Flesherton
(Special to The Standard)

Under most favourable weather conditions the Battle of the Boyne was very successfully celebrated here on the "12th" at the Grey County celebration. Early in the forenoon visitors began to arrive and continued until the crowd was estimated at fully seven thousand, the largest celebration ever held here. Special trains from Owen Sound and the South brought large numbers, but the major part of the crowd came by the hundreds of cars which were parked throughout the village. The day passed without mishap to the pleasure and the very best of order prevailed. Constables conducted traffic at the congested points. The streets and residences everywhere were in holiday attire, artistically decorated with flags, pennants, streamers, bunting, and evergreens. The old time arches were dispensed with so as not to impede traffic or cause danger. Praise was general that Flesherton excelled in her welcome to the visitors and in provision made for the comfort and entertainment of all. Splendid meals and plenty were provided by the hotels, the Women's Institute, the Presbyterian and Baptist ladies and many booths, all well patronized. Many families picnicked and enjoyed the noon and rest hour in that way. At 1:30 the lodges, about thirty, assembled at the High School, from where the grand march, in which eleven hundred Orangemen took part, took place through the principal streets to the Memorial Park, where the speaking was held. County Mayor Everard Walker presided and excellent addresses were given by Revs. O. J. Shollburne, Spencer, of Dundalk, Douglas, of Kemble, and Hon. I. B. Lucas, of Toronto. Mr. Lucas spoke at length and excelled in the masterly, patriotic address he delivered. Mr. Spencer, who, during the war, gave a recruiting address here, paid a worthy tribute to the late Richard Wilcock, who at that time recruited here, but who later lost his life on the battle field. The parade, marshalled by four riders on prancing white horses, was led by Dundalk Band, and besides the numerous fire and drum bands, music was furnished by Owen Sound Salvation Army Band, Markdale Band and Highland pipe bands from Owen Sound, Markdale and Swinton Park. First in the procession was Owen Sound Ladies' True Blue Lodge, followed by the Ladies' Orange B. A. Lodges at Maxwell and Feversham. Following these came four lodges from Owen Sound, then the lodges at Sarawak, Berkeley, Chatsworth, Corbetton, Instidoke, Dundalk, Swinton Park, Ventry, Maxwell, Feversham, Hatherston, Kingscote, Robt Roy, Melanethon, Protection, Orange Valley, Markdale, Eugenia, Fourth Line, Valdeleur, Flesherton. At the speaking addresses were interspersed with selections by Markdale and Owen Sound Bands and Swinton Park and Owen Sound Pipe Bands. In the competition the Sarawak Lodge was given the prize for coming the longest distance. Corbetton for the best dress, and Feversham for best fire and drum band. The judges were D. Ellis, Hydro Electric, Eugenia, and E. Osborne, of the Agricultural Grounds. A splendid baseball match between Owen Sound and Flesherton teams was won by the former, the score being 6-4. A football match between Owen Sound and Feversham was won by the latter, score 1-0. The gate receipts were $530. In the evening a successful concert was given in the High School, the program being put on by the Williams Concert Company of Toronto. Proceeds were $175. After meeting expenses the local lodge, which spared no pains in making the celebration a success, will have a nice sum in the treasury. The Women's Institute, in behalf of the Soldiers' Memorial, took in nearly $500; the Presbyterian Ladies' Aid $314, and the Baptist Young Ladies, the hotels and all others who catered did a good business. The Town Hall was filled at the picture show at night.

The history of material progress is based on a substitution of non-fatiguing machinery for human labor wherever possible.

No man can in the world give ready to the hand such an extraordinary aid to making sales as is afforded by the Long Distance Press in Canada and the United States.

"Men suffer," said Charles Darwin, the great scientist, "less in capacity than in their determination to use the power they have."

Are you denying the fullest advantage from Long Distance service? We can make you a report on how Long Distance can be used successfully in almost any business to increase sales.
