse belonging to McIntosh's livery, which was being driven south along Second Ave. E., by Master Cunningham, bolted and turning at the market corner, collided with a telephone pole throwing the boy out. The horse also fell and was caught before it went any further. The boy sustained some bruises, but otherwise no damage was done. Mr. S. P. Grosch, a well known Owen Sounder who was a partner in the old law firm with Hon. A. G. MacKay and Mr. W. P. Telford, jr., here, has been appointed to the Local Government Board by the Saskatchewan Government. In order to accept the office Mr. Grosch has resigned the city solicitorship of the city of Regina, a position which he went from Owen Sound to fill about three years ago. His new appointment is a striking tribute to his ability and his many Owen Sound friends are greatly pleased with his success in the West. E. W. (Bun) Lewis got one hundred and costs on Wednesday for selling liquor. Bun was picked up by the police on New Year's morning and in the rig in which he was driving around were two cases of Barometer. They were seized and the prosecution for selling followed as it was shown there were six bottles out of one case and that the case had been in possession of Lewis only three or four hours. The assumption being that he had sold them, though he declared in the witness box that someone stole them on him. But the magistrate decided he had sold them and assessed him, the county.

The reproducing point of the new Edison Cylinder Phonograph is a diamond

It was appropriate that when Mr. Edison was seeking the utmost perfection in sound reproduction he should find that this power lay in the diamond. He discovered it in the course of more than 2,500 experiments, always looking toward rarer sweetness, mellow, stronger tone. He has equipped every new Edison Phonograph with a diamond-point reproducer.

When this marvelous reproducing tip rests upon the surface of the Blue Amberol Record, the heavy pressure can produce but one result—wonderfully increased volume combined with rarer sweetness. Hear a Blue Amberol at your Edison dealer's today. Edison Amberola 1—Has Diamond-Point reproducer, double spring motor, worn gear drive and automatic stop. Beautifully designed in metal. Circuits and wireless sets. A complete line of Edison Phonographs and Records will be found at J. H. STEPHENSON
