Light snows and heavy frosts are beginning to be common occurrences now. Yet the winter season is quite a way off and it will give us all a fair chance to get accustomed to the cold weather we shall get then by coming in regular degrees.

Almost everybody took in the big fair at Rocklyn and the exhibits in livestock were excellent, the weather, by chance, being good. All report a nice time. Those who remained for the programme at night speak highly of the play, "The Last Leaf," which was given by the Ebenezer Society. The exhibit for the Worst Turn-out was enjoyable arousing much laughter and cheers from the crowd. The representation of it was an old couple from Texas displaying a sign on the back of their buckboard. "Everybody comes to Rocklyn fair from Texas."

A bad accident occurred on Monday of last week on the farm of Mr. James Kirkpatrick when their little colt slipped and fell while playing and broke its front leg near the knee, putting it out of joint also. Dr. Shepherdson was summoned but it was found necessary to kill the little fellow. Sympathy is extended to Jim whose loss in livestock during the past year or so has been heavy.

We are sorry to state the illness of Mr. James Kirkpatrick (Sr.) who has been confined to his bed for some time. It is hoped a bad cold turned later to pneumonia of the head but he is recovering.

Misses Harold and Cecil Foxwell spent their day with the "elder" of the "Bee" at the farm. They are employed by Mrs. White who is growing a fine crop of fruit near Waterloo Falls.

Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Egan, of the "Bee" are numerous lovers of the "Bee" and as to what they are going to do after the fair is over, they are not sure.
