

RUSSIAN FACTIONS REFUSE TO MEET ALLIES TO DISCUSS TERMS

Plan Declared to be Impracticable—Ukrainian Government Asks for Recognition and Seeks Alliance With France.

A despatch from Tokio says:—Gen. Harvath, interviewed in Vladivostok regarding the Peace Conference plans for all the delegates of the Russian factions to meet on Princes' Island, said it was impossible to conclude an armistice with the Bolsheviks, who would not respect it even if it were made. He regards the plan as practically impracticable on this account and also because travel conditions would prevent the delegates from reaching the designated conference place by the day specified.

A despatch from Paris says:—The Ukrainian Government will refuse to take part in the conference on the Princes' Islands, according to an interview given to Petit Journal by M. Sedorenko, Minister of Internal Communications in the new Ukrainian Government.

Sedorenko has begun parleys with the French Government to obtain the admission of the Ukraine to the Peace Conference. The only claim which his country will put forward will be for recognition. If this is granted, according to the interview, the Ukraine will propose an alliance with France on the basis of the former alliance with Russia, and will take over part of the Russian debt, France taking payment in part in wheat.

LABOR UNREST RIFE IN BRITAIN

Industrial Congress One of the Schemes Suggested to End Trouble.

London, Feb. 2.—The industrial unrest has superseded the Peace Conference as the chief topic of interest in Great Britain. Many of the leaders in the camps of capital and labor are bringing out specifics for a general remedy. The proposal of John R. Clynes, the former Food Controller for an industrial congress representing all interests, seems to be the most popular to-day. It has a rival in a new society called the "National Alliance of Employers and Employees," which representative men on both sides are promoting.

One point on which everyone is agreed is that some general principles, particularly applying to wages and hours, must be recognized. Local settlements of disputes in the different trades and factories only create unrest and confusion. Whenever one section of workers receives any particular concession, the others who have not enjoyed similar advantages become dissatisfied.

Mr. E. H. Carr has made a proposal for a large national factory act, which is an experiment to show what can be done by such co-operative management.

Many people have arrived in Glasgow, where it is now said there are 10,000 soldiers are still mounted on the roofs of the buildings, surrounding George Square in Glasgow. The military display is provoking great indignation among the soldiers.

England's Birth Rate Lowest in History

London, Feb. 2.—England's population is decreasing, states Dr. Caleb W. Saleeby, the famous eugenicist, on the authority of unpublished vital statistics sent to him by the Registrar General. They show that, for the whole of England and Wales, last year's death rate would, probably, be found to be higher than the birth rate. The year was the worst on record in this respect. In London the birth rate was 15.8 per 1,000 of population, and the death rate was 18.90. The smallness of the birth rate figures was unprecedented in the history of England.

WILL NOT CALL ON GERMANY TO PAY ALIBED COSTS OF WAR

A despatch from London says:—The Peace Conference has settled one important point with regard to the indemnity question, the Paris correspondent of the Evening Standard says he has reasons for reporting. The Conference, he declares, has eliminated any intention of calling upon Germany and her associates to pay the allied countries the cost of the war or to impose heavy indemnities upon the enemy nations.

PEACE DURING MONTH OF APRIL IS FORESEEN BY LLOYD'S

London, Feb. 2.—Some of Lloyd's brokers who, up to a week ago, considered the signing of a preliminary peace before June as a "long shot," have within the last few days reversed their opinion, and now consider it almost an "even money" risk that April will see the preliminary conclusion. Everything indicates an earlier conclusion than seemed certain ten days ago.

GERMAN BOMBS KILL TWO BRITISH SOLDIERS

A despatch from Mons, Belgium, says:—Two British soldiers were killed and several injured on Friday by the explosion of bombs hidden under coal abandoned by the Germans. The soldiers were engaged in removing the coal when the explosion occurred.

50 MORE SUBS TO BE SURRENDERED

Allied Naval Constructors Making Study of Their Equipment.

London, Feb. 2.—Under the terms of the armistice there are 50 more German submarines to surrender to the British navy. At present there are 98 of these craft in British naval ports, 37 having been distributed among the allied powers for technical examination. These submarines have already sailed for various allied ports, where naval constructors will make a careful study of their machinery and internal equipment.

The ultimate fate of all the submarines will be decided by the Peace Conference. Expert view here is that the construction of the German submarines is extremely good, especially as regards technical details, and they show marked superiority over the latest built German destroyers, whose construction is extremely bad.

PROTZKY URGING HIS FORCES TO ADVANCE TOWARD KIEV

Odessa, Feb. 2.—It is reported that Leon Trozky, the Bolshevik Minister of War and Marine, has arrived at Kharkov, and is exhorting Bolshevik regiments to invade further the Ukraine. Despairing appeals for help against the Bolsheviks, addressed to the Allies, are reaching Odessa from Kharkov. The Bolsheviks are said to have occupied Tcherniviv and to be advancing southward toward Kiev, where there is a panic reported. The Government has moved from Kiev to Winnitza, in Podolia.

TO PAY SOLDIERS 21 SHILLINGS WEEKLY

A despatch from London says:—The pay of the soldiers of the British army who will be retained until a peace footing again is reached probably will be twenty-one shillings a week and food and lodgings, according to a statement made by W. A. Applton, Secretary of the General Federation of Trade Unions, to the Daily Mail.

BRITISH FLAG FLOATS OVER STRASBOURG

A despatch from Strasbourg says:—Two British gunboats arrived here on Friday. The British flag now floats over the city.

Hit By Zeppelin—It has only been lately that the British censor has allowed any details to be published of the damage done by the various Zeppelin raids over London. Now that all danger is ended, the curtain has been lifted and the publication of photographs is permitted. This is a house in the west end of London which was hit by a bomb from a Zeppelin. All its inmates were killed.

YPRES RUINS TO BE LEFT INTACT

Will Stand as a Reminder of the Horrors of War to Future Generations.

A despatch from London says:—The decision of the Belgian Government to maintain Ypres, the scene of several battles between the British and the Germans in its present condition as a permanent memorial is endorsed heartily by British press and public opinion.

"Ypres will be a memorial," says the Westminster Gazette, "in which future generations may learn the horrors of war. There is nothing more impressive than the sight of the stricken city with the skeletons of its once wonderful buildings rising gaunt into the sky. In a sense there are few things more beautiful. To patch it up would be impossible. Everyone, therefore, will welcome the decision that the remains of the old city shall be left intact instead of being cleared away."

"The East abounds in the ruins of the last vestiges of once glorious civilizations which have been overthrown. Ypres will stand for centuries as a reminder that civilization itself cannot be overthrown, and as a monument to the generations sacrificed in its defence."

1,000,000 MEN WILL OCCUPY RHINELAND

A despatch from Paris says:—The number of American, French and British troops to be maintained in the occupied regions along the Rhine will be limited to 1,000,000 men, according to The Echo de Paris.

AIRPLANES TO CARRY FOOD TO BELGIUM

A despatch from London says:—The Government has allotted a squadron of military airplanes to convey foodstuffs to Belgium for the relief of the population. The service, which is to be daily, will begin immediately between Folkestone and Ghent.

BRITISH ARMY REMODELLED

900,000 Hold Lines in Germany During the Transition Period.

The regulations governing the armies of occupation are dealt with in an official statement issued by Winston Spencer Churchill, Secretary for War, says a London despatch. The statement says:—

"The British military Commanders are of the opinion that 900,000 men are sufficient for this transition period. All the rest will be demobilized as fast as possible.

"The new armies will begin forming February 1st and will be composed, in the first instance, of those who have enlisted since January 1, 1918, and who do not exceed thirty-seven years of age. Volunteers will be accepted for one year's service from among men otherwise entitled to release, while sixty-nine battalions of young soldiers now on home service will be sent immediately to help guard the Rhine bridgeheads and relieve the older men.

"The men of the new armies will be paid bonuses ranging from ten shillings and sixpence per week for privates, to forty-two shillings for Colonels, in addition to the ordinary army pay. Leave will be granted on as generous a scale as possible.

"The occupation armies will be the home army, the army of the Rhine, and the army of the Far North, and garrisons of the Crown colonies and India.

"These arrangements seem to be the best desirable for the year 1919. During the year, however, we must remake the old British regular army, so as to provide, on a voluntary basis, overseas garrisons and foreign stations."

In connection with the foregoing the Ministry of Labor announces that no further application for release of individual officers or men on pivotal or special grounds can be considered.

PEACE CONGRESS AGREES AS TO DISPOSITION OF GERMAN COLONIES

Turkish Empire to be Dismembered by Detaching Five Conquered Regions.

Paris, Feb. 2.—The accord reached by the Council of the Great Powers concerning the disposal of the German colonies and occupied regions in Turkey in Asia is much more definite than is generally supposed, and, besides acceptance in principle of the plan of mandatories, it embraces the following main features:

The Allied and Associated Powers are agreed that the German colonies shall not be returned to Germany owing, first, to mismanagement, cruelty and the use of these colonies as submarine bases.

The conquered regions of Armenia, Syria, Mesopotamia, Palestine and Arabia shall be detached from the Turkish Empire.

Provision is made whereby the well-being and development of backward colonial regions are regarded as the sacred trust of civilization over which the League of Nations exercises supervisory care. The administration or tutelage of these regions is entrusted to the most advanced nations, who will act as mandatories in behalf of the League of Nations.

These mandatories are not uniform, but vary according to degree of development of the colonial region, and its approach to the stage of self-government. The mandates in Palestine, Syria and other regions of Turkey where well-developed civilization exists, would be comparatively light and would probably provide for the provisional recognition of the independence of these communities.

On the other hand, colonies like those in Central Africa would require a mandatory with large powers of administration as responsible for the suppression of the slave trade, liquor traffic, ammunition and arms traffic, and the prevention of military authority on the part of the natives except for native police purposes.

Other colonies and territories, such as those in German South-west Africa and some of the South Pacific Islands, have such sparse and scattered populations and are so separated from other communities that the laws of the mandatory country would probably prevail in these regions.

The mandatories will report at stated intervals to the League of Nations concerning the manner in which a colony is being administered. The foregoing general outline indicates on broad lines the terms whereby, it is said, conflicting views were finally reconciled and a common agreement was reached acceptable to all the great and colonial powers.

INCREASE TO BRITISH NAVY TO BE REGARDED AS BONUS

A despatch from London says:—The Admiralty announces that pending the conclusions of the Committee of Enquiry on the subject it has been decided to increase the pay of all naval men, ranging from an extra shilling per day for ordinary seamen to six shillings for captains and higher ranks, with similar increases to the Royal Marines. This extra pay, it is declared, must be regarded as a bonus, and not as representing an increase of the present pay, which may ultimately be considered a just and equitable remuneration.

Future Army of Occupation Largely French

A despatch from London says:—The British contribution to the armies of occupation in Germany, says the Times, will be only a fraction of the total force. The United States, consisting of 100,000 men, has been given to the part of the war by the British Navy. The British responsibility lies with the world.

MUST STUDY LUMBER MARKET

Canada Should Endeavor to Meet Requirements of European Trade.

A despatch from Ottawa says:—That the Canadian lumber trade will experience some difficulty in securing its share of orders for reconstruction work in Europe unless more attention is paid to the requirements of the overseas market, as a warning given by the Commissioner of Customs, it is pointed out, requires attention to the size requirements of the British market, and to the quality of Canadian lumber. The Commissioner says the one relating to the "size" of lumber shipments is particularly important.

"As far as British requirements are concerned," says the Commissioner, "the bulk of lumber imported into the United Kingdom is of the form of large timbers, the grade known as 'merchandise' heavy structural work, going into an special class of construction."

"If British Canadian lumber is to compete with other grades and sizes, it must be dealt in."

"In Canada," the Commissioner says, "we can deliver lumber of the same grades as those delivered to British markets, but we must be able to meet the requirements of the European market in a broad range of sizes and grades. This is practically impossible at the present rates at the present time, but in two years freight rates will be low enough for Canada to compete with Sweden and Russia in our manufacture of the products of the British market."

NO LOSS ON WHEAT IS EXPECTED

Surplus of Sixty Million Bushels in Canada Will Be Readily Available

A despatch from Ottawa says:—The Canadian Government has guaranteed the sale of the crop of 1918 at the cost thereof, it is estimated that the surplus of wheat now available is 60,000,000 bushels, which represents the British and American commitments are not purchasing in Canada of the crop.

Hence if prices in the world should suffer an early decline, countries would be called upon to good their guarantees. It is here, however, that there is to anticipate that the Government will find itself able to raise money to bring the Canadian grain in the market up to the guaranteed level, as much as $2.44 a bushel, Northern. It is believed present suspension of buying competition in Great Britain and British Wheat Export Corporation is being used and will be on the basis which has been varied.
