GIVE "SYRUP OF FIGS" TO CONSTIPATED CHILD

Delicious "Fruit Laxative" can't hurt a tender little stomach, liver and bowels.

Look at the tongue, mother! I coated, your little one's stomach, liver and bowels need cleansing at once. When peevish, cross, listless, doesn't sleep, eat or act naturally, or is feverish, stomach sour, breath bad; has sore throat, diarrhoea, full of cold, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the foul, constipated waste, undigested food and sour bile gently moves out of its little bowels without gripping, and you have a well-playful child again. Ask your druggist for a bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which contains full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups.

TO THE PUBLIC:

R. O. Whitby, of Markdale, is supposed to be in a position to offer the most valuable eggs in Canada for hatching. They are from a laying strain of S.C. White Leghorn hens that have been bred from champion egg layers for eighteen generations. His cockerels bred by expert Guild people of Rockwood are from a 310-egg hen whose mother and grandmother were champion egg layers of America. Mr. Whitby will also have a splendid strain of Barred Rock eggs to dispose of for hatching. The price of all eggs will be $2 per dozen, or may be paid for by delivering one pullet from each one of these settings to Mr. Whitby between the 15th and 25th November next. These eggs would cost $6.00 a setting from the original breeder, and a hen from one of these eggs would lay five eggs to a mongrel's one, and would not cost as much to feed. Anyone wishing to improve their poultry stock should take advantage of his offer. Telephone No. 24.

Who Are These Men?

THE FIRST was a dirty uncouth peasant, but he played a leading part in the disruption of a nation. He held no portfolio, yet he swayed a court as did no Minister of the Crown. He was without holy orders, yet people called him "monk," and no churchman of his generation exercised so profound an influence in the empire to which he belonged.

THE SECOND, with a private income of $20,000 per year, has been called the "eyes and ears" of one of the allied rulers. No titles have been conferred upon him; he has received no reward—apparently wants none. Yet he witnessed Germany's preparations for the Great War and warned his nation of its approach. He acted as its secret but unofficial agent after war had been declared, and, though without office, was closer to the heart of the struggle than any member of his country's cabinet.

THE THIRD, a general in the allied armies, was born in a railway shanty. He would not have been fighting Germany to-day if an Alsatian lad (his ancestor), had not escaped from a Bavarian press gang in 1744. Do you know him?

states—these are the three men pictured and described.

Russia collapsed, and The Toronto Daily Star published the story of the "mysterious one" who had led its court's excesses.

President Wilson declared war, and The Toronto Daily Star gave to its readers a series of articles on the confidential work of the man who had most influenced him.

The American forces began to make themselves felt, and The Toronto Daily Star presented the life-story of their great leader.

The Toronto Daily Star Alone in Ontario has Published their Histories

This policy will be continued. The Toronto Daily Star will endeavor to lift, for its readers, the curtain of diplomacy and intrigue and give them a glimpse at the great personalities on the world's stage.

For this purpose alone—it has twenty-four world-famous correspondents at the Peace Conference—They will keep Star readers fully informed upon every development.

The Toronto Daily Star has been famous for its feature stories. It published Harry Lauder's great book as a serial. Sir Frederick Smith, the Attorney-General of England, visited Canada, and The Star gave its readers his book of personal impression.

At the first of this year The Star began the publication of two outstanding Canadian stories of the war. The first, "My Three Years in a German Prison," by Hon. Dr. Henri S. Beland, M.P., former Postmaster-General of Canada, is in some respects Canada's most notable contribution to the literature of the war. The second, "From Mons to the Rhine with the Canadian Army," is a diary by Lieut.-Col. John A. Cooper, a distinguished Canadian journalist, describing the last and perhaps most spectacular phase of Canada's part in the Great War. Further important features, the best available, will be announced from time to time.

The main thing is, you will want to read them. Don't take chances of missing the big stories. Subscribe for The Star and your subscription in now. For 1 month, 25c. For 3 months, 50c. For 6 months, $1.50. For 12 months, $3.00.
