One of the measures adopted by the Finance Department to bring the conversion proposals, which are now being widely advertised, to the attention of holders of 1922 Victory Bonds was the mailing to registered holders of a copy of the Minister's announcement. Over 100,000 bond holders were communicated with. Replies were not called for, as those who wish to continue their investment are asked to surrender their bonds to any Branch of any Chartered Bank signifying the maturity of the new bonds desired and obtaining receipt on the official form provided. Nevertheless, there have been many replies. Everything has been so satisfactory that I would like the investment to continue, wrote one holder and there have been many letters of like tenor from persons who became investors in bonds for the first time in 1917.

Mr. Editor:—
It is the bad boy who makes the bad man, the criminal and gives employment to the hangman. Nine cases out of ten it is the parents who should swing for neglecting to restrain the boy who starts out to be bad.
By-law 57 reads "No person shall cast, throw or project any stone, ball of snow or other missile injurious to the public in any street within the Village."
Still we have boys here who deliberately throw stones through windows, thereby breaking the law and leaving themselves liable to fine or imprisonment and the worst part of it is that the parents of these boys, even when appealed to, make no apology for them, and as far as is known, make no effort to chastise them. This is how the criminal is made and why the hangman is employed.
Anxious Citizen.
