WORN WORRIED WOMEN

Her Many Duties Affect Her Health and Often She Breaks Down Completely.

Jack O'Dreams.

It is little wonder that there are many times in a woman's life when she feels in despair. There is no nine-hour day for the busy housewife. There are a hundred things about the home to keep her busy from the time she arises until it is again bed time, what is the result? Often her nerves give way, her good looks suffer, her blood becomes thin, her digestion is disturbed and her system threatened with a complete breakdown. Every woman should do all possible to protect her health and good looks, and there is one way in which she can do this, and that is by taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. These actually make new, rich blood, strengthen every nerve and every organ, bring the glow of health to the cheeks and brightness to the eye. These pills have done more to make the lives of thousands of women sunshiny than anything else in the world. Mrs. Daniel Theid, Waterloo, Ont., says: "I was very much run down, my blood was thin and watery, and I would faint at the least excitement. I suffered from headaches and dizziness, and often it seemed as though there were ghosts before my eyes. Finally I was forced to go to bed with weakness. I doctored for six weeks in bed without receiving any benefit. Finally I was induced to take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and when I had taken ten boxes I was completely cured, and never felt better in my life. I am convinced that what Dr. Williams' Pink Pills did for me they will do for others, and I warmly recommend them to all weak women."

You can get these Pills from any medicine dealer or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50, from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

EARTHY STORY.

A Russian Officer's Sad Downfall in Paris.

Amsterdam (Holland) newspapers describe the pathetic close of the career of Lieutenant Mischkowitsch, of a Cossack regiment of Russia. When the war broke out Lieutenant Mischkowitsch was in Paris, and as it was useless for him to attempt to join his regiment he at once enlisted in the French army. In the battle of Marne he distinguished himself and became a favorite with the French soldiers. He was slightly wounded a few months ago in a skirmish near Ypres, but soon recovered. Recently he received a forty-eight hours furlough and returned to Paris. It was the last of his regiment saw of him.

"Do you mean?" asked Alice, "the little heart has a mind of its own by mistake thoughts of two different to his heart, the dream, powdered?"

"Difference does that make?"

"The difference in the world?"

"For purple and red powdered happy and funny dreams; white powders are sad and black and brown powders are evil."

Sped for a moment and eyed quickly, with his head cocked like a bird; then he added:

"Often noticed, Alice, how true to your pets, and I always obey your father, don't you?" This time Alice replied, "So sometimes will take you to visit Dreamland, you will meet my dear Mr. Sandman."

On Jack's green and yellow robe to fade into the gay windows of Alice's room, and a seemed to come from far "O Alice, aren't you up?"

Up in bed and looked sleepily, and the warm sunlight shone through the window Companion.

Expert says Trade Opens Opportunity for Blind Soldiers.

Deep-water diving is one of the trades for which blinded soldiers fit themselves, writes C. Arthur Pearson, chairman of the British Blinded Soldiers' and Sailors' Care Committee. He says:

"Diving is, I think, a quite new occupation for blind people. The diver who is building breakwaters and piers works in the dark, for even if the water is clear his work disturbs it and renders it impossible for him to see anything through it. The diver is one of the best paid of workmen. He has an attendant to look after him while below and when he returns to the surface, and the occupation is one which I think will prove to be extremely suitable for intelligent blinded soldiers and sailors who have had some mechanical training."

Formidable List of United States Railroads in Receiver's Hands

Among U.S. railroads the intervention of the receiver has been so frequent, and has concerned so many important systems, that this official is no longer considered an omen of approaching dissolution, but rather in cases, the promise of economical administration. Figures issued by the Bureau of Railway News and Statistics, Chicago, show that there were twenty-eight railway companies of more or less importance in the hands of receivers at the close of the calendar year 1914, in addition to nearly forty minor roads. The combined length of these larger railways operated by receivers amounted to 19,449 miles, with a total capitalization of no less than $1,376,678,913. They include the St. Louis and San Francisco Railroad, with excellent services in the southwest; the Chicago and Eastern Illinois Railroad, with one of the best services between Chicago and St. Louis; the Wabash, with its strong geographical position, providing short line mileage between many important cities in the Middle West; the Pere Marquette, serving thickly populated districts in Michigan; and the Toledo, St. Louis and Western Railroad, known as the Clover Leaf Route, traversing the progressive states of Indiana and Illinois. The receivership record for 1914 is as follows:

Wheeling & Lake Erie	27,000,000
	$928,282,622

The total capitalization stocks and bonds was $1,376,678,913. Eliminating duplications, the net capitalization is less than $60,000 per mile.

In the thirty-seven years from 1876 to 1913, the records show that not less than 754 U.S. roads, with an operating length of 145,176 miles, and funded debt, passed into receivership. Among these were included such properties as the Northern Pacific, Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe, that were subsequently reorganized and placed upon a profitable basis.

Other important lines which have gone into receivership in 1915 include established properties, such as the Missouri Pacific System, with a length of 9,670 miles.

The stock of the Missouri Pacific a few years ago was selling above par, and it is still considered to be a road with considerable possibilities.

MINARD'S LINIMENT CURES Diphtheria.

One Reason.

"Do you know why money is so scarce, brothers?" The soap-luxuriant demanded, and a fair-sized section of the backroom of the nation waited in leisurely patience for the answer.

A tired looking woman had paused for a moment on the edge of the crowd. She spoke shortly.

"It's because so many of you men spend your time telling each other why, 'stead of hustling to see that it ain't."
