

Send-off at Camp to Grey Battalion.

(Daily News.) Camp Borden, Oct. 11.—Camp Borden bid farewell today to the 17th Grey Battalion, Lieut. Col. G. F. McFarland, O.C., as it embarked for another series of operations, where it will carry on a second phase of training before proceeding to the firing line. The 17th Battalion was honored by being the first unit to be selected to travel toward the rising sun to form a part of Canada's very latest contingent of fighters. Incidentally, the marching out state of the unit was 32 officers, 946 men. The 17th Battalion was authorized on December 15, 1915, and the unit was not long in reaching its required strength. The regiment paraded 110 of all ranks before it proceeded to Niagara Camp last spring, but a week later a contribution of fifty men was made to a pioneer battalion which was being raised throughout Ontario. Nearly all officers of the 17th were formerly attached to the 31st Grey Regiment. The commanding officer, Lieut. Col. McFarland, has had no less than eighteen years' experience with the Greys, and at the time that he secured permission to lead the new Battalion, he was serving as a senior musketry officer for Military District No. 2. The adjutant, quartermaster and paymaster of the 17th are well known to our readers. The adjutant is Lieut. R. W. Kerr, formerly of the 10th Royal Grenadiers. The paymaster, Capt. H. D. Burk, also is a former officer of the Greys. The quartermaster, Capt. J. Gray Eaton, a former Toronto newspaperman. A similar feature of the departure of the 17th is that just previous to the striking of the camp flag, the last time, a word was received that an officer of the unit who had gone overseas with the special list of officers six weeks ago had been returned to England. This was Lieut. R. C. Ferguson. Before the departure a formal visit was paid to the Battalion by Lieut. Hon. Sir John Henderson, Governor of Ontario, Lady Henderson, W. C. Hodgins, Brigadier-General S. C. Mowbray, A. C. M. W. A. Lodge and others. During the training season at Camp Borden, the 17th Battalion has won many honors from all other battalions in Canada. After a long and hard-fought series of competitive training, the Battalion also provided a grand success from which one of the best champions, the team of Muskoka Battalion, who were admitted to the 17th, were well trained under the leadership of Lieut. Col. McFarland. A strong boys' unit, which has sufficient men to be made into a separate unit, including the rifle squad which form the main support for the machine gun section. Grey Battalion has another unit to which it can devote early attention. This is the 24th Battalion, which is the unit of the 1st Canadian Division, Col. Clisbourn, of Owen Sound.

Indians See mild Weather

Indians assert that the coming winter will be one of the mildest in recent years. They base their assertion on the following signs: The oak trees have no acorns, squirrels are seldom seen, muskrats have not started to build fur-bearing animals have thin coats, bark on poplar trees is loose. There are some other signs they go by for their assertion that the winter will be mild and short. They are seldom wrong.
