GLENELG FIREBUGS ARE STILL BUSY.

On Sunday morning at two o'clock the large barn on the farm rented by James Murphy, owned by the late John Murphy, Concession 8, Glenelg township, was destroyed by fire. The locality is situated between Markdale and Durham. The barn was one of the best in the township, 45x70 feet, with stone foundation and splendid stables. In it were burned a large pig, implements, also grain and four loads of hay. On the floor near a hay mow a rag about a foot square partly burned was found, leading to the belief that the incendiary's first effort was unsuccessful.

BAD ACCIDENT AT HYDRO STATION.

Walter George, aged 21 years, a returned soldier and son of Mr. Jas. George, of Hanover, met with a terrible accident in the Hydro sub-station in Hanover last Saturday morning at 10 o'clock. He received severe burns in the right foot, arm and hand and left hand and left leg and foot.

Three men, including George, were working under T. Berry, Supt. of the Hydro system and E. McLeod, the local Supt., cleaning up the sub-station from damage done the night before by fire caused by lightning, arrestors breaking down and oil spilling about the place. While George was engaged wiping a hot pipe frame work, there was a heavy surge came in on the high tension line which was 7 or 8 feet clear of George. The current flashing up over the outside of the insulator, catching the steel girders in the roof and pipe work connected to same, causing the entire station to be alive, even including the brick walls. This was a very unusual occurrence, and was probably due to a lightning bolt striking the Hydro lines at some distant point. Mr. George was engaged in line work and other general purpose work in connection with the Hydro system here.

After Mr. George received the shock which threw him on the floor of the sub-station, he was carried out by Messrs. Berry and McLeod in an unconscious condition and was rendered first aid by Mr. Berry who succeeded in bringing him to before Drs. McCreeds and Taylor arrived. The Hydro Electric Power Commission of Ontario procured nurses and everything possible is being done for the boy.

Hanover Post.

Mr. George is acquainted in Markdale and has made many friends here while visiting at the home of Mrs. J. G. Matthews. It is sincerely regretted that the serious condition of one of his legs necessitated amputation. We deeply sympathize with the unfortunate young man, and hope he will substantially recover from his most terrible accident. —Ed. Standard

"THE RYERSON PRESS"

A rather interesting change in trade name has taken place this month with the retiring of the venerable Rev. Dr. Wm. Briggs from the position he has held for two score years as book steward of the Methodist Book and Publishing House, Toronto. During the last score of years of his administration at least, the name "William Briggs" has been used as an imprint on the House publications. With the assumption of the Book Steward's office by Rev. S. W. Falls, the trade name becomes "The Ryerson Press," thus very fittingly commemorating the name of the founder of the institution.

Dr. Briggs' friends will be glad to know that he is not by any means withdrawing his interests from the institution, but as Book Steward Emeritus, to which position he was elected by the General Conference of the Church last October, continues to be in his office daily.

The new name, "The Ryerson Press," will be used in future, on all the publications of the firm to be handled through the book trade.

OLDEST INMATE DEAD.

Nicholas Benson, the oldest inmate of the House of Refuge, died in that institution on Wednesday last at his remarkable age of 98 years. His brother, William, died a few months ago, at the age of 95 years. The pair, who were bachelors and had lived together all their lives, came from Bruce Twp., where they outlived the money they had carefully husbanded for old age. United so long in life they were not designed to be parted in death, Nicholas being laid to rest alongside of William in the Walkerton cemetery yesterday afternoon. —Walkerton Herald and Times.

THE LATE MRS. LARGE.

Mrs. Edward Large, who passed away on the 30th of June at Grace Hospital, Toronto, was a much respected resident of this village in her earlier years. The family moved to Toronto nearly thirty years since. Deceased underwent an operation six months ago from the effects of which she unexpectedly succumbed as a love. The body was conveyed to Markdale and service fittingly conducted by Rev. A. Richardson on July 2nd at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Haskett, where her brother, Mr. Frank Porter, who lost his eyesight many years ago, has for the past nine years made his home, interment following in the family plot, Markdale Public Cemetery. The pall bearers were Messrs. Thos. Matthews, M. A. M. strong, P. McCullough, C. W. Rutledge, with her son and son-in-law, Harry Large and J. P. Whelan. Those who attended from a distance were Mr. Harry Large, Guelph; Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Whelan, Hamilton; Miss Norma Large, Toronto; Miss Lena Large, Owen Sound; and Mr. W. Large and son, Gerald, of Euphrasia. Mr. Edward Large, who survives, is in feeble health and was unable to be present at the last sad rites. Mrs. Large, with her husband, were among our most respected citizens for many years and the remaining members of the family have the sincere sympathy of the old residents who knew them.

DRINK AND DEGENERACY

Dear Sir:—The Board of Health of St. John, Halifax, Toronto and New York, and authorities from all over the world, agree that the drinking of parents causes mental and physical defects in children. This means an immense loss to the country. Dr. Sullivan, of Great Britain, reported in 1916 that an investigation of the children of twenty-one drinking mothers showed that fifty-five per cent. died under two years of age; while of the children of twenty-eight sober mothers only twenty-three per cent. died under that age.

We establish Boards of Health to prevent disease; we compel vaccination to prevent smallpox; we have milk inspectors to secure pure milk; we establish sanitariums to treat tuberculosis. Should we allow the saloon to exist which does a hundred times more harm than all these combined?

Our Government quarantines our ports against cholera, yellow fever, smallpox; bulletins are published to teach the farmer about the care of his crops and fruits, and to acquaint him with the best grades of apples, potatoes, wheat, etc. If as much attention had been given to teaching the people the poisonous nature of alcohol, we would not need prohibition laws. How many young men would drink liquors if they really knew the facts of the case; how many young girls would think of marrying a young man who uses intoxicating liquors?

A recent writer says truly, "If a good breed of stock means money in the pocket of the farmer, why should not the government find it as important to raise up a virile race of men and women who would add to our country's wealth?"

Every nation now realizes that alcohol is the most important factor in race degeneracy. The favorite drink in Bulgaria is buttermilk, and one person out of every thousand lives over a hundred year of age, while not a few live to one-hundred years of age. The United States comes next with one centenarian to every 2,500; Spain, one in every 4,000; France, one in every 190,000; England, one in every 200,000; Germany, one in every 700,000. It is not a mere accident that the nation which drinks the least alcohol, and whose favorite drink is buttermilk, has the greatest number of centenarians, while the country that drinks eight times as much beer has the smallest number. It is not a mere coincidence that, in both Canada and the United States, the amount of crime and insanity is so closely proportioned to the amount of alcoholic liquors consumed. Finally, how is it that taxes are so much greater in wet towns than in dry?
