I Am "Granny" Chamberlain

Everybody's friend when they have coughs and colds and their children have croup and whooping cough. Most everyone knows me. I have been going from home to home for nearly fifty years—always welcome, too, for I never fail in their hour of need. I have helped young mothers whose babies were choking with croup, and been the comfort of parents whose children tramp to school through the wet winter weather. Many a cold and attack of bronchitis I have warded off, and thousands I have helped through the anxious moments of whooping cough. I have come to the aid of mothers and fathers when they had colds and influenza, and have been a relief to old folks suffering from bronchitis and asthma. I have had a most varied experience; I go everywhere—among the rich and the poor, in cities and the country. Now don't forget "Granny" Chamberlain! You will see me often now, for I am going to tell you of my experience and what can be done in your home with

Vegetable Seed Situation

The following extract of an article from a newspaper of Gothenburg, Sweden, will be of interest to growers of vegetable seeds. The article refers to the Board of Directors of the Agricultural College of Almarj, Sweden, asking for a Government grant for the encouragement of vegetable seed growing. "The Board points out that the war has most clearly emphasized the importance, for the country, of home production of vegetable seed. Owing to the most important vegetable seed producing countries having prohibited the export of such seed, the prices of a great number of important vegetable seeds have risen enormously. And still worse, some seeds can hardly be obtained at any price. It is reported, from a well informed source, that vegetable seed growing in the countries engaged in the war has been largely neglected during the past summer and that for this reason further advances in prices can be expected. Reports from Germany state that the supply of seed of spinach, carrots, cucumbers and peas is utterly small. Furthermore, Germany has prohibited the export of vegetable seeds to the end of the war. There is therefore every reason to fear that we have to face the possibility of a very serious shortage of certain vegetable seeds."

Extracts from letter which appeared in the Evening Telegram, December 3rd, over the name of G. G. Starr: To the Women of Canada. In addressing these few remarks exclusively to the Women of the country, it is to be understood, that we have arrived at that period in the struggle where we realize the utter futility of recruiting meetings. The men who have as yet failed to join the colours will not be influenced by any eloquence from any platform. The reason? The man we are trying to reach is the man who will never listen and the man who never for a moment considers the remarks as applicable to himself. And so now we appeal to the women—the women who are the mainspring of all masculine action. In the First Division of the C.

E. F. we swept up the young manhood of the country in the first enthusiasm—we secured the cream of the country in the men who flocked to the colors taking thought of neither yesterday or to-morrow. At the second call men were stopping to calculate and hesitate. Since then the hesitation has developed into stagnation. Men a desperate winter ahead are joining the colors, and a few others; the remainder are dead. The Reason? Firstly, the man who prefers to allow others to fight for him so that he may pursue a comfortable occupation, preserve his youth, be safe from danger, and explain to his friends that he would gladly join the colors if he could obtain a commission—and yet take no steps towards that end. Second, The man who is influenced by the selfish maternal appeal either from mother or wife. Third, The man, who claims his business would go to pieces without him, but is satisfied to let others throw away life and youth to sustain that business. Fourth, The others—call them what you may. My Appeal To Women. You entertain these wretched apologies in your homes. You accept their donations, their theatre tickets, their flowers, their cars. You go with them to watch the troops parade. You fully wrong their manhood by encouraging them to perform their parlor tricks while Europe is burning up. While Canada is in imminent danger of suffering the same fate as the millions who are cheerfully enduring the horrors and privations of bloody warfare for the billions who stay at home watching the war pictures and drinking tea. Bar them out, you women. Refuse their invitations, scorn their attentions. For the love of Heaven, if they won't be men, then you be women. Tell them to come in uniform, no matter how soiled or misfitting, but out the able-bodied man who has no obligations, show that you despise him! Tell him to join the colors while he can do so with honor. And the day is not far off when he will have to
