ROOKLYN

(Special to The Standard.) Miss Annie Curry, who has been visiting her friend, Miss Anna Patton, Thornton, has returned home.

Born On Monday, October 28th, to Mr. and Mrs. S. Cook, a son.

Mrs. Geo. Yeadell, sr., is recovering after her recent illness, we are pleased to say.

Our schools, churches, etc., are all closed on account of the Spanish Flu. Quite a number in this vicinity have been quite ill, but at the present time all are recovering.

Miss Hazel Falls, of General Hospital, Owen Sound, is home at present recuperating after a severe attack of influenza.

Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Gardner, also Mrs. R. Gardner, have moved to their new home at Rocklyn.

Mr. Will Yeadell, who has spent the summer in Toronto, has returned home.

RIVERDALE

(Special to The Standard.) Mrs. H. Chappel, of Meaford, visited her parental home here recently.

Master Everett Wyvill, of Parkdale, visited friends in this vicinity last week.

Miss F. Cowan is the girl of her sister, Mrs. H. Chappel, of Meaford.

Mr. G. Noshir returned home on Saturday after visiting friends in and around Georgetown during the past week.

Owing to the prevailing 'Flu' epidemic, our public school has been closed indefinitely, but the Riverdale blacksmith shop and jewelry works are running at full capacity.

Mr. W. Wood and Co. were engaged threshing for Mr. T. Davidson on Monday.

It was with a feeling of deep regret that the citizens of our burg learned of the sudden demise of Mr. Harold Hill, of Markdale, who succumbed to an attack of pneumonia on Friday evening.

Sunday was a balmy day and only for the desecrated appearance of foliage and vegetation one would naturally surmise from the croaking of frogs and warbling of birds that it was spring instead of autumn. During our conclusions from hibernating animals, migrating birds, and various other signs and wonders, we anticipate a long open fall and exceptionally mild winter.

A Whopper of a carrot at Wodehouse. In last week's issue of The Standard, the Wodehouse Cor. informs us that a great carrot weighing a little over 3 lbs. and we presume measuring about 4 feet long, was recently discovered in that locality.

Field carrots or house carrots, as they are more commonly called, are not grown in this vicinity, but Riverdale can prudely and has done so this year some big things in hoe crops; for instance mangels weighing from 12 to 16 lbs. and cabbage weighing from 10 to 15 lbs., are quite plentiful here.

"Beet" it, Wodehouse.

HILL AND VALLEY

(Special to The Standard.) We are pleased to report little Miss Nettie Abercrombie, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Abercrombie, of our locality, improving, after her accident of the West Mountain.

Mrs. Jim Harvey and Miss Blanche Ward spent a week in the Valley with Mr. A. Harvey.

We also learn that Mr. G. Cornfield has purchased a fine looking horse, George likes a sleek looking fellow.

Ploughing is about at a close, as Mother Earth looks very black.

Miss Nettie Camack visited the Valley Road recently.

Many people are suffering from the awful Spanish influenza, which has spread rapidly since the first break out.

Miss Eva Brocklebank is visiting her aunt, Mrs. G. Cornfield.

We wonder what is going to take place when we see the young men securing the gold. Hustle up boys, keep the old dog flying.

Knitting and sewing seems to be the women's principal work before the cold winds blow.

TEMPLE HILL

(Crowded out last week.) Miss Alice Patton of Toronto, spent Thanksgiving at her home here.

An epidemic of influenza which is

HOLLAND CENTRE

(Crowded out last issue.)

On the evening of October 15th, the citizens of Holland Centre and suburbs, met in the town hall and gave a reception to Ptes. John Price and Robert Stewart, who have just returned from the front. A good programme was provided, consisting of two duets by the Misses Williams which were loudly applauded; two readings by Mrs. Burns which were well received; two instrumental by T. Givens and White Lee which were highly appreciated; an able address by Mr. Wm. Brooke of Chatsworth, which was listened to with rapt attention; the Rev. Mr. Wakefield ably filled the office of chairman. About the middle of the program the following address was read:

To Ptes. John Price and Robert Stewart.—With intense delight to welcome home again to our midst you dear brave heroes. Your many friends have looked longingly for this home-coming which has been your life and hope since you parted from us. For three years your experiences have been of the most terrible character that could be imagined to come from the region of despair to the light of hope, but mildly express your feelings of delight at reaching Canada. We admire your brave, fearless dispositions and in your severe losses you can only be compensated by the thought that they have been recompensed by fighting for friends, country and civilization. You have given your services to the establishment of right and justice in the future governance of the world, without stint and with the full realization of the possibilities of never returning.

We wish you health and happiness in civil life and that you will be restored to usefulness. Your future career as citizens we anticipate will be as valuable to humanity as you have proven as soldiers. To you the Country owes much that will never be repaid, but yours is the satisfaction that you have done your duty whole-heartedly. To express in a small degree our feelings of gratitude and sympathy we ask your acceptance of these purses.

Signed on behalf of your many friends, Alex Shute, James Dixon.
