The MARKDALE STANDARD.

FLESHERTON

(Special to The Standard.)
Miss Hulse visited her home at Orangeville on Saturday.
Mr. J. Boyd, of Mt. Forest, visited his son, W. J., over Sunday and Monday.

Sam Caswell is down from the Soo this week.

Miss Moffat, late of St. Catharines, is in charge of McFarland's millinery department this season.

Mr. S. Sargeant has returned from Barrie and will remain with his brother, Fred, for some time.

The excavation is being made for Benson's brick block, and the erection will be proceeded with as soon as weather will permit.

Mr. Andrew Nodwell has disposed of his place, "Mount Royal Farm," Artemesia, to Mr. McCormick, of Caledon, for $3,800 cash. Mr. John Hill, Artemesia, has purchased the McKay farm, recently owned by the late Robt. Brown, for $2,000. Fred Crowe has purchased from Dan Blaney lot 10 North on Mill St., Markdale, for $500. Messrs. John and Jos. Gibson have purchased the Galbraith farm lots 117, 118, 1st W. of T. & S.M., Artemesia.

A. S. VanDusen is perhaps as good a man on a down-hill turnpike road as can be found in all Flesherton, and we think now he has beaten the record for staying power in a long chase. For some time, the people in his neighborhood have been troubled with the depredations of a wolf. "Any mony a scheme in vain been laid to stop or scare him," till A. S. took after him. Then the chase grew warm, but even began to think failure was in store till last Wednesday morning he spied his wolfish on the townline between Luther and Proton, and actually run him down, made him fast, and took him to Owen Sound, where Mr. John Miller now has him and has good hopes of making a nice pet of him.

At the Literacy Committee put on an interesting debate, the subject being: "Resolved, that Flesherton and Ceylon be under one municipal government." The affirmative was taken by George Stewart and G. Whitehead, and the negative by James Harrison and Frank Duncan.

The verdict of the meeting was in favor of the latter, a well rendered chorus was given by some of the High School Students. Rev. McTavish presided, and Rev. McKenzie was also present.

The military openings here were a special feature of the past week. F. G. Karstedt, W. L. Wright and E. W. Hickling each had a fine display of pretty and stylish headwear much admired by the numerous visitors during opening days.

Cairns—Wilecock—The home of Mr. and Mrs. William Wilecock was the scene of a quiet but pretty wedding on Wednesday, March 25, when their daughter, Alice, was married to Mr. George H. Cairns, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Cairns, of the west bank line, Artemesia. Rev. Jas. Dugdron performed the ceremony in the presence of about forty guests, and Miss Pearl Cairns, sister of the groom, played the wedding march.

After the wedding breakfast Mr. and Mrs. Cairns left on the afternoon train for Toronto and other points. On their return they will settle on the old Wm. Wright homestead, purchased a few months ago.

A large circle of friends wish the highly esteemed young couple much happiness and prosperity. The bride received many valuable and beautiful wedding gifts.

The Late Mrs. Breadner

The memorial service in memory of the late Mrs. Joseph Breadner, was held in New England church on Sabbath, the 22nd March.

Mrs. Breadner had been in failing health for more than a year, gradually becoming weaker until March 7th, when the spirit took its flight. Her body was brought to Markdale by her husband and son and interment took place in Temple Hill cemetery, beside four infant children. A large number of relatives and friends met in token of respect for the departed. Six nephews acted as pall bearers. Rev. Mr. Colley read the service at the grave.

Mrs. Breadner, whose maiden name was Tamer Ann Richardson, was born in Mariposa in May, 1844, coming when eleven years of age with her sister, Mrs. Butchart, and her husband, who was in the sawmill business, to St. Vincent and Euphrasia. There she met and was married to Joseph Breadner in 1861, and with him began pioneer life in the bush, at a time when not only their stock but human lives were in danger from wild animals.

In those days it took all the courage of young life, brave hearts and strong bodies to meet and overcome the hardships. This Mrs. Breadner succeeded well in doing.

Her bright cheery ways and winsome smile brightened many a social gathering in the rural homes of the neighborhood, beguiling the long evenings with song and story.

At this time, when there was no doctor nearer than fifteen miles, her judgment and kindness was a God-send to many a home. When there was a sick child, or a sorrowing home Mrs. Breadner was sure to be sent for, and always responded so cheerfully. Her kindness and sympathy is spoken of in many homes to-day, so that we can truly say "she being dead yet
