Mr. and Mrs. F. H. W. Hickling and Mrs. S. D. Clarke made a visit to Owen Sound on Monday. The latter left on Tuesday to join her husband at Ottawa after an extended visit here.

Mr. G. A. McTavish spent the week-end with his wife and little son visiting at Oshawa.

Mr. W. T. Hodgson, of Islington, was a visitor here over the week-end. Mrs. Hodgson and little daughter accompanied him and remained to visit the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. V. Trimble.

Mrs. (Riv.) Lowndes, who is visiting her daughter, Mrs. (Dr.) Murray, met with a nasty accident last week when in the darkness she fell down stairs and was bruised and severely shaken up. She is recovering nicely from the shock.

Mrs. W. A. Armstrong gave an enjoyable afternoon tea about twenty of her lady friends in town on Saturday.

The Methodist Mission Band had a very pleasant outing on Saturday afternoon last at a picnic held in the Memorial Park.

A number from here attended Shelburne Fair last week and report a big crowd and a good show.

After the summer vacation, there was a large attendance at the meeting of Prince Arthur Lodge A. F. & A. M. on Friday evening last when the newly installed Master, Wor. Bro. A. Sinclair, and his officers got work well under way. Wor. Bro. C. J. Bell, any representative to Grand Lodge, gave his report. The Lodge will attend services in the Methodist Church Maxwell next Sunday evening.

Mr. A. Shackelford and Mr. Gordon Watling are both able to get out again after illness with pneumonia but the latter's one year old son, Elmer, is now ill with the same.

Mr. W. A. Armstrong is now fitting up an apartment for a residence over the office formerly occupied by the late R. J. Sproule.

Lieut. Col. and Mrs. J. E. Hansford of Winnipeg, announce the marriage of their second daughter, Myrtle Regan, to Mr. John M. Duff, of that city, on Friday, September 14th, 1923.

Relatives and friends here of the esteemed young bride, wish her many years of wedded bliss. The young couple are on their honeymoon, visiting New York, Toronto, and other cities.

Rev. L. J. Henry, M. A., B. D., of Toronto, a young minister of much promise, preached an able sermon in the Presbyterian Church on Sunday.

Rev. H. H. Bairdett, of Cookstown, was announced to preach next Sunday.

In the absence of Rev. H. H. Eaton conducting anniversary services at Inlet next Sunday morning, Mr. W. Brooks, of Shelburne, will supply the pulpit.

Mr. John Thislethwaite and family and Miss Elizabeth Bentham visited friends at Owen Sound on Sunday.

Mr. W. L. Young, of Markdale, gave us a pleasant call on Monday.

Miss Ethel Gilchrist, bride-to-be, was showered by her numerous friends at her home on Monday evening, when a very jolly time was spent by the large company who gathered to convey good wishes to the popular young lady. By the ladies of the village she was presented with a beautiful mantle clock and pieces of aluminumware. From the Presbyterian Guild and Sunday School she was given a silver coil meat fork and pie server in the Adams design.

Mr. Chas. McDowell, C. E., of Owen Sound, was here on Monday and Tuesday surveying and staking the plots in the new addition to the cemetery ground.

Mr. Herb. Smith and family, of Owen Sound, spent Sunday with relatives here.

The friends here, of the anxious parents, earnestly hope the little one may be saved.

Traverston

(Special to The Standard)

The glory of the tree tops has been Saturday and Sunday were real September days—the fortnight preceding jumped in from November.

Rally Day is to be observed in old Traverston next Sunday afternoon.

Mr. Wm. Frith suffered from a light stroke last Wednesday morning, but is recovering.

Quite a few fields of late sweet clover are still out in stock. It is yielding well this season.

Miss Emma Atkinson, of Durham suburbs, spent the week-end at the Edwards' home.

Miss E. J. Allan was a guest of the Traylor family in Durham at the close of the week.

Mr. and Mrs. Everett Henry, of Flesherton, spent an evening with us last week and wrote up a $2000 policy in the Imperial Life on one of the boys. Everett is making good in the "Policy Getting" business.

Mr. W. A. Armstrong's sawing gang have made quick work of the big pile of logs in the yard on the 6th, having wound up operations on Thursday evening. We are told they have handled nearly 1000 ties and upwards of 100,000 feet of lumber.

Mrs. George Robertson, of Molesworth, is up again assisting to nurse her father, Mr. John Greenwood, who isn't improving in health.

Threshing machines seem to be so numerous this season that it is no uncommon thing to see two or three hustling away within a mile.

Mr. Kleist and Mr. Archie McArthur are doing good work along the 10th and 12th cons., while O'Neill Bros. and Owen Peart are making the sheaves fly along the 6th and 8th. Talk of separators lasting only a few years, the O'Neill Bros. are using one 24 years old, and she swallows the peas and oat bundles three times as fast as in her early days, and looks good for many years yet to come.

The O'Connor Bros. have a two-story cottage erected on their farm, and the roof almost on. The size is 26'x28', and well laid out. Mr. Sheriff Henry is the carpenter, and that means the work is neatly and tastefully done. The boys are giving a helping hand, and the work will be rushed so as to be ready for occupancy this winter.

Miss Bridget Dulan, eldest daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Dulan, passed away suddenly in Toronto at 3:30 on Saturday, from acute indigestion. She was one of Glinel's most highly esteemed and popular daughters, coming with her parents from New Hampshire, N. H., when but a child six-two years of age. The family settled on lot 11, and it and the home was noted for its hospitality, and the deceased was one of the home's brightest spirits, famed for her brilliant wit and repartee, as well as her home-making qualities. After growing into womanhood, she ran a large rooming house in Fort William for upwards of a score of years, but sold out two years ago and moved to Toronto. Last winter she suffered from an attack of the flu, which weakened a very robust constitution. The casket was brought up on the noon train on Monday, accompanied by her brother, Thomas, and other kindred, and conveyed to the home of her sister, Mrs. Ed. Norris. Interment took place in St. John's cemetery on Tuesday morning, Rev. Father McGoff conducting requiem mass. The surviving members of the family of 11 children are: Thomas, in Toronto; Maurice, gold prospector in the West; Mrs. James Murphy and Mrs. Ed. Norris, of Glenora; to whom the sympathy of a wide circle of friends is extended.

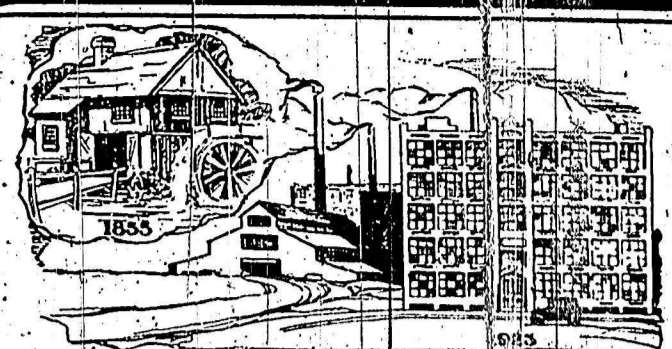

Wodehouse

(Special to The Standard)

Gentilly turns the shades of autumn to colors of red, yellow and brown. We were very sorry to have omitted last Mr. and Mrs. Robert Clarke attended the funeral of Mrs. Thompson of Alliston, sister of Mrs. Clarke. She became rather ill, and had to remain to the end of the week.

Messrs. Alvin Sewell and Walter Roache attended the Exhibition at Clarksburg on Wednesday.

Mr. Everett Walker and friend, Mr. McDonald, were in this vicinity on Tuesday looking for a good rabbit

The confidence of a banker

Mr. T. A. Gilray, was in this vicinity a few days last week and turned out some jobs in a hurry with his threshing outfit.

Mr. T. J. Fawcett will again attend the Fairs at Caledon and Dundalk this present week.

The Ministers' Convention, held in New England Church on Tuesday, of last week, was a decided success. The speech given by Rev. Mr. Spencer on the hardships brought about by the three fires in Haltonbury and about that place was splendid, as also were the speeches and addresses by numerous other members on various topics.

Keep your roads open shut Tuesday mornings (stock day), would be a good slogan for many farmers, as the sheep farmers' driving cattle along the roads, which can't be helped, if you haven't got a gate, start in to manufacture one some of these anonymous wet days, or please some hardware merchant by placing an order for one that will look fancy and last longer.—Ed.

Mr. and Mrs. James Kirkpatrick spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. John Harps, of St. Vincent.
