Don't stuff your husband, but husband your stuff. From the esteemed Orrilla Packet.

If you have trouble to read or see small objects near by, W. J. Shortill can fit you with glasses that will enable you to read small print same as you formerly did.

The Women's Institute are very grateful to Mrs. A. M. Brown for the sum of $20.30, to help with their sock fund. This amount is the proceeds from a Red Cross Reception given in her home.

Russia is in a rat race. A wheat embargo exists in Argentina, Australia, New Zealand, and India are out of reach of Great Britain because of the shortage of ships. It has fallen to the United States and Canada to beat the German blockade and feed Great Britain, the allies and the armies in the field.

Mrs. Geo. A. Caswell, Secretary of the Women's Patriotic Auxiliary, Berkeley, Ont., is in receipt of appropriate acknowledgments from the boys at the front to whom parcels have been sent. The Berkeley women certainly deserve credit, and the letters from R. W. Walker, J. C. Cryven and R. A. Dennison, are loud in their praise to the ladies for the splendid, useful gifts sent continuously.

A reward of $10.00 will be given to any person furnishing information that will lead to the conviction of the party or parties who have destroyed the property of the Euphrasia Municipal Telephone System by breaking insulators and otherwise doing damage to the plant of said system. The information will be treated as confidential.—W. H. Erskine, Chairman of Board of Commissioners.

The children of Belgium are crying for food. Serbia has been overrun by the enemy. Half of Romania is occupied. Much of France is laid waste. Ten-nations of the world are on ration. Sixty million men are withdrawn from production for war service. To feed the Allied armies and nations, the men and women of Canada must pledge themselves to maximum production, the elimination of waste, and the largest possible consumption of perishable food-stuffs, says Hon. W. J. Hanna, Canadian Food Controller.

Special values in Men's and Boy's Waterproof Coats at Mercer's.

The Women's Institute will meet at the Department of Agriculture, on Wednesday, Sept. 19th, 3 p.m. Will all who are interested please try to be present as places for the fall and winter work will be arranged. The rates for knitting socks must be carried out more according to the directions from head quarters, and the following directions will meet the requirements. Cast off, 64 stitches, rib 3 1/4 inches, 8 inches plain length of foot from back of heel 9 inches, it is then ready to narrow. This will make a good sock, knitted on course needles, so that there will be a looseness that will allow for the kind of washing that the men in the trenches have to give them. Please wash before returning and above all knit loosely as the tightly knitted socks are only wasting the yarn which it is so necessary to save. Everybody welcome whether members of this Society or Institute.

A quantity of interesting correspondence is unavoidably crowded out, but will appear next issue.

BOY SCOUTS AT EX.

A very good representation of the local troop of Boy Scouts left on Tuesday morning (first week of Ex.), to be reviewed by the Governor-General that afternoon at 2.30 o'clock. They were met by the Scout Master and one of the Guides at Parkdale. The boys were marshalled at the headquarters tent at 12 o'clock, noon and along with the entire Scouts of the Province, were entertained to lunch by the headquarters staff.

At 1.30 p. m. preparations were made for marching from Headquarters to Review Grounds, and headed by one of the first-class Boy Scout (blue) bands, were marched off. Promptly at 2.30, the Governor-General entered the grounds, which was the signal for the boys coming to attention, and the National Anthem being played.

The Governor-General, with his staff, at once commenced to review the boys. The Markdale troop stood on the left side of square, and what we consider was a honor to Markdale, as well as to our troop, was that the Governor-General stopped, and addressing Scout Marsh, who acted as Patrol Leader, asked him to explain what his Proficiency Badges (which he wore on his arm), were for. Scout Marsh saluted, explained in accordance with the Duke's request, which evidently pleased his excellency.

At the close of the Review, Commissioner Hammond informed us that the Scouts from the Outside points had carried the Honours, and that they would be entertained to supper, and be admitted to the Grand Stand, to view the spectacle that night.

The boys had a royal time and Scout Master Rey, Conn has every reason to be proud of the boys under his command and care.

147TH GREY BATTALION

Leut.-Col. McFarland Gives a Full Account of His Stewardship

The following letter, which explains itself, was received by Mr. Joseph Goodfellow last week:

Somewhere in France August 9th 1917

Joseph Goodfellow, Esq., Warden of the County of Grey, Dundalk, Ontario, Canada.

Dear Mr. Warden, Now that the 147th Canadian Greys Battalion has been absorbed and has lost its identity, except in the hearts of its members and their friends, I desire to explain to you, and through you to the County Council and the people of Grey, the disposition which has been made of the property and assets of the battalion, most of which came to us through their generosity.

I trust that it is clear to you that the fact that the battalion did not go to France as a unit was due to no lack of efficiency, but simply to the exigencies of the military situation at the time when we landed in England. The reputation of the battalion in Canada is well known to you, and while it remained a unit in England, that reputation was fully sustained and even enhanced. The Officers commanding the battalions to which the Grey men have gone as reinforcements have assured me that
