Municipal Nominations

MARKDALE
The court room in the public library was well filled on Monday night by a representative audience of ratepayers. The following were nominated as candidates for 1922:—For Reeve, Messrs. J. A. McArthur, F. T. Hill and A. Jackson. For Councilors, Messrs. A. E. Colgan, Dr. Shepherdson, A. McEachnie, Wm. Jackson, T. H. Reburn and W. G. Lee; and for School Trustees, Messrs. J. H. Stephenson, Geo. Atton, J. R. Armstrong, J. W. Lyons, A. E. Colgan, John Padden, W. L. Young and R. G. Noble. After the hour for nominating had expired, Police Magistrate M. Armstrong, Esq., took the chair and the meeting was opened with an appropriate address, after which the management and lack of management of the past year was ably and intelligently set forth by Mr. Hill, Dr. McArthur and Reeve Jackson, also a report of the Hydro Dept. by Mr. Wm. Walker, and an instructive explanation of the change in cemetery management together with the proposed Soldiers' Memorial by Dr. Campbell, vice-chairman of the Cemetery Board. The meeting closed with the National Anthem vigorously sung. The following qualified and will form the Village Council for 1922:—Reeve, Dr. J. A. McArthur; Councilors, A. McEachnie, W. G. Lee, T. H. Reburn, A. E. Colgan; School Trustees, J. R. Armstrong, J. W. Lyons; for one year (to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of W. J. Bowes), R. G. Noble. It looked very much as though a new nomination would be necessary in order to secure enough members to form a council, but at the last minute, against their own wishes, the four named above qualified. It's not a good sign when candidates are so hard to secure that they accept office only in order to save the town the expense of a new nomination. If the Council elected can create enough interest during the year to make the ratepayers anxious to get rid of them at the end of their term of office then they will have accomplished something at least.

Kimberley Memorial Hall

Friday, Dec. 15th, 1921, was a "Red Letter Day" in Kimberley when the dedication of the new community Memorial Hall and the unveiling of the memorial tablet took place. The dedication service and unveiling ceremony, commenced at 4 p.m., being conducted by Revs. J. R. Wilkinson, J. Thurby-Conn, E. N. Doves, C. McQuillan, J. S. Veals (chairman) and Col. G. D. Fleming. Mrs. Jas. Lawrence and Mr. Perkins (In the dedication address Rev. J. R. Wilkinson called attention to the four corners of every community, viz., the school, the home, the hall, (i.e., the community centre) and the church. The speaker drew attention to the fact that no well-meaning, public spirited citizen could well neglect any of these and if we neglected any of these and the interests they stood for then to that extent the soldiers had fought and died in vain.

Col. Fleming's address was preparatory to the unveiling of the tablet and was full of feeling and ranked of a high order.
Mrs. James Lawrence, mother of one of the fallen heroes, unveiled the tablet and Mr. Perkins sounded the "Last Post." At the conclusion of the service a town supper was served. Commencing at 7:45 the evening programme consisted of some musical numbers both vocal and instrumental, readings and addresses. The Markdale Orchestra delighted the audience with their music and Misses Jackson, Perkins, Henry and Walker added numbers in vocal and instrumental. The Kimberley Quartet also gave two numbers.
During the evening short speeches were made by Col. Fleming, Col. Cameron, M.P.P., Major Ferguson, Reeve Brown, of Collingwood Township, Councilors Hutchinson and Erskine, of Ruphrasia, Dr. J. F. McKee, Mrs. Thompson, Dist. Pres. of Women's Institute and Rev. Conn gave an address. Mr. Paterson, comedian from Owen Sound, gave several interesting numbers.
Rev. J. R. Wilkinson, on request by Rev. Veals, consented to act as chairman and filled that role satisfactorily.
Communications expressing regrets at their inability to attend were received from Col. McFarland, I. B. Lucas, Mr. Doherty, Minister of Agriculture, the Warden of Grey County and Matt R. Duncan, member elect.
Many congratulations were tendered to the people of Kimberley and district in securing such a commodious hall as a splendid and appropriate soldier memorial effort. With-out doubt it excels any similar community effort in a wide wide radius. The Hall is complete with dining-room, kitchenette, furnace room, library, reading room and an auditorium which seats 350 or over. The stage is equipped with side dressing rooms and a handsome curtain.

The Red and Black Tattler

High School Entertainment
On last Thursday evening, Dec. 22nd, the Literary Society of Markdale High School gave a splendid entertainment. Those who saw it were enthusiastic in their praises, and were anxious to have it repeated.
The boys gave a very creditable exhibition of their physical drill, and the girls of the school put on two drills, a waltz and a hoop drill, both of which were very pretty and were well received.
Miss Pearl Newton, elocutionist and humorous entertainer, delighted the audience with her readings. Miss Newton can change her facial expression and her voice to suit the most exacting numbers and was particularly happy in her imitation work. She will be well received should she ever return to Markdale.
Miss Jean Currie also reserved special credit for her excellent recitation of "Wolverine".
A cornet solo with encore by Jack Perkins delighted the audience. Other musical number were an instrumental by Miss Edith Armstrong, a solo by Miss Myriell Walker, a chorus by the school, and a character song by a number of the boys dressed in sailor garb, all of which were well rendered and well received.
Two pretty dances were put on, one a waltz and the other a minuet. The success of the evening was due to the excellent management of the Red and Black Tattler, and the other members of the staff. This edition consisted of poems, jokes and literary articles contributed by the students.
The accompanists were Miss Edith Armstrong and Mr. J. Dunlop, who contributed in a small measure to the success of the entertainment.
