PTE. EARLY C. POWER WOUNDED.

Pte. Early C. Power, only son of Rev. and Mrs. John Power, now of 62 Bellwood's Ave., Toronto, is reported as having been dangerously wounded at the front on Aug. 10th.

Pte. Power is twenty years of age, enlisted two years ago. He attained the rank of pay clerk and held the rank of Sergeant, but gave up his position to a wounded soldier and reverted to private in order to get into the trenches. He was formerly employed in the Imperial Bank. Previous to his going to Toronto, he attended the Orangeville High School and was a member of the Cadet Corps. His father, the Rev. John Power, is assistant pastor at Wesley Methodist Church, Toronto, and was some years past stationed at Walters Falls and at Gt. Wharfedale. It was he who occupied Rev. A. P. Stanley's pulpit here last Sunday.

Mr. H. H. Stephen's jewelry store is this week being re-decorated.

Citizens are patiently waiting for the arrival of that (?) sprinkling cart.

Now's the time to prepare for Markdale Fall Fair. Send in your entries early to J. S. Shepherdson, Sec'y.

The first Provincial Exhibition was held in Toronto 21 years before Confederation. The Canadian National dates back to 1879.

Many in town have been performing the daubing stunt, by brightening up their residence, or place of business, with a coat of paint.

The first Canadian National Exhibition in 1879 ran three weeks and had an attendance of 191,000. Last year in two weeks 910,000 people attended.

Col. T. H. Race, the Field Secretary of the National Sanitarium Association, was in town early in the week in the interest of that worthy institution. Through his visit $50 was contributed to the funds of the Sanitarium.

"Fitz," the terrier belonging to Mrs. J. W. Elliott, is no more, for last week he received a mean dose of poison. It may be alright for destruction of dogs according to by-law, but the poisoning of someone's pet terrier is no sane act.

The Canadian National Exhibition commences this week, and many are planning to take in the "Big Fair." The local troop of Boy Scouts are to meet Scout Master Conn in Toronto next Tuesday and attend the Ex. Every boy should take advantage of this splendid opportunity.

I will sell 25 selected Dorcas strain bred to lay 250 eggs, or better Leghorns and 25 utility and beauty Wyndotte cockerels at one dollar each. These are the best bred fowl in America, and anyone wishing to improve their flock should get one of these cockerels at once. Those remaining unsold after Sept. 15th will be shipped out of the County.—R. O. Whitby, Markdale. 11-12

A reward of $10.00 will be given to any person furnishing information that will lead to the conviction of the party or parties who have destroyed the property of the Euphrasia Municipal Telephone System by breaking insulators, and otherwise doing damage to the plant of said System. The information will be treated as confidential.—W. H. Erskine, Chairman of Board of Commissioners. 11-13

Ontario and other prohibition Legislatures get the right through the Legislature, to put the ban upon liquor advertising. The mails are denied to circulars and letters soliciting orders for liquors. The publication of liquor advertisements within those provinces may be made a punishable offence; moreover—which is the most radical provision—any prohibition Province may prohibit the entrance of any newspaper, published outside its territory, which contains liquor advertising. The new "temperance bill" making these provisions went through committee and received its third reading in the House of Commons on Saturday. It contains a number of important changes to the "Doherty Act" of last session.

GREAT GROWTH OF WOOL INDUSTRY

Dominion Government Expects To Grade One Million Pounds In Ontario.

Up to this writing there have been 280,000 pounds of wool graded in Ontario under the new Dominion Government regulations. As a result of the sheep raising propaganda and the facilities for grading it is expected that 1,000,000 pounds will be handled next year in the Province. The fleece wool competition, started on a small scale last year at the Canadian National Exhibition, is to be continued this year, and a tremendous increase in the entries is already assured. A greatly enlarged space has been allotted the wool section in the Government Building and a splendid educational exhibit is being arranged by the Live Stock Branch of the Dominion Department of Agriculture.

DISTRESSING ACCIDENT

(Owen Sound Times)

On Tuesday afternoon about three o'clock, Myrtle Irena, the three year old daughter of Mr. Hugh Graham, the well known Derby farmer residing near Kilsyth, had an experience from the result of which she was maimed for life. Mr. Graham had just started to cut a field of wheat and had made one round when suddenly the binder came upon the little girl who had wandered into the wheat field without the knowledge of her father. The result was that before the binder could be stopped the right leg was completely severed below the knee and the main bone of the leg was severely cut. A message was sent to Tara McAsh, of Tara, and Mrs. Middlebro and Brewster, of Owen Sound hurried out, taking with them a nurse. The child was suffering more or less from the shock but without the ordeal of dressing the amputated limb and the setting of the fractured bone remarkably well. On inquiry yesterday stated that the victim of the regrettable affair had some into the wheat field without his knowledge and the grain was so tall that he was not able to see her until he was right up to her with the binder, before he was aware of her presence. Naturally both he and Mrs. Graham feel very keenly the misfortune, but no one was to blame particularly as the child could hardly be expected to understand the danger under the conditions, as she was only three years of age last April.

FROM BERKELEY BOYS

The Berkeley ladies received the following letters of thanks from boys at the front, to whom they have sent parcels:

Shorncliffe, Aug. 1, 1917.

Dear Friends:— I am in receipt of the parcel which I sure was glad to get and everything was in good condition and I wish to thank you also all the helpers in the Auxiliary, who have been so kind to send me such wonderful articles as the parcels contain.

Well, we are sure having a little taste of dirty English weather at the present, of course I am not worrying at all, as we do not kill ourselves with work. When it is wet it is some game when your pay goes on and no work, but I guess we will make up for this as I am on the next draft for France.

Well, how is everything going around the old burg. I suppose same as ever. I guess no more of the boys have enlisted yet, or is conscription in force. I know that there was great talk in the papers about having it. Well, in some ways I hope it passes and other ways it is more severe for there are some that cannot enlist and there are others who have every chance to do their bit and they will not. But there will be a great reckoning some day, what do you think?

I suppose you heard that Jack Ritchie is on draft at present. I sure would like to be with him, but I am following him on the next one.

Well, I must close again. Thanking you one and all for the parcel. I am as ever, an old Berkeley boy, J. A. Gawley, Corp.

France, July 27, 1917.

Dear Friends:— I received your parcel O. K. a few days ago and relished it very much. Sorry to say I have been so busy, I could not answer at the time as we were moving, but we are now settled down to work again.

It sure brings a remembrance to me of the friends in Berkeley. I should like to spend a few weeks at the present time among the friends of my home town, as it seems a long time since I was there.

With sincere thanks, I am, Yours Truly, Spr. H. Holley, No. 338988, C. Co., 2nd Batt., B. R. J., E. E. F., France.

EFFICIENT WAR-WORK OF CANADIAN WOMEN.

One cannot talk of war and war-work without thinking of what Canadian women have done during the three years that have elapsed since the first clash of arms called forth the cherished manhood of our country to prove its precious life-blood along the "path of glory". Brave and unflinching has been the endeavor of the women of the land, who from hearts well-nigh broken by the sacrifice of those dearest to them have rendered service that is only surpassed by that of the men in khaki overseas.

Many Societies

One can barely touch upon the work that the various societies of women have accomplished. Red Cross work stands out pre-eminently and to speak of rural women through out urban and rural committees have done in the constant continuance of contributions to the Canadian Red Cross Society is to speak of growth and development almost unbelievable. Since the outbreak of the war, millions of articles, including hospital supplies and trench comforts have found their way overseas. Besides vast sums of money, Red Cross work has been carried on by ardent workers in three Markdale societies. The Women's Institute, The Daughters of the Empire, and the Women's Christian Temperance Union. It is impossible in small space to cover the work of all the various organizations of women all over Canada, but Women's Patriotic Leagues which have provided comforts for the soldiers and protection for those he has left behind; Hospital Committees, which have contributed untiringly to the sustenance of the many hospitals here and there at home and overseas. Auxiliaries to the hundreds of battalions, each of which care particularly for the needs of the battalion he has fostered; the Women's branch of the Belgian Relief, which sends case after case of comforts to the destitute women and children of that brave little country; and many other societies all deserve more than honorable mention for the way in which they have laboured unceasingly.

Angels of Mercy

Oh shall we ever be able to measure the wonderful work that has been done as never before, by the nurses who have gone from all parts of the Dominion to be ministering angels to the sick and wounded soldiers? Trained nurses have gone with the Army Medical Corps on hospital staffs, while many have voluntarily given unpaid by going with what is known as V. A. D. Corps. The men who owe so much to these courageous women, alone know the meaning of their labour and love.

Filling Men's Places

Once again, women have stepped bravely into the vacancies left in various departments of labour by the soldiers. In munition factories where girls have worked from eight to twelve hours a day; in the fields where, having "put their hand to the plough" they have not turned back on the fruit farms, where they have accomplished and are accomplishing untold wonders; in the banks, offices, and hundreds of places women have tried and succeeded.

Speaking of berry-pickers, one who visited some of the fruit farms at Grimsby, Winona, etc., said: "I never saw such pluck. I have seen girls with arms burnt raw from the wrists to elbows, wrap them in cotton-wool, and go on working as if nothing had happened. I have seen them so stiff with stooping that they could not take off their own boots at night, but had to help each other. Yet, despite the soreness, when morning came, off they went to the berry-patch or field laughing and singing. And, what's more, the growers say that they never had men that worked so well, or did their work so thoroughly."

Isn't that a tribute worth while? And doesn't it prove once again that Canadian women are ready with strong hearts to meet whatever contingency may arise as the wheels of war pass into history?

Food Conservation

Here again we find the women of Canada anxious to do their part. Everything may be done by men and women of organizations etc., but if the individual homes of the communities are not doing their share, little can be accomplished. And in the home, the homemaker may do a
