A marriage of interest here was that which took place at Vancouver when Mrs. Emma Wright was married to Mr. Andrew A. Logan, of that city. The bride resided here a few years ago with her former husband, the late Professor Everett Wright, who was choir leader and organist in the Methodist Church.

The services in the churches here on Sunday were in keeping with Christmas Day, the sermons delivered and music rendered being appropriate to the joyous season. At the Presbyterian church the pastor preached the anniversary sermon to the Sunday School; with a large congregation present. At the evening service in the Methodist church, filled to the doors, beautiful lantern slides of Palestine and the life of Jesus were shown.

At School Section No. 3, east of the village, Miss Deatty, teacher, a very successful closing concert was given on Friday evening last. The program was varied and pleasing. The proceeds, $27.00, were in behalf of the fire sufferers in the North. Ceylon school, Miss Lewis teacher, and the Durham Road school, Miss McMillan, teacher, also had pleasing closing entertainments. At Flesherton Public school closing on Friday last, Principal R. G. Holland was presented by the pupils in his room with a very neat gold Masonic emblem pin, and Miss Nelson, in the primary room, was presented by her pupils with a handsome set.

The Methodist Mission Band were entertained at a Christmas party at the home of the President, Mrs. E. C. Murray, on Wednesday evening last, when 27 were present. Jolly old Santa Claus was there too and made fun for the young folk. A pretty and well laden Christmas Tree was of much interest. The joy of giving, instead of receiving, had been instilled in the minds of the young folk, and contributions from them in behalf of heathen children in foreign lands amounted to $11.00.

The old English custom of carol singing on Christmas morning, in vogue here some years ago, but for some time neglected, was revived this year when at midnight on Sunday fifteen singers, led by two cornetists, marched through the village rendering joyous Christmas music, enjoyed by all who heard it.

By a letter received last week, we were sorry to learn of the serious illness of the esteemed wife of Mr. John Anderson, of Manor, Sask., formerly of Orange Valley, Artemesia. Mrs. Anderson underwent a critical operation in Regina Hospital, but came through it safely and is now reported improving.
