Buchanan--Cunningham County Women's Institute Meeting. (From the Durham Chronicle.) The ninth annual convention of the Grey County Women's Institute was held in the town hall here, on Thursday of last week. Nearly 90 delegates from different parts of the county were in attendance, representing over 20 branches. The hall was well filled at both meetings. The president, Mrs. Long, of Meaford, occupied the chair, and the meeting opened with scripture reading by Mrs. J. Graham, and prayer by Mrs. T. McGirr. Mrs. C. Ramage then gave the address of welcome, and the reply was given by Mrs. B. A. Carruthers, of Kimberley. After the president's address, and a most pleasing instrumental duet by Mrs. Ibbott and Mrs. Nicholson, Mrs. J. Hunter of Brampton, was called on to address the convention on "Little Things that Make Home Happy, or otherwise." She first spoke on the Red-Cross work. She said no woman should be idle, all must work. Work and give till we feel it. The time is now past when any woman should stand in the way of any man who wishes to go and help fight for our country and our homes. She then spoke on the beautifying of the public highways. She objected to the town people or anyone else making the country roadsides a dumping ground; for all trash which they do not have to see again till the next time they come to dump some more, but which the country people have to pass each time they go to town. Each home should have a vegetable and flower garden, and also all the small fruits, and the garden should be made (to be worked by the horse as much as possible.) More attention should be given to the lawns. Many men say they have not the time, when it is really a lack of interest. Too many homes are too full of useless furnishings and bric-a-brac, where a woman's time, energy and nerves were wasted in caring for these. More attention should be paid to the selection of wall papers and fewer carpets, cushions and draperies should be in every home. Carefully prepared and well served meals should be given the family every day instead of the all too frequent "spread" made for company. Fresh air, pure food, exercise, rest, and recreation are the five things every woman needs and the last two are the most neglected. Every mother is to do justice to herself if she is to hold the position that is required of her. A spoiled and indulged child is of no use to itself, its home or its country. Mothers ought to supervise the reading of their families and see that plenty of good periodicals and books are at their disposal. Mrs. Danard, of Kemble, gave an interesting talk on "The Country Women and Nature," showing what lessons we may learn from the study of Nature. A question drawer was conducted by Mrs. Hunter, of Brampton, when many interesting and varied questions were discussed. The following officers were elected: President, Mrs. Easton, Ayrton; vice-president, Mrs. J. Pearce, of Chatsworth; Secretary, Treasurer, Mrs. J. Gardiner, Owen Sound. The meeting was closed by the singing of the National Anthem, after which tea was served by the Durham ladies in the Presbyterian church. At the evening there was a good representative gathering and the free entertainment and addresses were highly appreciated by the large audience. Mr. Calder acted as chairman, and after a pithy address, pushed the button and set the machinery in motion. Mrs. (Rev.) Marsh, of Holstein, gave a very interesting address on "A Winter Trip to Bermuda," and in doing so reviewed the history of the country, pointed out the many ways and customs of the people, as well as the peculiarities of the climate, the scenery at the island, and the floral and other productions of the soil. The address was interesting and much enjoyed. One of the strongest features of the meeting was the able address delivered by Mrs. Hunter, of Brampton. She developed the Association motto, "For Home and Country," into a practical address full of inspiration and patriotic fervor. Mrs. Hunter has a pleasant personality, and is an easy-fluent and entertaining speaker. The ladies of the Institute will not soon forget her addresses, and those who were present at the general meeting in the evening will be pleased to hear her again. Patriotic choruses were sung by the audience, a choice duet was given by Mr. Harding and Miss Wilson, and an excellent violin selection by Mrs. Ibbott, to a piano accompaniment by Mrs. Nicholson, of Holstein, was a valuable con-

Enormous Loss from Smut. Jas. Laughland, of the Department of Agriculture, Collingwood, reports that in some cases thirty per cent of the oat crop has been a total loss due to the ravages of smut. Fall wheat has also been damaged to considerable extent by this pest and as the time for wheat seeding is again approaching, farmers should be prepared to treat all seed before sowing. Both wet season like the past favors the development of fungus diseases but no person can tell at seed time what the weather before harvest will be like, and a great risk is taken when grain is sown without first having been treated for the prevention of smut. The following treatment is very simple and effective in controlling Stinking Smut of Wheat. Loose smut of oats and covered smut of Barley. Mix one pint of formalin with forty gallons of water. Place the grain to be treated in a heap on the floor, shovel the grain over into another pile, at the same time sprinkling with the formalin solution until thoroughly moist. In about a half day the grain will be dry enough for sowing. It should be sown as soon as possible after treating. Forty gallons of the formalin solution is sufficient to treat from forty to fifty bushels of seed. Bluestone should never be used for treating oats as it injures the germinating power. The yearly financial loss to the farmers of Ontario from grain smut runs well up to three million dollars. This year it will probably reach ten million dollars. The oat crop alone in Ontario will have a market value of over forty million dollars which would have been at least ten per cent greater if the loss from smut had been eliminated. Every farmer should treat the seed grain before sowing.

Recruits Wanted. Lieut. Colonel W. N. Chisholm has received permission from Divisional Headquarters to recruit a company of 250 men and five officers from the 31st Regiment for overseas service. This company which is the largest quota that the 31st Regiment has yet been permitted to raise will reinforce one of the battalions already organized, and will replace a draft of similar proportions which has already gone overseas from that battalion. The battalion to which the company from the 31st Regiment will go has not yet been specified. Steps are now being taken to commence a recruiting campaign, to enroll men who are willing to enlist in a Grey County company to be commanded by officers from the 31st Regiment, and also when they will be available. It is expected that a lot of men who have not quite made up their minds to volunteer for active service, not knowing whom they would have as comrades, would be willing to go with a company of men whom they know. While recruiting has been rather slow lately owing to harvest operations, it is anticipated that plenty of men will be available from now on, and that little difficulty will be experienced in securing the required number.

Military Exercises at Western Fair, London.
Infantry and Artillery Will Give Exhibitions—Tuesday, September 11, Military Day.
By kind permission of Col. Shannon and the co-operation of the officers in charge, the battalions, now in training at Carling's Heights, will take a very prominent part in the Western Fair this year. Tuesday, September 11, will be Military Day. Both Infantry battalions will take part also the 29th Field Battery and the Field Ambulance Depot. Arriving at the grounds early in the afternoon, accompanied by their bands, they will give a march past and salute before the grand stand. This will be followed by a program of the following nature: Physical training squad bayonet exercise, signaling, trench warfare and various other events. A liberal percentage of the gate receipts in excess of other years will be donated for patriotic purposes. On Wednesday and Thursday, at 4 o'clock each afternoon, the whole battalions will march to the grounds, accompanied by their bands, will enter by the Quebec street gate and give a march past and the general salute before the grand stand. These grand military displays will afford the visitors to the exhibition an opportunity of a lifetime, in witnessing such a large number of trained soldiers in their real work. It is expected that the fund will be materially increased by the exhibitions. Single fair over all railroads west of Toronto and from Toronto and other points outside the city. Fare and one third from outside points. All information from Secretary, Room 217-218 Dominion Savings Building, London.
