The average laborer is in a worse condition than before the war. In many cases the increase in wages does not nearly equal the increased cost of living.
In view of the retirement of Dr. Briggs as active head of the Methodist Book and Publishing House, Toronto, this extensive concern has also changed the name "William Briggs" to "The Ryerson Press."
Those who have vested rights to space in the large Methodist Church horse barn are respectfully requested to waive such claim on Saturday, the 12th, in behalf of visitors to town.—Thos. Grainger, manager.

Entry tags for the Auto Competition for best decorated car on the 12th may be had at The Standard office up to three p.m. on Saturday. The style, make and value of the auto will not figure, the decorating with flags and bunting being the aim. Entrance 25 cents, which also admits the auto and driver to the Park.
NEW TREASURER.—Mr. A. Pledger, of Rocklyn, Ont., is the new Treasurer of Euphrasia, successor to Mr. W. H. Falls, resigned.
FORTY-FOUR YRS. OLD.—Mr. H. P. Moore has been publisher of the Acton Free Press forty-four years. The Free Press is one of the neatest and best edited rural papers in the province. The Standard extends congratulations and best wishes.
TIDY UP FOR THE 12th.—Those who have not already brightened up their shop or premises with paint cannot do so now before the 12th, but be sure you cut those thistles and burdocks and tidy up generally and don't forget the flags and bunting.
AN OVERSIGHT.—In enumerating in last week's Standard the places where meals would be served on the 12th we entirely overlooked Marshall Beard's. Marshall had an exceptionally good stand next door to Bowes' hardware store on Main street, and visitors who give him a call will be used "white."
PROSPECTS IN WEST.—Mr. J. R. Armstrong returned on Friday last from a three weeks trip and visit to the Canadian West. He reports bright prospects for an abundant crop in Manitoba, while in Saskatchewan the outlook is very poor in places, medium in others and real good in some districts.
ORANGE SERVICE.—The Orange-men's service at the Presbyterian church on Sunday morning was well attended, sixty members being in parade. Rev. J. Thurburn-Conn delivered a vigorous, practical and fitting sermon for which the lodge passed a unanimous vote of appreciation and thanks on their return to the lodge room.
A BARGAIN.—A splendid baseball match, a panoramic view of from fifty to one hundred autos, profusely decorated for the occasion, moving three times around the track, and the public speaking, band and pipe music, all for a quarter, and the net proceeds to be donated to a most worthy object. This is a decided bargain, at King Edward Park on Saturday afternoon.
SHEEP KILLED.—Dogs got into trouble on the east back line recently, killing and worrying sheep, and one dog got into further trouble by being unable to escape a fatal shot. One farmer says: "Kill the dogs and raise sheep—or else kill the sheep and raise dogs." In addition to a dog having to pay the penalty for killing sheep, the owner of said dog should certainly be heavily taxed for such nuisance and damage.
Notice.—All persons found berry-picking or trespassing on lot 19, concession 10, Holland, without permission, will be prosecuted according to law.—A. Young.

GUNNER W. J. PLEWES

Arrived in Kingston July 4th at 2 p.m., and was a civilian, inside of twenty minutes. He reports the returned men were well fed and taken care of enroute.

WALDEN—MCGROTTY

A pretty wedding was quietly solemnized in Toronto on Wednesday evening, July 2nd, by the Rev. J. McP. Scott, when Miss Kathleen McGrotty, of Toronto, became the bride of Mr. Carrol E. Walden of Markdale. Miss Lucy Stanning assisted the bride while the groom was attended by Mr. Arthur Hatley.
Mr. and Mrs. Walden arrived in Markdale Friday noon and are honeymooning in town and suburbs.
The bride, who is a daughter of Mr. F. C. McGrotty, of Whitty, Ont., possesses fine qualities and The Standard joins in extending her a hearty welcome to Markdale.
The groom is a son of Alderman Walden, of Markdale, and prior to his five years army service was on the staff of The Markdale Standard.
The young couple will settle in Markdale and have the very best wishes of a host of friends.

LILICO—DODDS

A very pretty wedding was held in Saint Paul's Church yesterday afternoon at half-past twelve when Miss Clara Dodds became the bride of Mr. Ernest Lilico, both of the city. The ceremony was performed by Rev. R. Pogue of St. Paul's. To the strains of the wedding march which was beautifully rendered by Mr. Crane, an old friend of the bride's family, the bride entered the church on the arm of her brother, Capt. Hurrell Dodds. Miss Maudie Ackison was bridesmaid, while Mr. Howard Lilico assisted the groom.
After the ceremony the happy couple repaired to the bride's home where refreshments were served, after which Mr. and Mrs. Lilico took the 3.30 train for their future home in Winnipeg.
The groom, who is a returned soldier, having lived in Winnipeg before the war, is well and favorably known in Peterborough. All join in wishing the young couple a long and happy wedded life.—Peterborough Examiner.

MR. C. E. WALDEN FOR DAILY WORLD.

Mr. Carrol E. Walden, recently returned from overseas, has entered the Toronto World subscription campaign. For many reasons Carrol should receive hearty general support. Although still suffering from his severe wound in the ankle, his never failing energy prompts him to "get loose" in this respect, and The Standard certainly wishes him the success he duly merits.

Dear Mr. Editor.—During the war I have been very strongly reminded that although the war is over, some of the "win the war" propaganda is still working. When I step out of the house on a hot evening to get a breath of fresh air I am immediately and unpleasantly reminded that some of our local citizens are still engaged in food production, which in itself is a very laudable thing, but what irritates my usually placid temper is that while my friend sits in the park, I go the other way, and although pork is very high, believe me that small is still higher.
Then another neighbor has a few chickens. Now I have a great respect and admiration for a chicken in its proper place and that place is in its own back yard or cooked and in the table; but the other day when I saw what a few chickens did to my onion patch I could have eaten my chickens and their own garden right there and then.
Now Mr. Editor, I wish you would kindly suggest to the Town Fathers and the Board of Health that the village was not intended to fulfill the duties of a barnyard and that perhaps now the war is over, it would be as well to see that the pigs go back to the farm and the chickens to their owner's backyard.
Thanking you for your space and courtesy, I remain,
Yours patiently,
L. Spellen.
