German Correspondents With Troops in France Magnify Horrors of Fighting Against Allied Artillery.

A despatch from Rotterdam says: Max Osborne in a despatch from the Somme front to The Vossische Zeitung, says:

"Day and night the British and French guns continuously hurl their murderous lead. Shell bursts all around; many exploding before positions where masses of dead are lying. They fling sand and stone splinters over the defenders. They fling, too, over the lines, so when day comes and the men are able to eat the very sight of meat is horrible to them."

"The noise tears to pieces all nerves and senses. It continually drums in one's ears. Not a few find their hearing completely gone. The worst of all is the effect of the heavy mines. True, they can be seen coming and one can get out of the way, but if one runs to the right there is a hostile flyer above the trenches who directs the fire of the runs so one has to run to the left. So it goes on, and one is hunted up and down like a wild beast. There are times when our men cease and are homesick, but in the moment of fighting all their feelings disappear. The sense of duty and discipline holds them together and they are ready with iron decision and bitter courage."

George Wagner, in a despatch to the Koelnische Zeitung, says:

BOYS LIKE 'WAR BOOTS.'

Wooden-soled Shoes Fall to Suit German Girls, However.

Berlin women and girls are reported as not being over-enthusiastic about the wooden soled shoes which German shoe manufacturers are said to have produced to fill the gap in foot-wear due to the scarcity of leather caused by the war, but the boys are taking to them more kindly. The Berliner Lokal-Anzeiger declares that new shoes with wooden soles are so comfortable that they can be worn even by persons afflicted with flat feet or varicose veins.

The authorities of Charlottenburg, one of the largest and wealthiest of Berlin's residential suburbs, have decided that in view of the necessity of using practically all the leather in the country for military purposes the use of the wooden-soled boots and shoes must be popularized, so they have started to fit out the poorer residents with these "war boots."

ALL THAT REMAINS TO GERMANY IS ARTIFICIAL NATIONAL UNITY

The Allies Are in Twofold Superiority to the Teutons, Admiral Says—German Advantage No Longer Exists.

A despatch from Paris says: Admiral Akiyama, who is said to be in the East, planned the attack of Tsushima, on the way to New York after visiting all of the allied countries.

"I am thoroughly convinced that the allies are in twofold superiority to the Germans," said the Admiral before sailing. "To be perfectly truthful, the Germans were a nation much stronger than we ever imagined. What they have done in the last two years will remain a marvellous monument in the history of the world."

"But what has made them inferior, their organization and their military matters. Their advantage no longer exists. The allies and experience have defeated all the Germans had prepared."

"All that remains to Germany is her national unity, her fundamental elements of strength. But I have no doubt how long such unity will stand the strain of the danger (threaten). German unity is weaker than natural. Their lack of elasticity, and their lack of development of the military, are entirely favorable to the allies."

NO OVERTURES ON MUSH RETAKEN BEHALF OF PEACE BY THE RUSSIANS

Such Proposals Would Have Previously Captured Grand Duke, but Lost to Enemy on Aug. 29.

A despatch from London says: No peace overtures have been made to Great Britain, Lord Robert Cecil, Minister of War Trade and Parliamentary Under-secretary for Foreign Affairs, stated in the House of Commons on Wednesday. Lord Robert's statement was made in response to a question by Sir James Henry D'Almeida, in regard to "peace rumors" and the situation in the Balkans. "No overtures have been made for peace," said Lord Robert. "There is only one way in which overtures for peace could be made, and that is from an enemy to the Government of this country. If any such overtures were made the first thing we would do would be to consult with our allies, but no communication of the kind has been made." "As to the Balkans, Lord Robert said the most important factor consisted of the operations with the new Greek Government, he stated, were thoroughly satisfactory."

MONSTER SUPER-ZEPPELINS TO HAVE LENGTH OF 780 FEET

Baron Montagu Says New Machines Germany is Building Capable of Carrying Five Tons of Bombs.

A despatch from London says: In a speech delivered at Bury St. Edmunds on Wednesday night, Baron Montagu of Beaulieu, former vicar-general of the Admiralty, said that super-Zeppelins which Germany is building have obtained some details of the super-Zeppelins which Germany is now building, said Baron Montagu. "The principal features of the craft are a capacity of two million cubic feet, a length of 780 feet, a beam of 80 feet, a maximum speed of 80 miles an hour, a cruising speed of 45 miles an hour and a radius of action of 1,000 miles. The engines, six or seven of them, have a total of 15,000 horse power."

"The airships can carry a load of bombs of five tons. They are able to ascend 17,000 feet. They are able to fly for 36 hours. They are able to carry a crew of 35 men."

"These particulars show how far advanced the Germans are relying on Zeppelins as a means for harassing the Allies. Two of these new craft have already been completed, and four are available in October."
