Home Ceremony Chosen For Wedding

Miss Edith Adelaide Hall is united in marriage to J. Wayne Dillard.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Hall, of 555 North Holliston Avenue, was the scene of a charming wedding last evening. When their daughter, Miss Edith Adelaide Hall, was united in marriage to J. Wayne Dillard, a well-known Pasadena business man.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. W. C. Loomis, former pastor of the immediate families of the contracting parties only.

The bride was attended by her sister-in-law, Mrs. Walter Hall, as matron of honor, and her little niece, Margaret Hall, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hall, acted as flower girl.

Walter Hall, the brother of the San Francisco bride, acted as Mr. Dillard's best man.

The bride was charmingly gowned in a frock of real lace, in a cream shade, made over pink satin and carried a shyer bouquet of Cecil Brinker roses.

The little flower girl was very dandified and cunning in a frock of blue organdy and carried a basket of rose petals, which she scattered in the path of the bride.

The rooms were charmingly decorated with a profusion of pink and white summer flowers and greenery, and the music for the wedding furnished by Miss Pearl Loomis, who played the violin accompaniment of Carl Dillard, and by Mrs. Rebecca Dillard, who rendered incidental music during the evening.

Following the ceremony there was an informal reception during which a buffet supper was served.

Mr. and Mrs. Dillard are taking an automobile trip of two weeks with Mr. Dillard as their destination and will later be at home to their friends at 451 North Lake Avenue. Clipping from the Pasadena, Cal. Evening Post.

Births, Marriages and Deaths are now charged for at the following rates: Births, 25c; Marriages, 25c; Deaths, 25c; Memorial Cards, 50c. 10c. per line extra for poems.

Evils of Cigarette Smoking

Following is the list of prizes:...

These quotations of the opinions and observations of men of Science and of the Railroads, Factories, Courts of Law and Education, to say nothing of others who might be quoted to show that the cigarette is a dangerous enemy of the physical and moral welfare of youth. The State of Utah, U. S. A., has recently prohibited the sale of cigarettes within its borders. May we do likewise.

The cigarette! the cigarette! The cigarette our foe; With diligence we'll drive it out. The cigarette must go. Exterminate! exterminate! Exterminate our foe; We'll agitate, we'll legislate. The cigarette must go.
