GOODS DELIVERED FIRST PEACE YEAR

BY GERMANY ON REPARATION ACCOUNT.

France Leads in Share of Property Handed Over—Gets 14,210,582 Tons of Coal.

A detailed list of the various deliveries made by Germany to the Allies in execution of the treaty of Versailles during the first year of the reparations Commission. The deliveries were made on the reparations account up to December 31. The chief items are coal, amounting in all to 14,210,582 tons. Next in importance on the list are cereals, of which 10,787,827 kilos were delivered.

Other deliveries were: Steamers, sailing vessels and fishing boats, 2,034,729 tons; inland and navigable materials, 38,720 tons; live stock, 362,176 head; seed, 16,802,588 kilos; ammonium sulphate, 19,000 tons; pharmaceutical products, 57,823 kilos; rolling stock, 15,571 trucks, 125,555; motor lorries, 5,900; fixed railway machinery, 141,505; agricultural machinery, 141,505.

Restores Stolen Goods. The records for the year show the following deliveries under this article: To France: Agricultural machinery, 15,545 machines; industrial machinery, 181,161 tons; locomotives, 13; trucks, 6,021.

The allocation by the Reparations Commission of Germany's deliveries shows that France received the largest share, with Belgium second and Italy third. The United States appears on the list with two items—dyestuffs, of which she received 1,300,143 kilos, and lorries, numbering 1,314.

Catering for the London Zoo.

You would hardly think it, but the London Zoological Gardens have a population of nearly three thousand, and in these days of high prices the bill for feeding these three thousand creatures is a very serious matter for the society, especially as it has to be borne out of the sixpences and shillings of the visitors, says a London newspaper.

Monkeys require fruit. They and the other fruit eaters eat more than two thousand bananas a week, as well as large quantities of nuts. Seals must have fish. They require some five hundredweight weekly, and even fish is not cheap nowadays.

Nova Scotia leads the Canadian Provinces in apple production. Her 1919 crop was over 2,000,000 barrels. The Canadian apple crop in 1919 was worth $24,000,000.

What Is a Boy Scout?

A Boy Scout enjoys a walk through the woods more than he does the excitement of the city streets. He learns the facts of nature, the uses of the stars, the trees and the birds, and becomes "a man of the open."

The Cash Value of Courtesy.

It was a busy season of the year on the farm of a leading Yorkshire breeder. The owner (you would recognize him if I mentioned his name) was away on some important business. An auto drove into the yard, and a business-like man stepped out, who wanted "to see the boss."

The man in charge of the farm, thinking of the work almost shrieked to be done, was perhaps a little hurried and impatient in his dealings with a prospective customer. At any rate, the visitor, when he saw the farm owner a little later, complained of his reception at the farm. That night the owner called his men and gave them the following instruction: "From now on I am going to be responsible whether or not any work remains undone because a customer drops in on us unexpectedly. We hurt the feelings of a customer to-day by being discourteous to him. For all I know, it may have cost me $1,000 in business."

My instructions are to drop whatever you are doing, and place your self at the disposal of the visitor. He is not interested whether we are busy or not, but an inspecting our best. Give as good an impression as you can.

WINTER WEATHER HARD ON LITTLE ONES

Our Canadian winters are exceedingly hard on the health of little ones. The weather is often so severe that the mother cannot take the little one out for an airing. The consequence is that baby is confined to overheated, badly ventilated rooms; takes cold, and becomes cross and peevish. Baby's Own Tablets should be given to keep the little one healthy. They are a mild laxative which regulate the stomach and bowels and thus prevent colic. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from "The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont."

Sumames and Their Origin

The family names of the Gaelic clans, known as "Clann-na-Aba" or "The descendants of the Abbot." This particular abbot held of the regal position at Glendochart in the reign of King David I. He was not a priest, but a layman. The organization of the medieval abbots was not always entirely religious, and laymen often had official and administrative duties within them.

The English name in some cases may have originated as the result of a father of a family having renounced holy orders, but the other explanation appears to be predominant. The names Abbot and Abbotson are used by sept of the clan MacNab.

Kid Gloves from Whale Intestines.

Soft, pliable "kid" that is as strong and durable as its genuine prototype, from the intestines of the whale; thick sole leather of excellent quality from the lining of the whale's mouth; five or more huge split sides of tough leather from the skin of the beluga, the common dolphin of the North Pacific; these are only a few of the many revolutionary products obtained from aquatic life, the manufacture of which has become one of the new important industries of the Pacific Northwest.

From an embryonic idea three years ago to a practical method of utilizing annually millions of dollars' worth of otherwise wasted by-products, and supplying a new source of sorely needed material, the advancement of the industry has been phenomenal.

The latest development is the utilization of the skins of sea lions and seals and the intestines and mouth skin of the whale. The intestines of a 60-ft. whale measure 60 to 75 ft. in length, and about 6 in. in diameter. When opened and spread out flat, they are about 18 in. wide. A satisfactory process has been found to tan this material, producing a fine substitute for kid.

Looking for Trouble.

When we say of some one that he looks for trouble, we mean that he looks for a grievance to vent, a supersensitiveness to fancied slights, with an amour propre that is forever waiting to be wounded.

See this placid, gentle, benignant face of a good woman. Her countenance seems to mirror one day linked to another in ways that always have been ways of pleasantness and peace. Little do we know the battle, the suffering and self-denial, the anxiety and stress out of which this strong, calm character has come. She has known trouble—and that is why she seems to have room for everybody else's trouble—why her heart is big enough to hold not only her family, but her neighborhood, her country, her world. It is almost a pity to bring her any story of distress—it wrings her heart and moves her at once to some active measure of compassion.

PALE, WAN CHEEKS INDICATE ANAEMIA

New Health Can be Obtained by Enriching the Blood.

When a girl in her teens becomes peevish, listless and dull, when nothing seems to interest her, and she does not tempt her appetite, you may be certain that she needs more good blood than her system is provided with. Before long her pallid cheeks, frequent headaches, breathlessness and heart palpitation will confirm that she is anemic. Many mothers, as the result of their own girlhood experience, can promptly detect the early signs of anaemia after the wise mother does not wait for the wise mother to develop further, but at once gives her daughter a course with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, which renews the blood supply and banishes anaemia before it has obtained a hold on the system.

Among the many who have benefited by the use of these pills is Miss Dora Kerr, R.R. No. 4, Winton, Ont., who writes: "For a long time I had been feeling tired and worn out. I was troubled with headache and backache, and would wake up in the morning feeling tired and depressed. I had to walk a considerable distance going to school and would feel so fatigued that it seemed I could not go another step. About this time a lady doctor came to the school, to examine the children, and she told me I badly needed a tonic to build me up. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills had been used in my home before this and I began to take them. I can only say that they have greatly helped me. I no longer suffer from the headaches and backaches and I now wake up in the morning feeling rested and refreshed. If ever in need of a tonic again I shall lose no time in taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills."

A Child's Dental Chair.

The importance of caring for the teeth of children has not been so strongly realized during the past few years that many devices have been brought out to facilitate the work. The latest of these is an special dental chair, complete in appointments as is the regular adult size, but constructed on a reduced scale. Besides the regular features, the child's chair is fitted with an auxiliary rest for the comfort of the smallest patient. Height adjustment is accomplished by means of a pedal actuating a mechanism in the pedestal base. The headrest is also adjustable.

The Tsetse Fly.

The Director of Agriculture for Southern Rhodesia says that the tsetse fly, so widely fatal to domestic animals, has invaded new districts of South Africa and reoccupied territory that was infected many years ago, but that has been free since the outbreaks of rinderpest in 1896. The advance of the fly in some places menaces farms and in others prevents the settlement of otherwise desirable land. In areas where big game has been reduced to a minimum, or where the forest has been leveled, the fly has been greatly reduced in numbers. The bite of the tsetse fly causes what is popularly known as the sleeping sickness.

Wanted It to Go. "This is my car," exploded the irate tourist to the garageman, "and what say about it, goes—see?" "Just then a dirty-faced machinist crawled out from under the dead machine, and said, plaudingly, "say 'ginne, mister!'"

Simple Addition. Teacher—"Now, Willie, if I gave you five rabbits and then four more, how many would you have?" Willie—"Ten." Teacher—"How do you make that out?" Willie—"Well, I have one at home already."

Mind-reading. A pretty little young lady of seven had memorized several of the stories in her fairy book and was fond of pretending to read them. One night she was seated upon the lap of a visitor, affecting to read one of her favorite tales about some wooden dolls.
