Death of Rev. A. E. Thompson, M. A.

well known missionary to Palestine, passed away peacefully at his home in Nyack, N. Y., Rev. A. E. Thompson, M. A., who for twenty years was a worker of the Christian and Missionary Alliance, returned home to be with his family in Spring Valley, N. Y. He had been in the Missionary Institute at Nyack. He was greatly loved by the staff and students. Although Mr. Thompson was born at Avenmore, Bruce County, and spent most of his boyhood years near Fleshton, he began his education in the Orange Valley School and later took his High School in Owen Sound. He entered Orillia. He continued his studies in the University of Toronto, Knox College and the Missionary Training Institute at Nyack, the latter taking his post graduate course. In New York University, Jewish Mission Field, where Mr. Thompson continued his studies, and some time later took his degree of Master of Arts. He wrote much regarding the theme of his life, the Jew and the Gospel, some of his works being published in book form. During his early years in Palestine, Mr. Thompson contributed occasional letters to The Times, always full of interest and telling more of what had been accomplished than of the difficulties which constantly beset him there. His work was ended with his fifty-third year, but it is not too much to say that he accomplished more in his comparatively brief career than many will much greater opportunities do in a long life time. Kindly, genial, zealous, preserving, his memory will always be tenderly cherished by those who knew him in the earlier or later years. He sought to do it for the glory of God and his influence has not ceased with his removal from the restrictions and limitations of earthly life.

In 1903 he sailed for Palestine as Superintendent of the interest and telling more of what had been accomplished than of the difficulties which constantly beset him there. His work was ended with his fifty-third year, but it is not too much to say that he accomplished more in his comparatively brief career than many will much greater opportunities do in a long life time. Mr. Thompson is survived by his widow and five children: John D., a student at Yale University; Faith, Margaret, Grace, Albert, Fleming and Robert Samuel, all of Nyack; also one sister, Mrs. E. O. Jago, of Jerusalem, Palestine, and one brother, J. J. Thompson, 46 Highview Crescent, Toronto. A large number of cousins also survive, among whom the following still reside in this locality: Mrs. F. J. Ritchie, Mrs. John Graham, Mrs. Wm. Burnett and Mrs. Jos. McKee.

The funeral was held in Nyack on January 3rd at 3 p.m.

An Appreciation from the Orillia Times

The older generation of students at the Orillia High School will recall with interest the days when A. E. Thompson was a student there. He came to Orrillia just a lad with the desire to qualify for entrance to the University, the better to fit himself for his life's work, but at that time did not dream that his mission was in far off Palestine. As a student he impressed those who knew him that he had the determination to succeed in anything he undertook, and he was never daunted at the bigness of the task. Nurtured in a godly home it was only natural that he should find a place also in the church life of the community, and while in Orillia he was closely associated with the young people's work of the Presbyterian Church, and in the Young Men's Christian Association. Going from Orillia to Knox College, he returned home on and spent a summer or two as student missionary at Ardtrea and Wahnapitae, and did much lasting work there. When a few years later it was learned that he had offered himself for service as a missionary to the Jews in Palestine, it was not a surprise to his friends in Orillia, who knew that he was ever ready to undertake a big task. Quiet and unassuming, he was at the same time strong in faith and a keen student of prophecy. He was optimistic of the plan and place God had in the world for his peculiar people, the Jew. After entering upon his mission in Palestine, he continued assembling material which he had gathered for the breaking soil in which Mr. Thompson contributed occasional letters to The Times, always full of interest and telling more of what had been accomplished than of the difficulties which constantly beset him there. His work was ended with his fifty-third year, but it is not too much to say that he accomplished more in his comparatively brief career than many will much greater opportunities do in a long life time. Kindly, genial, zealous, preserving, his memory will always be tenderly cherished by those who knew him in the earlier or later years. He sought to do it for the glory of God and his influence has not ceased with his removal from the restrictions and limitations of earthly life.

Death came unexpectedly to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jos. H. Watson, Mount Zion, Artemesia, on Monday morning, January 14th, when their second daughter, Lavina, passed suddenly away with heart failure at the early age of 26 years. Miss Watson was born at Mount Zion and was an exemplary young woman, beloved in her home and in the community. She was zealous in Christian service and was a devoted member of Mt. Zion Methodist Church, Choir and Sunday School where her presence and talents will be missed. The funeral took place to Mt. Zion Cemetery on Wednesday afternoon and the large attendance in the rain showed the deep sympathy felt for the bereft family. Many were unable to gain admission to the Church where an impressive service was conducted by the pastor, Rev. Mr. Duffield, and the Jackson Brothers, evangelists. One of the latter, who preached the sermon, and Miss Kirk sang touching solos. Many beautiful floral tributes were given by the family and sympathizing friends. Besides the parents five brothers and one sister survive and were at the funeral, namely, Robert and wife, near Dundalk; Edward and wife and Arthur and wife, Toronto, and Clarence, Dinsmore and Pearl at home. Others from a distance were, Mr. M. McKenzie, Mrs. Hall and daughter, Miss Eagle, Toronto; Mr. George Watson, Vaughan, and Mrs. John Watson, Laskey, together with numerous relatives from near by points.

Miscellaneous Shower

On Monday evening, December 31, about 70 friends and neighbors of Mr. and Mrs. Seth Henning, 4th Line Euphrasia, met at their home carrying with them the necesary gifts for a miscellaneous shower. The evening was spent in dancing and as the old year was passing out the bride and groom were called to the dining room when the gifts were displayed and the following address read by Miss M. E. Logan:

To Mr. and Mrs. Seth Henning:—

Seth and Freda:—

We your friends and neighbors, having heard of the recent plunge you have taken into the mysterious sea called Matrimony, have called this evening to give you some sage advice, which, of course, will not be followed, but by giving it we will relieve our minds and ease our consciences.

Freda a good many husbands are utterly spoiled by mismanagement. Some people proceed as if their husbands were bladders and blow them up. Others keep them constantly in hot water. Others let them freeze by their carelessness and indifference. Some keep them in a stew by their irritating way and worry. Others roast them. Some keep them in a pickle all their lives. It cannot be supposed that any husband will be tender and good if managed in this way. But if properly treated even a 4th line boy may become really delicious. The following is a tested receipt for cooking husbands:

A preserving kettle of finest porcelain is best, but if you have nothing but an earthenware pipkin it will do with care. See that the linen that you wrap him in is nicely washed and mended with the required number of buttons and strings tightly sewed on. Tie him in the kettle by a strong silk cord called comfort as the one called duty is apt to be weak. Make a clear steady fire out of love, neatness and cheerfulness. Set him as near this as seems to agree with him. If he sputters and fizzles do not be anxious as some husbands do this until they are nearly done. Add a little sugar in the form of what confectioners call kisses, but no vinegar nor pepper on any account. A little spice improves him but it must be used with judgement. Do not stick any sharp instrument into him to see if he is becoming tender, stir him gently and you can not fail to know when he is done. If thus treated you will find him very relishable dressing nicely with you and he will keep as long as you want him unless you become careless and set him in too cool a place.

In case you decide to try our recipe and should find it difficult to procure the necessary equipment we have brought with us some articles which we hope will be of value in making your life work a success as well as to remind you of the cords of friendship which we hope will not be severed now or ever. Please accept these with our sincere wishes for a long life filled with joy and happiness. Signed on behalf of the friends and neighbors.

Jack Ormsby
Hadley Holmes

Seth made a suitable reply after which a dainty lunch was served, including some of the wedding cake. In the "we sma" hours the company dispersed all feeling that they had been well repaid for their trip through the storm and with all good wishes to their host and hostess.
