ALLIED ENVOYS LEAVE TURKEY

Ambassadors Get Passports Though Porte Refuses to Declare War.

London, Nov. 1.—Turkey is bent on war, but intends to force a declaration from the Triple Entente powers. Coached by Berlin, the Porte is obviously intent on assuming the attitude of a threatened, ill-treated nation, and desires, apparently, to avoid diplomatic blunders similar to those which placed Germany in the light of an aggressor.

These are the new developments in the situation:

The Ambassadors of Russia, Great Britain and France in Constantinople have received their passports. The Turkish Ambassador at Petrograd received his passports.

Turkish warships, within the last few days, have bombarded the Russian Black Sea strongholds of Odessa, Sebastopol, according to a statement by the Turkish Minister of the Interior to the American Ambassador. He also has been informed that Russian Consuls in the Ottoman Empire will be held by Turkey as hostages for the safe conduct of Turkish Consuls in Russia.

MARKDALE STANDARD

VOL. 35 MARKDALE, ONT., WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 4, 1914 WHOLE NO. 1787

SISTER: READ MY FREE OFFER.

I am a woman.
I know a woman's trials.
I know her need of sympathy and help.

If you, my sister, are unhappy because of ill-health, and feel unfit for household duties, social pleasures, or daily employment, write and tell me just how you suffer, and ask for my free ten days' trial of a home treatment suited to your needs; with references to Canadian ladies who gladly tell how they have regained health, strength, and happiness by its use. I want to tell you all about this successful method of home treatment for yourself, my reader, for your daughter, your sister, or your mother. I want to tell you how to cure yourselves at home at trifling cost, and without aid from anybody. Men cannot understand women's sufferings; what we women know from experience, we know better than any doctor; and thousands have proved there is hope even for the hopeless in my method of home treatment. If you suffer from pain in the head, back, or bowels, feeling of weight and dragging down sensations, falling or displacement of internal organs, bladder irritation with frequent urination, obstinate constipation or piles, pain in the sides regularly or irregularly, bloating or unnatural enlargements, catarrhal conditions, dyspepsia, extreme nervousness, depressed spirits, melancholy, desire to cry, fear of something evil about to happen, creeping feeling up the spine, palpitation, hot flashes, weariness, sallow complexion, with dark circles under the eyes, pain in the left breast or a general feeling that life is not worth living, I invite you to send to-day for my complete 4 days' treatment entirely free and postpaid, to prove to yourself that these ailments can be easily and surely conquered at your own home, without the expense of hospital treatment, or the dangers of an operation. Women everywhere are escaping the surgeon's knife by knowing of my simple method of home treatment, and when you are cured, my sister, I shall only ask you to pass the good word along to some other sufferer. My home treatment is for all,—young or old. To Mothers of Daughters, I will explain a simple home treatment which speedily and effectually cures green-sickness (chlorosis), irregularities, headaches, and lassitude in young women, and restores them to plumpness and health. Tell me if you are worried about your daughter. Remember it costs you nothing to give my method of home treatment a complete ten day's trial, and if you wish to continue, it costs only a few cents a week to do so, and it does not interfere with one's daily work. Is health worth asking for? Then accept my generous offer, write for the free treatment suited to your needs, and I will send it in plain wrapper by return mail. To save time you can cut out this offer, mark the places that tell your feelings, and return to me. Write and ask for the free treatment to-day, as you may not see this offer again. Address:

10 CENT "CASCARETS" IF BILIOUS OR COSTIVE

For Sick Headache, Sour Stomach, Sluggish Liver and Bowels—They work while you sleep.

Furred Tongue, Bad Taste, Indigestion, Sallow Skin and Miserable Headaches come from a torpid liver and clogged bowels, which cause your stomach to become filled with undigested food, which sours and ferments like garbage in a swill barrel. That's the first step to untold misery—indigestion, foul gases, bad breath, yellow skin, mental fears, everything that is horrible and nauseating. A Cascaret to-night, will give your constipated bowels a thorough cleansing and straighten you out by morning. They work while you sleep—a 10-cent box from your druggist will keep you feeling good for months.

THE SUNDAY SCHOOL STUDY

INTERNATIONAL LESSON, NOVEMBER 8.

Lesson VI. Sowing and Reaping (Temperance Sunday) Gal. 6, 1-10.

Golden Text, Gal. 6.7.

Verse 1. Brethren—Paul comes with the personal touch. He recognizes his own weakness, his own danger. Hence he does not arrogate to himself any particular strength or mightiness in his words of warning. "We are all brethren," he intimates, "not only in our profession, but in our problems and difficulties." Hence temperateness in judgment, which is the outgo of love, is a necessary virtue in all dealings of one man with another. If a man be overtaken in any trespass—The possibility is never far away from any man. Ye who are spiritual—Only the spiritual minded can appreciate the meaning of sinfulness as well as suffer with the sinner. In a spirit of gentleness—Not showing harshness. Looking to thyself, lest thou also be tempted—Paul suggests a vivid picture here of the deplorable predicament of one who, with self-assurance and a sense of his own invulnerability to temptation, admonished and judged one who had fallen, and who himself in turn became a prey to the wiles of evil.

2. Bear ye one another's burdens, and so fulfill the law of Christ—This is the very heart of the gospel. To bear with one another's faults and failings requires a kind and degree of temperance which can be drawn only from a close alliance with the Christ-Spirit.

3. He deceiveth himself—Self-deception is the easiest and most hurtful of all various forms of deception. Self-esteem to a certain extent is necessary. A man who hates or debases himself will exhibit a scornful and depreciating attitude toward all of mankind. To estimate rightly the value of human life in general a man must be able to place the proper worth upon his own life in particular. The danger in this self-evaluation, however, is the intemperate inflating of one's own possessions and powers. A man is very apt to think himself to be something when he is nothing.

4. Prove his own work—This is a most difficult task for any man. If a man's work is good and appealing he is apt to lay too great weight on the approving expressions of others. The pitfall of the public speaker is the praise of his auditors. A praise often which is neither intelligent nor sincere. Every man ought to satisfy his own conscience and be his true self, doing his work as he in honesty and with a sincere and meek spirit feels it ought to be done, unmindful either of the praise or the disapproval of others. If thus to himself he is true, then shall he have his glorying in his work and the satisfaction that comes from honest effort, irrespective of what the apparent results may be.

5. For each man shall bear his own burden—That is, every man must do his own work, and in the last estate he must do it in his own way. He, of course, must develop and train himself, making use of all his talents and opportunities. But when he has done all it will be he, and not another, who has been the doer. "For each man shall bear his own burden" is a shrill cry which carries with it the theme of the great prophet of old: "He trod the winepress alone."

6. Let him that is taught ... communicate unto him that teacheth—Let the pupil be true to the teacher and reflect in his own conduct the goodness of that which is taught. A teacher must be a high priest of truth and dwell in the temple of eternities. The pupil must recognize this divine prerequisite and in turn himself become an exponent of the ultimate verities, thus vouching for the validity of the teaching.

8. For he that soweth unto his own flesh shall of the flesh reap corruption: but he that soweth unto the Spirit shall of the spirit reap eternal life—No comment on these words can make them any clearer or more forcible. To each individual is given the power to test the truth of Paul's statement, for each one of us has experienced in a greater or less degree the reaping of the flesh and of the spirit.

9. And let us not be weary in well-doing—The tendency is to become faint-hearted and indifferent because no good results of well-doing are apparent or because they are so long in appearing. But there is a due season for those who faint not. Perseverance and fidelity in well-doing bring joy and peace and good-will to the inner man. The outer results can well be left to a higher and more knowing will.

10. As we have opportunity—This phrase does not imply a doubt as to whether or not we have opportunity for doing good. It is positive and emphatic and means that the privilege of doing good unto all men is everywhere and always at hand. Especially toward them that are of the household of the faith—This does not mean that church members ought to discriminate entirely in favor of their fellow members and make a business relation out of a religious union. In the days of the early Christians there was much persecution of those who were of the household faith. Hence there was an especial reason for those of the faith who were stronger and better possessed than their fellows in Christ to show the latter an especial consideration.

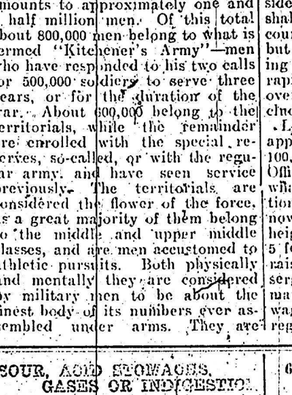
SEIZED AT BORDEAUX.

Vessel Flying British Flag Used to Be German.

A despatch from Bordeaux says: The port authorities seized the steamer Colonia on suspicion that she was a German vessel. The Colonia arrived at Bordeaux flying the British flag, but when in port a few months ago she gave her nationality as German. A Prize Court will decide whether her transfer from German to British ownership is valid.



Germany's "Bomb"-as!—Sold for a Penny in Berlin Streets.

A full-sized reproduction of the shell thrown by the big German siege guns. They are selling in the streets of Berlin the broadsheet here shown held by a British soldier. This purports to represent the exact size of the projectile thrown by Germany's big siege guns. The reproduction is headed "German War Surprise, 1914." On the picture of the shell are photographs of damage done to forts, and the names Luttich (Liege), Namur, Longwy, and Maubeuge, with the motto "With God for King and Fatherland."

1,500,000 BRITISH SOLDIERS

Of This Total About 800,000 Belong to What is Called "Kitchener's Army"

A despatch from London says: The British army on rolls and drilling in the United Kingdom, now amounts to approximately one and a half million men. Of this total about 800,000 men belong to what is termed "Kitchener's Army"—men who have responded to his two calls for 500,000 soldiers to serve three years, or for the duration of the war. About 600,000 belong to the territorials, while the remainder are enrolled with the special reserves, so-called, or with the regular army, and have seen service previously. The territorials are considered the flower of the force, as a great majority of them belong to the middle and upper middle classes, and are men accustomed to athletic pursuits. Both physically and mentally they are considered by military men to be about the finest body of its numbers ever assembled under arms. They are drilling with feverish enthusiasm, and are anxious to go abroad for service on the firing line. A considerable proportion of Field Marshal Lord Kitchener's army, of course, is not yet fully equipped but is working hard. They are being armed and clothed with great rapidity. The Canadian and other overseas contingents are not included in this total.

Lord Kitchener issued an urgent appeal on Wednesday morning for 100,000 more men. He lays the War Office machinery, which was somewhat clogged by the sudden creation of a new army of 500,000, now reorganized. The minimum height for men has been reduced to 5 feet 4 inches, and the age limit raised to thirty-eight. Recruiting sergeants say they could get many smart young men as are wanted for cavalry but the cavalry regiments are closed so far.

GIVES HER LIFE TO "FRUIT-A-TIVES"

Cured Both Stomach Trouble and Headaches

PETERSBURG, ONT., JUNE 20th, 1913.

"I really believe that I owe my life to "Fruit-a-tives". Ever since childhood I have been under the care of physicians and have been paying doctor's bills. I was so sick and worn out that people on the street often asked me if I thought I could get well. The same old Stomach trouble and distressing Headaches nearly drove me wild. Sometimes I got a box of "Fruit-a-tives" and the first box did me good. My husband was delighted and advised continuation of their use.

Today, I am feeling fine, and a physician meeting me on the street, noticed my improved appearance and asked the reason. I replied, "I am taking Fruit-a-tives". He said, "Well, whatever you are making you look so well, go ahead and take them. They are doing you more for you than I can".

MRS. H. S. WILLIAMS.
