The Master on the Mountain.
The Lord's Prayer is a model of prayer. It is the prayer of a man who has seen the face of his Father. It is the prayer of a man who has seen the face of his God.

Other men were made of sterner stuff. He lived his brother, took the place from the grave and went with the saints. A few days later he was one of the richest men in the world. He became one of the greatest of his generation. He then cried out in agony as his brother's grave. He then cried out in agony as his brother's grave.

Such a faith often spells the difference between success and failure. Few of us are born with conspicuous talents.
The majority must go prospecting in order to discover ourselves, and the thing that saves us from despair is the faith that God has something special for us to do in life. We must believe that as Horace Bushnell once phrased it, every man's life is a plan of God, and that in that plan there is something quite different from his plan for another else.

Difficulties are the inspiration of faith. No soul ever grew to anything without them. The danger is that we shall grow discouraged and stop prospecting too soon. To lose faith in the plan is the most withering atheism a soul can know.

WOULD NOT BE WITHOUT BABY'S OWN TABLETS

Once a mother has given Baby's Own Tablets for her little child she would not be without them. They are the ideal home remedy, for the best being guaranteed to be absolutely free from opiate or other harmful drugs.
They are a gentle but thorough laxative and have been proved of the greatest aid in cases of constipation, indigestion, colic, colds and simple fevers. Concerning them Mrs. Ernest Gagne, Beaconsfield, Que., writes: "I have used Baby's Own Tablets for constipation and colic and have found them so successful that I would not be without them. I would strongly recommend every mother to keep a box in the house." The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from "The Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont."

A Simple Sermon.

There's only one method of success, and that is to do it right the first time. Don't give up the game or waste in doubt. College graduates are thrown back into a hummer. This world would be a much better place if we would all get the facts in it held just the same viewer. So finish your work; show the best of your skill. Some folks won't like it, but other folks will. If you're buildin' an army or buildin' a nation, do the most that you can with your own common sense. One small word of praise in this journey of tears. Outweighs in the balance gains cardinals of sinners. The plants that we're passin' as common-place weeds. Oft prove to be just what some sufferer needs. So keep on again; don't stay standin' still. Some people won't like you, but other folks will.

Canada produces per capita more food materials obtained from farm crops than any of the other principal countries.

Benevolent Volcano

With memories of the tales of Pompeii and Herculaneum, we listened to our childish days, we naturally assisted late volcanoes with town-breaking rather than with town-making.
But that even a volcano at times may unwittingly do a town a good thing is evidenced by the prosperity that has come to the town of Kodak on the island of that name. Kodak is a hundred and fifty miles farther north than the island, but like her, it is lapped by the warm sea currents, and is a sheltered harbor in the Blue Sea.

In 1912 Mount Katmai burst into one of the most terrific eruptions ever known. The mass of the ash and lava sky-high has been computed at 100 cubic miles. The world's island is buried deep with the grey ash. Yet the inhabitants of the little town, or rather settlement, agree that Kodak's calamity was the best thing that ever happened in Kodak.

For a year or so Kodak was a desert grey waste; by 1915 Kodak was only a year or so again, but a prosperous town that even is larger than before is finer, the most largely by the harbor, the eruption. Only hardest and most suitable paths lead to the harbor, their way up the hillside and also in it is all unapproachable that the ves-

Prevention of Food Poisoning.

Food that we eat in the form of bread and other food poisoning. Several members of a family, it may be, or many guests at a dinner or at a picnic party may all be suffering from food poisoning. The number of persons that may be affected is large, but with few exceptions such as mountain poisoning, the trouble is the result of food that has become spoiled.
Unfortunately, it is not always possible to detect this condition. In fact, for example, or in the typical case of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to build up the blood and restore the stricken nerves. Without this treatment the trouble may become chronic and the patient a lifelong sufferer.
The value of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills in cases of this kind is shown by the following statement by Mr. Frank J.
Sorenson, Acton, Ont., who says: "In January 1917 when I received an Alberta, my daughter, the oldest, then eighteen, had a bad attack of pneumonia fever, which left its affecting a severe attack of St. Vitus dance. For weeks she was confined to her bed under the doctor's care.
She was entirely hopeless, being unable to even hold a spoon to her mouth. For a time she lost the power of speech almost entirely, and only with great difficulty made her voice heard. The treatment of her condition was not at all successful. It was only after she had taken a box of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and taking a box of the pills, she seemed to improve. She did not seem to get along so well. In November, 1917, we removed to Acton, and in January, 1918, she was again confined to her bed with St. Vitus' dance. She was again in a terrible state and quite improvable. She was under a doctor's so well. In November, 1917, we

removed to Acton, and in January,
bed with St. Vitus' dance. She was
care. The treatment of her condi-
