Train Hit Auto

Mr. and Mrs. James Rodman of Euphrasia had a mighty close call on Tuesday evening when the car in which they were riding was struck by the four o'clock train. They were driving west on the sidewalk at Berkeley and did not notice the approaching train until they were close to the track. Mr. Rodman, who was driving, put on the brakes but the distance was not short in which to stop and the auto got partly onto the track. The engine of the train struck the right front wheel, and turned the auto to one side. Mrs. Rodman was thrown out and fell to the ground between the moving train and the station platform. She was pretty badly shaken up and had several ribs broken. How she escaped more serious injury is a miracle. Mr. Rodman escaped unhurt. Dr. Ego was summoned and attended to Mrs. Rodman's injuries and she was removed to the home of Mrs. Doolittle in Berkeley where she is resting comfortably.
