It is a daily treat—the perfect sweet. Just what the children should have on Bread-costs far less than butter or preserves. Delicious with Hot Biscuits, and Batter Cakes. Gives a new delight to Baked Apples, Blanc-Mange and Puddings. Makes the best Candy you ever tasted

"LILY WIIITE" is a pure white Corn Syrup, not as pronoun in flavor as "Crown Brand". Your Grocer has both Brands, in 2, 5, 10 and 20 pound tins or can easily get them for you.

The Canada Starch Co. Limited, Montreal

THE GOLDEN KEY

"The Adventures of Ledgard." By the Author of "What He Cost Her."

could so soon have transformed Scar- was more than interesting the like to come and see you lett. Trent from the Gold Coast buc- veritable treasure.

"You are going to talk to me about marked, "than two was more to the law-abiding tenant of a "You are going to talk to me about marked, "than two was more to the law-abiding tenant of a "You are going to talk to me about marked, "than two was more than the ladies." cancer to the law-abiding tenant of a Surrey villa. Before her full, inquiring eyes and calm salute he found himself at once abashed and confused, somewhere. I got quite hot walking like a lot to be rid of them."

He raised his hand to his head, only to from the station."

He led the way across the lawn, and standing with his back to the cedar

"I was in a beastly temper," he ad-escaping a little from its confinement you can imagine. Why, for months to ripple about her forchead, and show more clearly the delicacy of her complexion. Trent was an ignorant fancy that I heard that cursed yelling You know that it is my profession to taste seemed always intuitively cor-rect. He knew that this girl belonged to a class from which his descent and education had left him far apart, a class of which he knew nothing, and self seriously—a student of human self seriously—a student of human ally.

"Was he an Englishman?" she der.

"What do you want here, was worth while ignoring shiall idiowas worth while ignoring small idio- had faced death years before leering at him, a few feet from the muzzle of hands.

syncrasies, which might offend, in a revolver.

"I was strolling about," he Probably nothing else in the world journalistic point of view, the man "They would be less objectionable could so soon have transformed Scar- was more than interesting he was a to the people round here who might hear it rising up out of the water. ury."

"The worst!" A sudden feat sent she was unconscious of his passionate; breathless scrutiny, unconscious utterly of the great wave of relief which swept into his face as he realized that his words were without any again, he said shertly. "There's pecial meaning to her."

"It was very sad, indeed," she said. If he had lived, he would have shared vith you, I suppose, in the conces-

Trent nodded.
"Yes, we were equal partners. We

"Yes, we were equal partners. We lent. We cannot all smoke the to-died the survivor took the lot. I bacco of a millionaire, can we, Miss?" didn't want it, though, I'd rather he The girl, who was making some had pulled through. I would, indeed,"

I have scarcely ever been in what you pedient.
financiers call the City. In a way it "If you don't go without another must be interesting.

"You wouldn't find it so," he said hated it. I hate it now.

She was unaffectedly surprised, she said gravely. "What a norrious man,"
What a speech for a millionaire of "He is a beast," Trent answered, "The is a beast," I would to Heaver

"You are in the swim and you must hold your own. You gamble to ther men, and when you win your conscience away—if ever you had any. You're quite dishonest, and you're never quite honest. You come out on top, and afterwards you hate yourself. It's a dirty little life!"

"Well." she remarked after a mo-

He kicked a fir cone savagely away.
"If I could," he said, "I would shut up my office to-morrow, sell out, and live upon a farm. But I've got to succeed the more involved you

ome. It's a sort of slavery."
"Have you no friends," she asked. "I have never," he answered, "had friend in my life." You have guests at any rate!"

"I sent 'em away last night!" What, the young lady in blue she asked demurely.
"Yes, and the other one, too. Packed them clean off, and they're not coming back either!" "There's a man and his wife and daughter here I can't get rid of so easily," he went on gloomily; "but like to come and see you," she re-marked, "than two, unattache

He raised his hand to his head, only to from the station."

He had risen to his feet and was find that he had come out without a He led the way across the lawn, and hat, and he certainly appeared, as they sat under a cedar tiee. He was he stood there, to his worst possible awkward and ill at ease, but she had where the sunlight fell upon a distant stood there, to his worst possible awayard and in at ease, but one had hillside gorgeous with patches and "Good morning, miss," he stammer "I can't understand," he began, streaks of yellow gorse and purple the patches and "I can't understand," he began, streaks of yellow gorse and purple the patches and "I can't understand," he began, streaks of yellow gorse and purple the patches and pu show more clearly the delicacy of her complexion. Then was an ignorant fancy that I heard that cursed yelling you know that it is my profession to utside my window—ay, even on the taste seemed always intuitively correct. He knew that this girl belong deck before moonlight, I'd seem to meet anyone different is quite a luxan icy coldness shivering through his in the candy, and he could no veins. His heart seemed to stop bent have real the address than he white face, smoking a cigar whose She inclined her head sympathetic odor seemed to poison the air. Trent turned upon him with a look of thun-

Da Souza held up the palms of plenty of room for you to about and poison the air with those abominable cigars of yours without coming here. Da Souza replaced his hat upon his head. | "The cigars, my friend, are excel-

notes in her book, continued her worl

word "came a hot whisper in his ear,
"I'll throw you into the horse-pond."

He went swiftly, ungracious, scowl-"It is not a place for such as you. It. He went swiftly, ungracious, scowlis a life of lies and gambling and deing. Trent returned to the ginl. She ceit. There are times when I have looked up at him and closed her book. hated it. I hate it now."

"You must change your friends,"

"You must change your friends," "You must change your friends, she said gravely. "What a horrible yesterday!

"I thought," she said, "that for those who took part in it, it possessed a fascination stronger than anything else in the world."

He shook his head.

"It is an ugly fascination," he said. "I have taken up quite enough of your time," she said. "I am so much obliged to you, Mr. Trent, for all you hold your own. You gamble with teresting."

departure. He realized that, when she passed out of his gate, she passed into a world where she would be hopewell," she remarked after a moment's pause, "you have surprised ment's pause, "you have surprised me lessly lost to him so he took his courging much. At any rate you are age into his hands, and was very bold indeed.

"You have not told me your name," age into his hands, and was very bold indeed.

he reminded her.
She laughed lightly.
"How very unprofessional of me! I all you know I may be an indulging an unpardonable imposter, curiosity. "My name is Wendermott-Ernestine Wendermott."

"Why, I should have to write a no-

"I am sure you have given me all the material I need here.
"I am going," he said abruptly, "to ask you something very strange and very presumptuous!"

She looked at him in surprise, "any understanding what he could scarcely understanding what he could earnestness of his gaze and the anxiety of his tone almost disconcerted her. He was deviously very much in earnest, and she had found him for from uninteresting.

"By all means," she answered pleasantly, flat in Culpole Street-No. 81. You Do not use a check rein if the road is sigh of immense relief.

He walked with her to the gate, and upon her.

"His little girl!" he m
"Monty's little girl."

dershtand the aeroplanes? through me head, sir, and that

Now, King Alfonso loathes lis to addresses, so as the big man advanced, he handed round the box of andy among the deputation and the would-be reader take a particularly large piece. Of course etiquette orbade him to refuse. As he w his jaws up and down, his teeth stuck

FISH AND THE WAR.

The North Sea Will Be Richer F Ground Than Ever. The great war will increase the supply of fish in the North Sea. In recent years the decreased catch in the fishing grounds of northwestern Europe has caused much concern. great number of fishing vessels the widespread use of the trawler have so injured the fisheries that the fishermen have been compeled to go farther and farther afield to make a profitable haul. Now that this xpanse of salt water is virtually losed to peaceful pursuits, the fish have a chance to multiply undisturbed. That they are doing so is already viden... The herring run has been of nprecedented size. It was left virtually unmolested, and so will mackerel run be in its turn. loubtedly the ground fish, such as the plaice and the sole, will also profit through the idleness of the fishermen. Should the war be long, so that the North Sea is a prohibited area for two or three seasons; the fish doubtless be restored to their numbers indeed, some people that at the end of the war the North Sea will be an even richer fishing ground than it ever was before

were only 354 days

Fresh from the Gardens

the world.

Sealed Packets Only. Try it-it's delicious. BLACK GREEN or MIXED.

She laughed lightly.

"How very unprofessional of me! I are a cool head and a watchful eye, the harness or carriage, ought to have given you a card! For with ready fingers and the quick unwith ready fingers and the quick understanding of the needs and requirements of his horse. He must also be ready to detect any object by the roadside which would be likely to annuly the horse and grasp at a glance for mouthfuls of grain bay on grass, on ediors and triumed with ready fingers and the quick under given to them frequently in for this season's hats the ready to detect any object by the horse, no injurious results will follow, and they may be refreshed by a on ediors and triumed with the season's hats the season's hat the season's hats the season's hat can expect to have a quiet, obedient light blanket on your orse, even if of silk, timed in sale horse; and the undue haste of the the weather is warm.

quick-tempered driver to correct what Do not, at any part of a long rip. seems to him misbehavior, is one of yield to the temptation of raging with seems to him misbehavior, is one of yield to the templated and whorled-styled bear of the reasons why so many horses are passing vehicles, for the quickening of . Velvet hat are always dangerous to drive. Much of this a horse's steady road pace to a rading. The average woman abuse, however, to which the horse gait heats him unnecessarily and it is subjected, arises more from sheer done frequently is very fatiguing. wanton cruelty.

and the vehicle—the bit should be as easy a one as possible, the harness if you care to. I have a little must be comfortable and well fitting. must come and have tea with me one long and hilly, but should one be "Thank you," he said simply, with horse before ascending a hill, when necessary then loosen the head of the going over muddy roads, and also He walked with ner to the gate, and they talked about rhododendrons.

Then he watched her till she became a horse to lower his head when he makes an extra exertion, and also to fused a carriage, and he had tact droop it when he is resting.

A horse should not only be allowed to walk slowly along steep and muddy parts of the road, but also occasionally on level ground; the change from one set of muscles to another rests him. When your horse begins to feel fatigued he will strike one of his hoofs against the ankle opposite, often bruising and cutting it.

As it is generally one of the hind during a long drive, even if it is un-have a few pieces of rope and some colt would bring at maturity some. A suit of linear his brass wire, as with these in his post times a lot more.

One Thing.

Officer-So, Mrs. Casey, ye

what holds thim up!

Willie Spoke. Sister-"Come, Willie. to the aviation meet. An' did ye on- your powder like a little never hear me make any companiet gray for with cray er Mrs. Casey Shure; an' I did; but about a trifle like that." there was wan thing I didn't git "Neither would I if I could light it pn of the Victory were, "Thank God, I Parliament to "the gentlemen behind me."

session anyone with ingerary can ing usurped by the pole

Wendermott."

He repeated it after her.

"Think you," he said, "I am bearing the horse and grasp at a glance low, and they may be refreshed by a on colors and triamed y ginning to think of some more things the character of the road that lies few mouthfuls of grain, hay on grass, and cut-steel or an expense to should you share to stand the character of the road that lies should you share to stand the character of the road that lies should you share to stand the character of the road that lies should you share to stand the road cut-steel or an expense to stand the road cut-stand the road cut-stan Should you chance to stop where there derived style spensored of Robe No quick-tempered, loud voiced man is a strong breeze blowing hul a

ignorance and carelessness than from Remember always that murining

Nowadays farmers are beginning to awaken to the fact that if thees strong horses to do good work on the farm. The fact that almost and house can be made to do something a fum work is no valid excuse for men who profess to have their own interests at

In the fields a big team makes had te

There is pleasure and inspiration in high class horses.

Bear in mind in breeding horses that it is just as essential to breed scool fact, the committee of the mass to get we get and talize the matter blood in them. The pure-bred marc is smart and chie. ankles, an ankle boot should be worn a good investment to the small farm-during a long drive, even if it is unthe work of the place she will do ne r-often on the road it is also useful to as much at weaning-time at a grade settled.

was my face like you do. It's the stuff that I don't like." It's swallowing the neck to a point a li breastline. The with smoothing a ing with a ... whi especially interes inc plicity. The hope is on straight with to han dication of a visual th is bettored down the gonal butter

band, with a beareter

sisting of horizontal his towns i of Yusar greater success combie gy ever tere, t took successió. stances m that wille. cultivation securise of On the wican be re No estibus duct is the ental. lot garde There cant let :

tention in growth o cultivated ! moval of given ovta tions hand should give struction vali the lots will be to the land in the sprend of word seeds. the moveme tagonism 10

Fashion Hints

Newest Mill Hats of every dimension make their common debut in one great syle company, where each the gn is a law

Dividing the modes on may st both large and small hards will

the addition of bandesus high bere

to a slanting, confure slids position worn, and let it go at the

the classifications be way

hats of the Cainsh rough most modish. These lift

righ by means of their let it be announced that I let it be announced that believance most insistent upstar's. One see them erecoing in eve

Even the turban is be-

with the point of the see may be pardened for des nortion of the curved June of a ha

an angle perdously ne

wildering variety of

Still, one must partial

A Sleepytime Ste don't want to go to Hitle Marjorie with a por "Why," said Aunt Luc were a little brown girl an off in Java, perhaps, or a girl and lived in Africa, y have any nice little white soft mattress to sleep on lown pillews for your you were a little velloy weeny, teeny baby, you bag tied on your sister's daytime you would go b as she ran and played; sleep in a little capalle, Marjorie shook her her "Why, right in a bag feathers, hung up in the

"I think I'll cuddle down o." said Marjorie, yawni think I like my own clean I bed the best."---Youth's Co

BRAVES DEADLY GERN

Wire as Bullets H A staff officer attached the Canadian divisions at has just returned from In Flanders. Twelve mic was a civil engineer in W ada, but he was one of'. Distinguished Conduct Mewas the coolest deed seen." he said, "I could certain signaller, whose "It was a simple affair. Canadian, I had spent a " trerches. The morning aller leaped over the biling a new wire as he nerfect rain of bullet el. He got the wire fixed way back he actually sto arrival in the trenches, of ed heard the Germans call of Canadians! Where are you Shortly afterwards the Gern a dummy thorse on the ir men riddled it with bull rmans then took it dow appeared swathed in band Our men kept up the joke y Germans! Where are sages?! they shouled, and ne old, socks with sand ; them together on a rope het cleks. Here they are. and fetch them.' But the wisely kept their heads dov

> The military camera amed Maul is carried by wer the landscape which is graphed. The rocket, tw g and weighing fifty mounted on a special support resed to the degree neces aimed by means of sights electrically tignitud powder ries the rocket to a height 2,00 feet. As it turns to f sure is made by an electrofutter, worked by a small Directly afterward a parachu holds the camera thirty feet rocket, and the whole appare gently to the ground. Very Petures seven inches square

a class of which he knew nothing, and with whom he could claim no kinship. She, too, was realizing it—her interest in him was, however, none the less deep. He was a type of those powers which to day hold the world in their hands, make kingdoms tremble, and change the fate of nations. Perhaps he wis all the more interesting to her because by all the ordinary standards of criticism, he would fail to be ranked, in the jargon of her class, as a gentleman. He represented something in flesh and blood which had never seemed more than half real to her—power without education. She liked to consider herself—being a writer with ambitions who took herself seriously—a student of human nature. He was a sudent of human nature. He was a sudent of human nature. Because by him the self-seriously—a student of human nature. He was a sudent of human nature the knew hot had never seemed more than half real to her—power without education. She liked to consider herself—being a writer with ambitions who took herself seriously—a student of human nature. He was a sudent of human nature. He was a sudent of human nature the winding path came Da Souza, with an ugly smirk upon this white face, smoking a cigar whose ed; "I'm afraid I startled you!" ... how people are interested in the neather. Presently she noticed his address, stuff which gets into papers nown, struction and looked also through the She winced a little at his address, stuff which gets into papers nown, struction and looked also through the She winced a little at his address, stuff which gets into papers nowa-but otherwise her manner was not undays. If you want horrors though, I gracious.

"You did a little," she admitted succeeds over there, there are a dozen who find it a short cut down into windows like that, barcheaded and hell. I can tell you if you like of my days of starvation."

"Go on!" straction and looked also through the gap in the trees.

"You have a beautiful view here, she said. "You are fond of the country, are you not?"

"Very," he answered.

"It is not everyone," she remarked "who is able to ampreciate it, especial.

window: like that, barcheaded and shell. I can tell you iff you if you like of my "Very." he answered.

"It was in a heastly temper," he admited. "If I had known who was a stream who hall but seldom in the properties of the composition of the days when he had worse. It was a himself to depart the properties of the properties of the composition of the days when he had worse, the present the properties of the composition of the days when he had worse, the present the properties of the composition of the days when he had worse, the present who had worse, the present who had worse the present which the properties of the composition of the days when he had worse, the present who had worse the present who had worse the present who had worse the present who had the present who had worse the pre

He faced the question just as he Souza?" he asked fiercely.

a revolver.

"He was an Englishman. The only name we had ever heard him called by was 'Monty.' Some said he was a broken down gentleman. I believe he was."

She was unconscious of his passion
She was unconscious of his passion
Trent kicked open the little iron again.

he repeated with nervous force.
"I am quite sure of that," she

And now tell me something . . Da about your career in the City after ment he felt a grip like iron upon his you came to England. Do you know, shoulder, and deemed retreat ex-

without the slightest appearance of the finest Tea-producing country in

The first regulaites of a good driver quickly repair ordinary durage to at this time have about communicates itself to your porse. Be designed ribban and ribban a Before starting on a long drive you gentle, cheerful and maticn; in your should examine the horse, the harness manner toward him and allow him to by the way, next recent derive as much comport as possible come every women who from the drive, as you yourself dx- Tooms of models have nect.

heart to persist in preeding houses. The fact named are that nobody wants, not even them. Glengary cap shape by the width of the thirrow or switch and a sandy back. they cut.

the business of breeding and handlen the severily high class horses.

Two other indispensable articles on ly as much work as a getting, and a long drive are a wooden scraper for raise a good colt besides. removing foam and a hoof-pick for A well-bred mare to a station of dislodging stones. For one who is the best type will bring a doll worth is best and

Nelson's last words in the cockpit | Sir Edward Carson once reger three generations. 2 and 5 lb. Cartons 10, 20, 50 and 100 lb. Cloth Bazz,

"Let Fedbalk Sweeten it" CANADA SUGAR REFINING CO., LIMITED, MONTREA Young Folk

"And could I go to she asked Marjorie.
"Oh, yes, indeed," her laughing, "but you would mat woven out of dry gran you'd sleep on a soft silk loor. If you were a little "Oh, I know," said Mari board, wrapped reand with brimmed with pretty beadnothers hang them up in t "But you never could gu ittle Eskimo babies sleep! ut. The little Lapland b own into his hammock mi eerskin, and his mother rem the roof of the sod his answer the call of the moth and has several times be grips at the front. He has leeds that have won the V "But if you were to as not know and whose gulla believe has been overlooke eginning to find it, and evered our telephone lines air another. He stood almly, just as if he did. wful risk he was runnid to see him drop every g ran back to the trench nd all he said when h. be empty coil was: 'Wh ant's all right now."

Canadian Signaller Stro

The height of the ant anadians at Folkeston g Germans, is to march freets of "dear old Lo ficer colled it, and let d hem, "You stay-at-home said, "cannot understat g of our Canadians to b irels capital. We bear to the front every day of news makes them more be out there. The wive ur men who were takenep Saxons are staying in and the husbands sent up by the other day from the imp for their tennis the the whole, our men have be well by the Saxons. At were not. They complained treatment on the trains to me of the officers being between captured Ture The officer related a fr bout Canadians at the from

Camera Shot Through th