In Memoriam

McFADDEN— In affectionate memory of Leonard McFadden, who gave his life in action near Hill 70, on August 25th, 1917.

In Memoriam

FINDLAY— In loving remembrance of our dear mother, Mrs. William Findlay, who departed this life September 14th, 1920.

She suffered patiently and long,
Her hope was bright, her faith was strong,
The peace of Jesus filled her breast
And in His arms she sank to rest.

We, who love thee, sadly miss thee.
As it dawns another year;
In our lonely hours of thinking,
Thoughts of thee are ever near.

Son James, Sisters and Brothers.

Presbyterian Church Notes

TEMPLE HILL

There was a large congregation at Temple Hill Presbyterian Church a week ago Sunday evening. The Rev. John Lennox preached on "The Church of the Living God." In referring to the Apostles' Creed, he asked the question: "When you say: 'I believe in the Holy Catholic Church' what do you mean?" The words "Holy Catholic" have been so much applied, he said, to the "Church of Rome" that a great proportion of people have come to think of the Catholic Church and the Church of Rome as meaning one and the same thing. Mr. Lennox went on to show that the word "Catholic" was derived from the Greek word [illegible] which means [illegible] to [illegible] a man who [illegible] the Roman Catholic [illegible] him upon [illegible] subject he will tell me that the "Holy Catholic Church" was in existence in the Isles of Britain long [illegible] are the "Church of Rome" or the Pope was thought and that there is an unbroken line of history from that time up till the present to [illegible] about the continuity of the "Catholic Church" and [illegible] Henry VIII, Cranmer and all the bishops who left the "Church of Rome" at the reformation, they simply came back to the true Catholic Apostolic Church." Mr. Lennox went on to show that both these great [illegible] were using the word Catholic in a limited sense and creating sectarianism out of the word "Catholic." He went on to show that all Christians could claim to be Catholic Church [illegible] of belonging to [illegible] Church [illegible] of being [illegible] Church [illegible] of being [illegible] Church [illegible] of being
