Women's Institutes.

munition factories and release the men to go out and help on the farms. While men can get four dollars and up to seven-fifty per day in the munition factories I have great fear as to production. Many of the women must work on the farms. We do not want the women's organizations without the men's, so they can co-operate. We wish the Women's Institute and the Boards of Agriculture to co-operate. Since we have our District Representative for the men we are going to have one for the women also. Let me appeal to you to keep this organization for the whole people and not saturate your Institute with suffrage. I appeal to you again not to do the suffrage organizations have yet done, to receive recognition. When I was at a convention in Washington last week I saw an exhibit of fruit and vegetables off one tenth of an acre, which made $125. The fruit and vegetables had been canned and sold. This was done by a girl.

Next year we will supply seeds to all the Branches, who will take part in the Contest and we will supply seeds to the Branches who took part this year. When the war is over the demonstration lecture work will be enlarged upon bee-keeping, poultry raising, etc., will be taken up. We must have more co-operation in the food line to lessen the cost of living. I wish to repeat the appeal that you keep the W.I. for the whole people. I wish to thank the District officers for their reliable accurate information wished for by the Department. If it were for but the business training you get discussing the problems for the whole people your time would be well spent. The day of the Institute is just dawning. A sense of duty well done is your reward.

Dr. Hastings, medical officer for the city of Toronto, gave an address on public health as follows:

Human efficiency was never at a higher value than it is to-day. Man's timbre and women's timbre is the backbone of the nation. If I were a minister my text would be "No man liveth unto himself, and no nation liveth unto itself." As far back as history carries us they had some conception of the safe guarding of human life.

A code of sanitation was observed in Moses' time. They quarantined those who suffered from venereal diseases; they looked to the water source and to the disposal of sewage. The city of Rome was the first to adopt a sewage system, but this was in 400 B.C. Health officers were not appointed in Liverpool until 1847. Dr. Oliver Wendall Holmes published the first books on the transmissibility of fever germs from one patient to another in 1843. The ordinary method of washing the hands was the cure. If there was more care to-day in washing the hands there would be less danger of disease.

The civilized world owes more to Louis Pasteur than to any other person. Lord Lister introduced antiseptic surgery. More lives have been saved by antiseptic surgery than were lost in all the wars of the 19th Century. Dr. Lister used to believe in a carbolic spray but this belief now is a thing of the past, as it has been proved that germs are not in the air, but that one must get germs by personal contact. That is, if you stand as many as five feet away from a consumptive, a searlet fever, or measles patient or very little. There is no way of contracting disease in the air. I would take my children through an isolation hospital so long as I am anything. A nurse must have an antiseptic conscience. If any family comes from a case of appendicitis, some one has hundered. Some one did not sufficiently sterilize their hands, tools or clothes. "Millions of dollars have been spent to cure instead of prevent disease."

The subject of Medical School Inspection was taken by Dr. McKenzie Smith, of Gravenhurst, who told how this work was taken up in Gravenhurst by having Dr. Margaret Patterson inspecting the schools and the result of examining 400 children showed that over 300 were suffering from bad teeth, a number from adenoids and enlarged tonsils. These last were operated upon at a cost of $5 to each child.

The afternoon session of the second day was presided over by Mrs. Buchanan, of Ravenna. The topics on the program for discussion were not taken up fully, only just touched upon, owing to lack of time the leaders of these discussions were cut off. From 4 to 5 o'clock the delegates were entertained at Government house having been taken thither in private cars. A look into the home of our Lieutenant Governor and his wife and daughter was really a treat.

The evening session of the second day was presided over by Mrs. E. G. Graham, of Brampton, who is the representative of our Ontario Women's Institute.

Mrs. Graham told of some of the needs of our soldiers' muffers, balacava caps and these cloth shirts. Send them to 77 King St. as soldiers' comforts. Also Institute members are urged to take the Canadian Ladies' Home Journal, at 75c a year.

Col. Noel Marshall, Head of the Canadian Red Cross Society, addressed us as follows:

"I am glad to know you have continued in your work. I believe that no wounded Canadian soldier has lacked anything since the war began. We have working for us 700 local Branches and 3,000 auxiliary Branches. Two million two hundred thousand dollars have been sent and one hundred and fifty motor ambulances and one hundred thousand cases of Red Cross supplies and up to the first of October none of these have been lost. We have not had to decline any application for help. We are now building a Princess Patricia hospital of 1090 beds and all the beds are endowed. I had the pleasure of meeting their majesties at this hospital and my message to the people of Canada is: "How grateful they are." The Massey-Harris hospital is another Canadian hospital. I was proud of it as the gift of a Canadian firm."

"I give you my word that any story of misplaced Red Cross work—the people who tell them are either badly informed, or they are the agents of our enemy. When a soldier is wounded in France and he is sent to a Canadian hospital, a Canadian nurse from the Red Cross Society gives him a card. On this is written his name and address. The next day a lady calls on him and finds out the name of his friends, how badly he is hurt, etc., and then she writes to his friends. The Canadian Red Cross Society is a friend to every Canadian prisoner. If you have a wounded son or husband over there remember you as a mother never gave him better care than he is getting in the Canadian hospitals. You must stay by this job until the war is done. You have taught men that you are willing to slave and don't be afraid to go to your men at home and ask for money to do your work for they may be glad if they have a shirt left yet. 18000 wounded soldiers are receiving gifts this Christmas. The President at France sent his thanks to the women of Canada.

The blind soldier from Nova Scotia then addressed us:

"It gives me a great deal of pleasure to speak to this society. It is the wounded soldier who appreciates the help of the women."

"There are now 500 blind soldiers and 22 of them are Canadians. I received my blindness in Belgium from a bullet which destroyed the nerves of the eyes. There is a hospital in England for the blind, where they are trained for future usefulness, this is called St. Dunstan's."

"The blind can be taught poultry raising, cobbling, carpentry, knitting, gardening, type-writing, diving and massage. It is my placed kindness not to allow a blind person to work. There was another blind man, the Secretary for the free library for the blind, who showed views of the blind, learning to work and at work."

"The resolutions were placed before the Convention by Dr. Margaret Patterson. Resolutions as follows:

1st—In memory of Mr. Duff.
2nd—Thanks to Lady Hendrie.
3rd—Regarding the Blind.
4th—Regarding the feeble-minded.
5th—Regarding the Medical Inspection of Schools.
6th—To prohibit the making of ice cream until the war is over.

Dire Results of Overeating.

From the standpoint of health man's cardinal sin is overeating.

The digestive system can look after a certain amount of food, but when continually crowded the food mass is delayed in the alimentary canal and what is not digested ferments.

In other words, this food spoils or rots, and poisonous bacteria are given off.

It is the duty of the liver to destroy these poisons. It usually succeeds, but after a time it tires, increases in size from overwork, and finally fails.

What Failure of the Liver Means

The poisons then hurry through the liver and into other organs or tissues.

Then you have torpid liver, indigestion, headaches, bad breath, bilious spells and irregular action of the bowels.

This condition is described as auto-intoxication, or self-poisoning by food.

Cirrhosis of the liver follows. Complications set in: Bright's disease, hardening of the arteries, apoplexy are natural developments.

But these conditions do not come on you suddenly. You have months or years of warning.

How to Get the Liver Right

The thing to do is to keep the liver active and the bowels regular by use of such treatment as Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and you will then run no risk of such serious developments.

This medicine acts directly and specifically on the liver. By promptly

The Three Functions of the Liver

1. It manufactures the bile-essential in the process of digestion.
2. The starch and sugars derived from the food are stored in the liver and sent to the tissues as needed.
3. It detects and destroys poisons.

Prevent Host of Ills

Such a multitude of ills arise from sluggish action of the liver, kidneys, and bowels that Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills are considered a household necessity wherever their merits are known.

By all means regulate your diet to your needs.

Then remember that when your liver does get wrong and threatens to upset the whole digestive system, Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills will afford quick relief and prevent all serious complications.

One bottle costs 25 cents.

Dr. A.W. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills

She hath done what she could

Every married man in the ranks of Canada's soldiers means that his wife gave her consent.

His the sacrifice, the danger, yes—but his also the interest of a new experience: the companionship of comrades, the inspiration of action, the thrill of the advance, and the glory of victory.

Her's the pitiful parting, the weary waiting, the fevered watching for the dreaded message, the gruelling grind of daily responsibility for those dependent upon her—and her alone.

No, No, not alone! Not alone, as long as the people whose battles her husband is fighting have a heart in their bosoms or a dollar in their pockets.

Not alone—as long as Canadian manhood and womanhood knows the meaning of the word "trust." Not alone, as long as Generosity is the handmaiden of Duty and Privilege.

Only an appreciation of the need is required by those of us who here at home keep the hearth fires burning. Not for some of us the supreme sacrifice, but for one and all of us at least that whole-hearted answer to the cry of patriotism that never yet has failed to go ringing around the world when the call has come.

GIVE—GIVE—GIVE as your own heart prompts you, give to the Canadian Patriotic Fund. $6,000,000 must be raised in Ontario for the vital necessities of the great work of caring for the needy families of Ontario's men at the front.

Every case is carefully investigated, everything humanly possible is done to eliminate mistakes and prevent imposition—but to the needy is held out a helping hand, without lavishness, but with the determination to see no real want unsupplied.

You are again offered the great privilege, not of charity, but of recognition of the magnificence of Canadian Wifehood.

Remember, if the Man is a Hero, the Woman is a Martyr.

"She hath done what she could"

Ontario is being asked to assure the Canadian Patriotic Fund that it can depend on having six million dollars in 1917 for the families of Ontario's soldiers.

Four million of these dollars must be secured from individual subscriptions. If there is no Branch of the Fund in your town or county send your subscription direct to the Head Office, Canadian Patriotic Fund, Victoria street, Ottawa.
