TAKES OFF DANDRUFF, HAIR STOPS FALLING

Save your Hair! Get a small bottle of Dandorin right now. Also stops itching scalp.

This brittle, colorless and sorely aching scalp of dandruff is a neglected ally of dandruff that swirls round. There is nothing so destructive to the hair as dandruff. It robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life; eventually producing a feverishness and itching of the scalp, which if of remedied causes the hair roots to shrink, loosen and die - then the hair falls out fast. A little Dandorin to use now - any time - will surely save your hair.

Get a small bottle of Knoriton's andorin from any drug store. You can have beautiful hair and life if you will just try a little Dandorin. Save your hair! Try it!

YOU PAY LESS! Price List

NOTICE!

We call the attention of our friends to the fact that we have made contract for an extremely interesting War Map Service, which is now on exhibition in the Standard Office. These Maps will show The Big Battle Fronts in Europe, where "Our Boys" are going, with fine half-tone illustrations of the chief War Scenes. A new map will be put up every week or so. The Public is cordially invited to call weekly and examine this very interesting historical summary. See us about securing a copy of this remarkable War Map for your own home. Every home should have it.

We must have all display advertising in not later than 4 p.m. Monday

COMMON SENSE VIEW.

The Renfrew Mercury, Liberal, takes no alarm at the results of two recent legislative bye-elections, one in Ontario and the other in Saskatchewan, though in both resentment and dissatisfaction appears to have been expressed in respect to Federal affairs which were dragged into the contest. It calmly deliberates: "Even so; was that not just exactly what the Union Government was elected for - to do the necessary things that might quite likely be unpopular, and thus would be left undone by a party Government?" It seems to The Mercury that Liberals or United Farmers partisans who rejoice over the defeat of candidates because of what the Ottawa Government has done for the prosecution of the war, even if blundering at times, are not wise. These things may strengthen their party in a few isolated constituencies, but will strengthen neither a Liberal nor a Farmer's party over Canada as a whole when the people have had a little time to think.

PRESS OPINION.

Rev. J. Thurburn-Conn, when addressing the County Council in aid of Merchantmen, and afterwards the Warden's banquet, when he spoke to the toast of "Our Empire and our Allies," seems to have made a worthy impression for his home town on the press of Owen Sound. Following is a pen sketch to the Presbyterians of Markdale of their Minister, from the Owen Sound Sun-Times: "Mr. Conn's oratory was remarkable and will undoubtedly carry him far in the councils of his church. How Markdale can hold a man with such flights of oratory and such bursts of rhetoric is a mystery. There are men in large city churches with less oratorical ability and there are few with his flow of language. He is only a little man with a big voice, a believer in himself and with a positiveness that is quite refreshing. He is evidently a fighter and no doubt is in the habit of carrying his point. Markdale evidently appreciates him fully and would only part with him when there would be an advantage to Mr. Conn. They know Mr. Conn down there and all his eccentricities and either because of them or in spite of them, they think a lot of him. He has a few eccentricities (like most ministers) but they are not obtrusive and only add to the perfect charm of his manner. He is small in body only, for his ideas and his heart are big."

W. C. T. U. WAR WORK.

The W. C. T. U., though primarily an organization for Christian temperance work, has, like so many other organizations, turned its attention to Red Cross and Relief Work during the war.

In looking over the books the treasurer finds that during the last four years $1887.97 has been raised for War Work. This has been spent in various ways, viz: Y. M. C. A. work in France, Belgian Relief, soap and "cans" for the boys overseas, hospital supplies and also direct to the boys for help where needed, through Miss Devitt, nurse in No. 7 Hospital, France. Some $36 is still on hand to use wherever the need seems most pressing.

Five hundred pairs of socks have also been knit from yarn which was supplied. For this wonderful peace we give God the glory and sing with swelling hearts. "Praise God from whom all blessings flow."

STAFFORD-BLAIR

On Tuesday, November 26th, at 3 o'clock, a pretty wedding was solemnized at the Methodist Parsonage, when Miss Louise Blair, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Blair and Mr. Joseph Ernest Stafford were joined in marriage by Rev. A. L. Stanley.

The bride wore a very pretty satin gown, in a beautiful, soft canary shade. After the ceremony the wedding party returned to the bride's home where a bountiful wedding feast awaited them. Over fifty guests were present and joined in congratulating and showering well wishes on the bride and groom for a happy future.

The bride was the recipient of many lovely gifts. The groom's gift to the bride was a beautiful gold wrist watch, while the groomsmen received a pretty gold tie pin.

Mr. and Mrs. Stafford left on a trip to Toronto and other points. In the Spring they will reside on their farm near Berkeley.

TRAVERTON

(Special to The Standard.)

Ouch! We hate putting our feet in the snow when the toes are out of our boots. That's an Irish bull, isn't it?

Mrs. Williams, of Orangeville, was the guest last week of Mrs. Arthur McNally.

Mr. J. J. Peary, being kept busy these times cutting poles with his gasoline outfit, he put up a monster pile for Mr. Sandy Campbell last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Timmins paid a visit lately to Mr. Alex. Carson's home near Privilite.

The flu is still going its rounds in our midst, but no serious cases have developed, so far our correspondent is aware.

On Sunday, November 24th, to Mr. and Mrs. John O'Neill was born a bonnie, baby girl. Congratulations! Mr. Dugald Clark of the 4th cessation, is moving this week to take possession of the Rocky Mills which he has purchased from Mr. John Ferguson. The latter has had a reputation all his life for the most upright kind of dealing. "Honest John" has been his title.

PARIS CELEBRATION

We are privileged to publish part of a letter from Stewart Thibaudain which he wrote while in Paris, after signing of armistice.

Paris, November 11, 1918. Mrs. J. B. Thibaudain

Dear Mother - Well, here I am at last, arrived here yesterday morning. I did not leave my unit till the morning of the 11th, so made pretty good time considering I came from within the Belgian frontier, over miles and miles of country only a few months ago in the hands of the Hun.

You will hardly credit my account of the rejoicings in Paris, and yet I cannot describe one half of it. When I arrived here yesterday morning, there was a pent-up feeling in the air. There was talk of an armistice and everyone was making arrangements to celebrate the occasion such as it was. Almost everyone was buying flags of the Allies in wholesale quantities.

It was afternoon when the news came out and immediately every flag was unfurled and every throat was set loose in rejoicing. This state of affairs continues as I write (10 a.m.) and there was no sign of cessation when I went to bed at midnight. I am of the opinion that it went on throughout the night. As I had had no sleep the night before, I was constrained to retire at the above early hour.

It is a good while since I have had so much exercise as last night. There was an immense crowd on the boulevard that night. Everyone was going to the "Fonjon" Jack, and the others. "Vive les Anglais," they chanted, and the French, "Vive les Canadiens!"

In fact, the war was open to the crowd. If you should have seen some of the "vive" a little more of the slogan, "Vive les Canadiens!"

Don't run away with that it was entirely except in the night. There were "do" fathers doing, and their flags and they marched all over the city, carrying flag-staves.

The boulevard was the first time in years. I remarked, "Yes, an enemy, to-day no one of the crowd's of songs, one to the Polka, la Marseillaise, the defeat of William generally executed about in a ring, and once over and over again.

From what I see, it is small consolation. The tales their of the refugees, many from a like fate seem like a terrible Peace! - Stewart
