Hair Raising Stunt.

A Hanover young man named "Bill" Berry performed a hair-raising stunt at 10 o'clock last Saturday morning that for sheer nerve was without a parallel in the history of the town. Berry, who has had some experience in high trestle work made a wager with Dave Schwark that he could stand on his head on top of the noh of the stand pipe which is about 175 feet from terra firma. And while a couple of hundred excited Hanoverians looked on, some in the vicinity of the stand pipe and some down the street, Berry won his wager, pulling off his astounding and foolhardy feat by standing on his head and then some. An American tourist passing in his car at the time, stopped and took Berry's name and address, and told him that anyone who had sufficient nerve to perform stunts like that was "wasting his time in Hanover."—Hanover Post.

Flesherton--Markdale Union Field Day

The joint Field Day between Flesherton and Markdale High Schools held on the Agricultural Grounds, Flesherton, was a grand success. The day was clear and warm and a large number of boys and girls, as well as parents were present to witness the after-noon sports.

Immediately after the arrival of the Markdale students, the program commenced, under the management of Mr. White, Principal of Flesherton School and Mr. Wilson.

There was a long program, which lasted all afternoon, and some very high jumping and fast running was witnessed. The pole vaulting was very attractive, and some of the boys clearing the pole at a high mark very gracefully.

Competition was good in every class of sport.

About 5:30 a baseball match was played between the two teams resulting in a victory to the Flesherton boys, but the game did not last very long, as it was growing dark.

After the ball game the students retired to the high school where a dainty supper was prepared. After tea a well-rendered concert was given in the Assembly room of the school.

Among the numbers was a dialogue given by Markdale students. At the concert also was the distribution of prizes by Mr. White. The prizes were all good.

Arthur Varty won the medal for winning the most prizes of the seniors, and Russell Walker for the most number of the juniors.

Markdale, while Fred Thurston for the seniors and Willie Hurst for the juniors in Flesherton. Flesherton school winning by 37 points on the whole day's program.

After the program was over all returned home much delighted with the day's outing, as Mr. White said in his address: "All work and no play makes 'Jack' a dull boy."

Ken. Lucas Saw Zepp. Brought Down

The following extract from a letter written home by Kendall Lucas, of Ontario Orpington Hospital, London England, and son of Hon. I. B. and Mrs. Lucas, of Markdale gives a description of the destruction of one of the German Zeppelins:

"I was one of the lucky fifty thousand that saw a Zeppelin plunge to earth in flames last Sunday morning about one-fifteen. For some days previous to the raid there had been many rumours floating about concerning a raid the Germans were planning on a gigantic scale, in revenge for the Zepp we got three weeks ago. According to gossip, the Germans weren't going to bother about the military end of the raid, but were going in simply to wallop the starch out of the civil population, for what they considered undue enthusiasm and jubilation in regard to the last Zepp that was destroyed. I was down at the bank on Saturday morning and they told me that Lloyds were giving odds that there would be a raid this week-end.

About ten-thirty on Saturday night we got a phone message in the Orderly Room to take "Mr. Raid Action." This means simply to see that all lights are out and to instruct those on duty what they are to do if bombs start dropping in our vicinity. An hour later we got another message saying that the Zepps had passed over Dover. However, as we had received similar messages many times before, we went to bed, not leaving orders to be called should any close firing be heard.

About one o'clock the fellow who was to call us came in and told us that they were firing at the Zepps. This was unnecessary as we could plainly hear the hoops and the guns. One bomb that dropped ten miles from here, and blew a hotel up killing five people, shook the windows. We hurried out, but as it was pretty cold I went back to get a little more clothes on. I had just reached my quarters when I heard a fellow give a surprised shout outside the window. I guessed what the trouble was and believe me it didn't take me two seconds to get out. As I got out to the door I could see the whole sky lighted up

FLESHERTON

(Special to The Standard.)

Charles Munshaw died.—The was general regret at the loss of an esteemed citizen, on Friday evening last, when the news was received that Mr. C. H. Munshaw had passed away in Toronto, suffering with an abscess in the head.

He was taken to the hospital with the hope of saving his life, but an operation was performed, and this time the malady proved fatal.

About fifteen years ago he underwent a similar operation, which then prolonged his life. In charge of Undertaker Chapman, the remains were brought to his home on Saturday, from where a funeral took place on Sunday afternoon at the public Cemetery and was very largely attended.

Service was conducted at the house by Rev. Mr. Dudgeon during which a quartette number was effectively rendered by Messrs. Murray and Duncan, Mrs. Blackburn and Mr. Tynburn. At the close of the service the Masons took charge of the impressive burial service of the Order committed to the hands of the members of the lodge here being joined by a good representation from the sister lodge at Markdale, Dundalk and Owen Sound, Rt. W. Bros. W. C. Wright and D. Rutherford being present from the latter place.

The casket was covered with beautiful floral offerings, among which was a square and compass design from Prince Arthur Lodge and a wreath from Georgina Chapter, Owen Sound. Among friends from a distance were: Mr. C. Page, Welland; Mr. H. Hooper, Mr. and Mrs. W. Moore, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Barr and Mr. and Mrs. Pipher, Karam.

The deceased, who was in his 70th year, was born in Flesherton and lived here all his life, associated with his father, conducting the well kept Munshaw House. His kindly disposition and inoffensive manner won for him a host of friends and his popularity was shown by the leading vote he polled at his election to the village Council, which he will be missed for his service with much zeal and faithfulness. He took a deep interest in village matters and was for many years a member and moving spirit in

Thanksgiving

Psalm 46: 9.

Great Father and Lord, we address Thee in pleading that conflicts may cease: This day of Thanksgiving we bless Thee.

For all indications of peace. We thank Thee for mercies extended through all the dark days of the past.

We thank Thee for efforts intended To issue in triumph at last.

We thank Thee for zeal and devotion Which all British subjects have shown.

We thank Thee that in the common-wealth Their oneness of heart is made known.

We thank Thee for those Thou hast shielded In answer to earnest request: We thank Thee that harvests have yielded So much of the choicest and best.

We thank Thee for guiding the movements. From liquor all lands to set free: We thank Thee for all the improvements We have been permitted to see.

We thank Thee for what Thou art showing To those who lament for the slain: We thank Thee for comfort in knowing That they have not suffered in vain.

In ties which no conflict can sever Cause nations united to be: Be Thou their One Ruler forever That they may find freedom in Thee.
