HOLLAND CENTRE. On Wednesday evening, Nov. 9th, about thirty young people of St. Paul's Church, Dornoch, assembled at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Givens, of this place, and after spending an hour in the usual social intercourse, an explanation of the surprise party was given, when Mrs. Givens was asked to come forward. While an address was read by Mr. Michael Casey, and at the appropriate time, Mrs. Givens was presented with a beautiful chime mantel clock, in appreciation of her success as organist in the church. Mrs. Givens also thanked the guests for the honor they had conferred and hoped they would have an enjoyable time on the occasion of their first visit with them. The remainder of the evening was spent in music and dancing, and after a dainty lunch was served, the guests departed for their various homes. Following is the address: Dear Friend: My friends and neighbors, have assembled here this evening to show some token of our appreciation for you, who have been among us for many years, and who have taken an active part in the social affairs of our vicinity and your presence will be greatly missed. As organist for five years of St. Paul's Church, Dornoch, you have won our respect and gratitude, as you were always willing to do your part, even if it were inconvenient sometimes to do so. Although we regret your absence, we know that what is our loss is others gain. We wish you to accept this clock, which we know you will value, not for its intrinsic value, but because it expresses in a small degree the high esteem in which you were held in our community. You have now taken upon yourself new duties, and it is our earnest wish that God will bless you in your new home and we hope you and Mr. Givens will have many happy years in the future. Signed—Leonard Welsh, Wilfred Vasey, W. Kenny, Mr. Frank Hamilton, who has been up north hunting, returned home on Saturday, bringing a large deer and a young bear with him. Mr. and Mrs. D. Telford spent Thanksgiving with friends at Jessopville. Miss Annie Telford, of Oshawa, is visiting her home here. Messrs. Holley and Troughton have erected a first-class slaughter house on Mr. Sparrow's farm, on the bank of the river. Mrs. Herbert, of Owen Sound, spent a few days last week with her mother, Mrs. Price. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Brunstetter, who have been visiting the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Walker, left for their home in Shanoken, Penn. U.S., on Saturday. Mrs. Fred Stafford has purchased the corner house in Williamsford, and has moved his family into it. Mr. Ed. Givens has moved into the house recently occupied by Mr. Stafford. This Voters' Lists are posted up. See that your name is on.

OUR BEST

Walt Mason says: "If every man would do his best, whatever his task may be, existence would be trebly blessed, this would be a sight to see. Most all the troubles that we know would quickly fade away, and if you wished a slice of woe you'd have to hunt all day. No bums would fill the prison cells or in the alleys rest, for all men would be wearing bells if each one did his best. The Toller would not cuss the plute nor would the plute ruse, but for each other they would root, with friendship as a bond. The thieves would quit their vain careers, which get them in the hole and put in their repentant years restoring what they stole. And all the sinful tricks of trade would travel galley west—there'd be no tar in marmalade. If each man did his best. This life would be a grand, sweet song, a joy ride in a car; our duets would last us twice as long, our grub go twice as far; there'd be no business for the cops, the slouts would be undone; the 'poorest' man could buy his hops and raisins by the ton. We do not toil with proper zest to earn our weekly pay; we do not strive to do our best, but watch the clock all day; we're all afraid we'll do too much, as we get our hammers swung, and so we've got the world in Dutch, and chafed at everything.
