The greatest need of public school music it. Canada is a closer contact with real music. To-day, there is too much talking about music and not enough husic first hand. The teacher who spends four-fifths of the music period thaching scales building, names of keys, and other technical problems, instead of teaching children to sing beautiful songs that will result in creating a lasting eagerness for more singing, has lost sight of her objective. If a half hour a day were given to music, more time might be allowed for the teacher of music theory; but One of the results of travel is to there must be more music in the few give the traveler to feel how many minutes allotted to us. sorts of people there are in the world.
