

For the Boys and Girls

THE GHOST THAT BILLY SAW

BY EBEN E. REXFORD

It was a rainy afternoon. The boys were in the barn, telling stories, singing songs and trying to make the time pass as pleasantly as possible.

"I've had a ghost," Billy said to the boys. "I saw a ghost last night. It was a white figure in a white sheet, and it was holding a candle."

They were all looking at Billy with interest. "What did it do?" they asked. "Well, it came into the barn and looked at us for a moment, and then it went away."

A Poem You Should Know.

Stare of the summer night! Far in yon azure space, Hide, like your golden light!

A GOOD DAY'S FISHING

What's the matter, Jop? anything troubling you? asked Mr. Moskin, the proprietor of the store.

Things We Invent Badly. The careful housewife, when pouring tea, puts a drop of water in each saucer to keep the cup from sliding sideways.

A Palmist's Secrets.

To some people palmistry suggests quackery. To others it conveys the idea of a superstitious imposture, while many regard it as being entirely unworthy of consideration.

A FINE RECORD.

Robertson was interviewing candidates for the position of messenger and clerk-boy.

"A month," exclaimed Robertson, "that is not very long. How about the one before that?"

"Try This Dish." Take one reckless, natural-born fool, two or three big drinks of hot liquor; a high-wheeled, fast motor-car.

THE PRINCE'S ADVANCE AGENT

When on Tour, H.R.H. the Prince of Wales Travels on a Pre-Arranged Time-Table...

Although every tour of the Prince of Wales is planned out months before his Royal Highness's departure...

The "Welcome" Wallaby. Two Scotland Yard men accompany the advance agent. They make arrangements in conjunction with the local police for safeguarding the Prince.

What Should He Wear? The gift delighted the Prince, but also greatly embarrassed him for he had to hide it in his arms for the rest of the afternoon.

First-Aid Tips. Both on the river and sea, drowning fatalities are unfortunately apt to occur at this time of the year...

World's Largest Carpet. A carpet weighing twenty-one tons has been laid down in Dalrymple and a leading London hotel.

REG'AR FELLERS—By Gene Byrnes. DON'T BE SO ROUGH WITH THAT RABBIT JIMMIE!

WE WANT CHURCH CREAM

Who Supply... Charges... Where...

Howes Co.

At...

...the...

...the...

...the...

...the...

...the...

...the...

...the...

...the...

...the...

...the...

...the...

...the...

...the...

...the...

...the...

...the...

...the...

...the...

...the...

...the...

...the...

...the...

...the...

...the...

Costs little—helps much.

Wrigley's