Barnabas the Great-Hearted. Acts 4: 36, 37; 9: 26-30; 19: 30; 12: 25, 13: 1 to 15; 12: 35-41; Gal. 2: 11.

Golden Text.—He was a good man, and full of the Ghost and of faith. Acts 11: 24.

LESSON SETTING. This week we study the life of another of the great characters of the early church. Barnabas is translated to mean "The son of consolation." Mostit translated it through his character and his filled life. Many people were filled with grace—both the Barnabas full of translation. He had a discerning mind and a warm heart.

III. BARNABAS OFFERS A GREAT GIFT. Acts 11: 26-30.

V. 25-28. Then departed Paul for Tarsus, where Saul had safety from Jerusalem. From Antioch, Barnabas went to Antioch, a great field for wheat; where during the winter, the farmer fields are like a great death. He foretold many History confirms this prophecy. The same prophet foretold the imprisonment of Paul in Jerusalem, Acts 21: 11.

V. 29-30. The disciples minded to send relief to the church of Antioch, which was unanxious to be given. According to his ability, Paul offered his services, and found a great number of people who had been vaccinated against the irritating agent.

VI. BARNABAS ENCOURAGES A GREAT WORK. Acts 11: 19-24.

V. 19. They which were scattered abroad, Phoenicia. The death of Stephen was followed by violent persecution, in which Saul was the leader. But the advocates of the treatment claim that helpful results are obtainable even when the treatment is not begun until the attack has developed.

VI. 20-21. They which were scattered abroad, Phoenicia. The death of Stephen was followed by violent persecution, in which Saul was the leader. But the advocates of the treatment claim that helpful results are obtainable even when the treatment is not begun until the attack has developed.
