M. H. S. Literary Society

The third meeting of the Literary Society of the Markdale High School was held in the Regent Theatre on Tuesday evening. An interesting and varied program, given by the students of the 1st and 2nd Forms, was thoroughly enjoyed by the large and appreciative audience. After the singing of two verses of the song, "O Canada," by all present, a short address was given by the chairman, Mr. Patrick O'Connor. The critic appointed for the evening was Mrs. P. McCullough. One of the most pleasing numbers was a solo by Miss Greta Elliott, followed by an interesting reading by Miss Lena Cooper. The next number, a chorus given by Misses I. English, M. Sullivan, E. Noble, and Messrs. J. Bushell, B. Parker, W. Alton, O. McLaughlin, E. Baker, J. Matthews and J. Noble, was well rendered.

A reading given by Anna Wilson was interesting and amusing. One of the best numbers was a dialogue, "Taking the Census," in which the capable characters were: Irene English, Will Erskine, Bill Dendas and Bob Parker."

A duet, "My Gallagher and My Sheen," sung by John Matthews and Jim Noble, brought down the house. A solo by Mary McEachnie, Margaret Sullivan and Eleanor Noble was well rendered and thoroughly enjoyed. The audience were then delighted by a humorous reading by Elsie York which described the adventures of A, B and C outside of Hanrahan Smith's Arithmetic.

The most educative number was a debate, "Resolved that a High School Education is preferable to $5,000. The affirmative was ably supported by Freda Mack and John Matthews and the negative side rightfully by Vina Wilson and Oliver McLaughlin. The judges were Miss Loughry, Mr. Morrison and Mr. Senger. After a chorus given by a number of girls the judge's decision was given in favour of the affirmative. A highly enlightening critic's report was given by Mrs. P. McCullough, followed by a short address by Mr. Morrison. The meeting closed by singing "God Save the King."

Abandoned the Baby

A baby boy about one year old was deserted at the Revere House here on Monday afternoon and up to the present the party responsible for the desertion has not been located. In the afternoon the crying of a baby attracted the attention of Miss Retta Kelley, who, on investigation, discovered the baby in a bed in one of the rooms upstairs. Supposing that the mother was out shopping and would return in due time for the child nothing much was thought of it until towards evening, when it was decided that it was a case of getting rid of the child. A woman with a child in her arms was seen coming from the depot after the arrival of the noon train but no person saw her in the hotel. The Provincial Police are investigating the matter and in the meantime Mrs. Hutchinson is caring for the baby for the Children's Aid Society, who will take it to the shelter in Owen Sound.

Death of Miss Eliza A. Irwin

At the old home in Artemesia township on Wednesday evening, April 1st, 1925, Miss Eliza A. Irwin, second daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Christopher Irwin, passed to the great beyond. The deceased was in her 66th year, having been born on the 27th day of December, 1859, and had spent all her life at the old home where she died. Though never of a very rugged constitution, she was always working to help others. Her's were the hands that ministered to father and mother in their declining years. It was the same loving kindness that soothed the brother's brow when racked with rheumatic fever for months at a time. With scarcely a moment for rest or sleep, these kindly actions were cheerfully given to secure for the loved one relief. Kindness and love were not confined to those of her own home, and the neighbor or stranger within the gates will long remember many kindly acts of the deceased. Hers was the true Christian whose character shone with the love of Christ. The late Miss Irwin is survived by one sister, Mrs. Thomas Bradley of Holland township, and six brothers, Thomas at Ceylon; Herbert in Markdale; James A., Christopher, John H. and Carter at home.

The funeral took place on Saturday, April 4th, to the Irwin Cemetery where the remains were laid to rest beside those of her father and mother. Rev. Dr. Gray conducted the services at the house and grave. The pallbearers were Messrs. John C. Henry, Jarvis Henry, James McLaughry, Henry McLaughry, John Davis and Bert Irwin.

When the morning breaks, and the glorious sun
Begins his daily reign,
We will think of thee, and we that glad morn
When we shall meet again.

We will pick up our burdens one by one,
And still we will think of thee;
Remembering your unselfish toil,
In the days that used to be.

The day wears on with its worries and cares,
Loved one we think of thee;
Of the looks you gave and the cheery words,
That meant so much from thee.

But the evening comes at last, at last,
And the sun sinks in the west;
Then we catch your smile, as in days gone by,
Though we know that you are blest.

We hear you say dear, do your best
Till life's day shall cease to be;
So we will be brave, for God in his love,
Still lets us think of thee.

Church Union

On March 31st, 1925, at 8:00 p.m. in the Department of Agriculture Building, Markdale, Ont., there was held a meeting of a Joint Committee representing the Presbyterian and Methodist congregations of Markdale. The members present were: Messrs. S. A. Morris, A. T. H. Wilson, H. Knott and J. G. Campbell of Cooke's Presbyterian Church and Messrs. W. L. Young, W. J. Cooke, J. E. Cooper, W. Armstrong and Roy N. Barnes of the Methodist Church. Dr. M. Armstrong was appointed Chairman and Dr. Campbell Secretary.

The Secretary read the enactments at length. With regard to the Methodist Congregation the meeting of the Joint Committee in order that, in this way, by part of the meeting and the proceedings might be clearly before the members present.

The Chairman expressed the mind of the Presbyterian Committee, as to place and suggestions that might be made before the Joint Committee for consideration.

Dr. J. G. Campbell expressed the regret of the Presbyterian Committee that the Methodist Committee had not been appointed by the Congregation but by the quarterly Official Board. The Chairman explained the appointment of the Committee was in keeping with the Methodist policy and the Committee was the choice of the Congregation.

A general discussion ensued as to the feasibility of uniting the congregations. The members of the Committee expressed the sentiment that it was not wise to bring about church union at present.

It was moved by Mr. J. A. Jackson, seconded by Mr. J. E. Cooper, that the meeting adjourn to meet again on the call of the Chairman. Carried.

In view of local difficulties which are more or less temporary in character and will, it is hoped, gradually disappear after June 10th, when Union in general will have been consummated, and in view of certain problems confronting the uniting churches in general which would only be accentuated by immediate local union, it is the judgement of the Joint Committee that it would be in the interests of both local congregations and the United Church of Canada to delay for the time being negotiations looking toward union of the two local congregations concerned.

Rev. F. N. Bowes and Dr. J. G. Campbell were appointed to draft official copies of these minutes including the proceeding resolution, for the signature of the Chairman and the files of the Congregational Committees.

M. Armstrong, Chairman
J. G. Campbell, Secretary.
