THE UNDERSTANDING HEART

By MARGARET CONN RHOADS

"I do not want you to question up. Perhaps even the boys might be what I say, Robert; if I tell you to interested in helping more with the garden work during the summer-time reason why," said a mother one day.

I wondered what the child thought. Did he get the idea, as many a child does, that because Mother was a big lady and he was a little boy, she could make him do things when ever she wanted to?

I heard a young mother say the other day, "Oh, I am so glad I don't understand Teddy, he is such a queer child." And I thought, "It would be much better for you to understand whether Teddy is a queer child or not."

I do not believe in the secretiveness of children, nor do I think they do not understand. Parents often do not realize that the child often has his own ideas and opinions.

"Let's shake the room," said the boy. "It's much better to have the windows open than to have them closed all the time."

The child had been asked to do what he was asked to do, but he did not understand what it was asked of him.

Removing Strawberry Mulch.

It involves considerable thought and care if one is to get the mulch off the strawberry bed at the right time and the best way for there are a good many factors which enter into the problem. If one is after the earliest possible berries, then the mulch should come off as fast as quickly as possible, and on the other hand, if late berries are desired their period of ripening may be delayed several days by leaving the mulch on the bed as long as possible.

If the mulch is taken off too soon having of the strawberry plants is likely to result and the bed may be seriously injured thereby.

In order to avoid the trouble the much should be left on the bed until danger of temperatures as low as 20 degrees above zero is past.

During ten years of dressing, I have been more and more amazed at the neglect of small things which mean so much economy in sewing.

In children's garments especially I have found extravagance. It is a case of dollars and sense.

I have often wondered if the dressers' ignorance would be of interest to others—women who can sew.
