The Fight Is On In Grey and Bruce

In the present federal campaign North and South Grey and North and South Bruce again will be the scene of old time election battles. The candidates are rapidly getting into the field and the fight in these nearby constituencies will be hot.

To follow the election developments in the Greys and Bruces you should read the Owen Sound Daily Sun-Times during the campaign. The big district daily will report and give complete and impartial information on these four contests. Important meetings will be fully reported and the real story of the fight in each riding will be told from day to day. This is in addition to a very complete telegraph summary of the campaign from coast to coast.

Each political party will be provided with space (without charge) in which the questions of the day will be discussed.

You'll enjoy reading The Daily Sun-Times, too, because it prints all the home and district news—the events in which you are mostly concerned. It's edited especially for the people of Grey and Bruce. But it does not neglect the outside news, either, and from a direct Canadian Press wire in its own office The Daily Sun-Times gives its readers the cream of the Dominion and world-wide news.
