

THE HOUSE
OF VALUE

THOMPSON'S

THE HOUSE
OF VALUE

XMAS. GIFTS FOR MEN AND BOYS

The number of Christmas Gift suggestions that we can make will greatly simplify your Xmas shopping. For instance, you can give a man no more acceptable gift than something he can wear. That does not confine your choice to any two or three things by any means, for at our store you will find literally hundreds of different articles of Men's dress, all of them selected because they have the right quality desired in a Xmas gift. Let us make some suggestions. Below you will find a list which will give a slight idea of the variety of gifts you can obtain here.

All our Xmas. Gifts will be nicely boxed in handsome Xmas boxes free of charge.

FOR MEN

SILK NECKWEAR

In the newest shapes, shades and patterns. One tie to a box 25c, 50c, and 75c.

Silk Scarfs and Mufflers

In plain and fancy silks, also Silk Knitted Styles, 50c, 75c, $1.00, $1.50 and $2.00.

Fine Irish Linen

25 cents each, boxed 3 to a box for 75c, or 6 to a box for $1.25 and the boxes are good.

Men's Gloves

In Cape, Mocha and Suede, $1, $1.50, $2.00.

Silk Handkerchiefs

Plain and fancy, 25 and 50c.

Silk Handkerchiefs

Plain and fancy, 10c and 15c.

Men's Suspender

In fancy boxes, 35c and 50c.

Coat Sweaters

The kind "he" will appreciate, $1.00 to $5.

House Coats

Special at — $6.50.

Bath Robes

We are showing special value in these robes.

We are showing a large range of Overcoats, Suits, Hats, Caps, Boots, Shoes, Rubbers for both Men and Boys at special Xmas. prices. Come in and see for yourself

P. J. THOMPSON

MEN'S AND BOYS' OUTFITTER

FLESHERTON

(Special to The Standard.)

Mr. William Wilcock, a very highly respected old resident of Artemesia township, passed away at his late home on the west bank line early on Thursday morning last in his 89th year. Six weeks ago Mr. Wilcock sustained a fracture of the leg, but was progressing favourably until a few days before his death, when he was seized with a paralytic stroke, which ended his long life. The deceased was a native of Yorkshire, England, from where he came to Canada in 1869, living first in Ottawa. After a visit home he returned in 1871 and settled on the farm on which he died. He was a successful farmer and a good neighbor, who will be missed in the community. He was a man of strict integrity and leaves for his children the heritage of a good name. In religion he was a Methodist and in politics, a staunch Liberal. The funeral took place to Flesherton Cemetery, on Saturday afternoon and notwithstanding the inclement weather, was largely attended. Service was conducted at the house by the family pastor, Rev. Jas. Duggeon. The pall bearers were Messrs. Mark, John, Rody and Archie Stewart, Harry Qing and John Parker. Beautiful floral tributes were given from the family, friends in Toronto and the Methodist Ladies' Aid here. Among those present from a distance were Andrew Bentham, Will Robt. Gorley who was called to the west by the illness of his brother, is bringing the remains home for burial. The funeral will take place to Salem Cemetery on Tuesday. The deceased was unmarried.

A result of the recent Boys' Work Conference in Toronto is the organization of a boys and young men's Society in the Presbyterian Church here named "The Crusaders." Weekly Meetings will be held for Bible Study, after which there will be social intercourse, games, etc. The meeting last week was held at Mr. Alf. Harrison's and concluded with an enjoyable banquet given by Mrs. Harrison. There was a good turnout of both sexes.

Mr. W. Henry met with loss on Tuesday night of last week, when the drying kiln building near the planing mill with considerable lumber it contained was destroyed by fire, which originated at the furnace. There was a hot fire for a time, but the damp conditions helped to keep other buildings from igniting. Loss about $350.

"There's no place like home" when

PURITY FLOUR
makes the pies, cakes and bread.
More Bread and Better Bread.

No insurance. Mr. Henry will rebuild.

The Busy Workers Concert in behalf of the Red Cross given in the Durham Road School on Friday evening last was quite successful, the proceeds being $27. A good program was rendered and an excellent address was given by Rev. Mr. Mathewson, of Princeville. Mr. A. M. Gilchrist occupied the chair.

Our popular entertainers, Dr. Murray, R. G. Holland, H. Sullivan, Mrs. H. S. Whitby and Miss Lowndes were at Maxwell last week, assisting at the Presbyterian Fowl Supper, which we learn was a great success, notwithstanding inclement weather. Proceeds $29.

Rev. Mr. McVicar was on the Maple Valley and McIntyre fields on Thursday and Friday last, assisting at the special meetings being held under direction of Orangeville Presbytery. In the series Rev. Dr. Murray, Supt. of Missions in Saskatchewan, spoke at Eugenia on Sunday morning and in the afternoon giving an instructive and interesting address on Home Mission Work.

At the Annual Meeting of the Presbyterian Ladies' Aid last week the Treasurer's Statement showed the Society to be in a prosperous condition. The officers were re-elected as follows: Hon. President, Mrs. A. S. VanDusen; President, Mrs. Jps. Paton; V.P., Mrs. Price Teeter; Secy-Treas., Mrs. J. Blackburn; Visiting Committee, Mrs. MacTavish, Mrs. Harrison, Mrs. J. L. McMullen, Mrs. D. Mair. Refreshments were served.

The Presbyterian Sunday School held their annual meeting last week at the home of Mr. Frank Chard, when the officers were elected for 1917: Supt. Mr. Frank Chard; Ass't Supt. Mr. Charles Stewart; Secretary, Mrs. Charles Stewart; Assistant, Miss Lena Duncan; Trans. Chas. Stewart; Librarian, Mrs. D. MacTavish; Assistant Miss Amanda Stewart; Organist, Miss Edna Stewart; Assistant, Miss Vera Loucks; Teachers, F. Chard, C. Stewart, Mrs. (Rev.) McVicar, Mrs. W. J. Stewart, Mrs. Sam Irwin, Mrs. Alf. Harrison. Mrs. Chard served refreshments and a pleasant evening was spent.

The Young People's Society in the Methodist Church, gave an interesting play, entitled "The Making of Canada's Flag" at the regular meeting on Monday evening. Over twenty characters were represented and the parts were well taken.

Miss Maud Richardson had a successful Art Exhibit and sale at Markdale last week.

Mrs. Jamieson received word last week from her daughter in London, England, that the contingent of nurses with whom she went overseas, were leaving for service at Malta.

Miss Maud Richardson had a successful Art Exhibit and sale at Markdale last week.

Mrs. Jamieson received word last week from her daughter in London, England, that the contingent of nurses with whom she went overseas, were leaving for service at Malta.

Mr. Ed. Chapman is home from Toronto on a holiday.

Rev. Iverson Wilson, of Oshawa, was in town on Monday afternoon calling on some of his old friends, who were pleased to meet him again.

Drake tells Wilkerson that no good can come of his wanted massacre of the Hindus, but Wilkerson laughs at him and goes inside the hut to taunt Dore by waving the plans to the mind before him. Meanwhile, the lone Hindu who escaped has aroused the hillmen. The hillmen start out by firing a cottage once occupied by Europeans. A British sentinel on the fortifications sees the fire in the distance and gives the alarm.

The hillmen then approach the hut where Dore is bound. Wilkerson sees them coming, but does not unbind Dore. Ruth and the Hindu beggar, whom she befriended, go to the waterfront, where she signals to an American torpedo boat in the harbor. In the meantime the British soldiers are leaving the fort to come to the assistance of Wilkerson, and his besieged men. Both Americans and British make a joint attack.

Wilkerson's small force is outnumbered and the natives by burning arrows, soon set the hut on fire. Dore struggles furiously to get away from the flames. The dense smoke strangles him and he is about exhausted when rescued from the hut. Wilkerson and Dore escape.

Weeks later in America, on the advice of Everett, Dore informs Wilkerson of his plan to drop the prosecution of the kidnapping charge against Wilkerson in exchange for the plans of the mine.

Wilkerson consents, but substitutes a false drawing for the original plans of John Gill.

which he retains. A few days after Wilkerson starts to die for the son's body to the hillmen, and the great planned to be done. The hillmen make preparations to dynamite the hillside.

After lighting the fuse, Wilkerson hurries away, but

is not far enough

from the mine to escape. The mine is

blown up and Wilkerson

is killed. Kane finds

Wilkinson

alive, but

is severely

injured.

Meanwhile, Sir Donald

comes to live up to her promise to marry him. She cannot

when Sir Donald

sizes her through

a window and

is much hurt.

In the interim Wilkerson

make preparations to

dynamite the hillside.

After lighting the

fuse, Wilkerson

hurries away, but

is not far enough

from the mine to escape. The mine is

blown up and Wilkerson

is killed. Kane finds

Wilkinson

alive, but

is severely

injured.

Meanwhile, Sir Donald

comes to live up to her promise to marry him. She cannot

when Sir Donald

sizes her through

a window and

is much hurt.

In the interim Wilkerson

make preparations to

dynamite the hillside.

After lighting the

fuse, Wilkerson

hurries away, but

is not far enough

from the mine to escape. The mine is

blown up and Wilkerson

is killed. Kane finds

Wilkinson

alive, but

is severely

injured.

Meanwhile, Sir Donald

comes to live up to her promise to marry him. She cannot

when Sir Donald

sizes her through

a window and

is much hurt.

In the interim Wilkerson

make preparations to

dynamite the hillside.

After lighting the

fuse, Wilkerson

hurries away, but

is not far enough

from the mine to escape. The mine is

blown up and Wilkerson

is killed. Kane finds

Wilkinson

alive, but

is severely

injured.

Meanwhile, Sir Donald

comes to live up to her promise to marry him. She cannot

when Sir Donald

sizes her through

a window and

is much hurt.

In the interim Wilkerson</