Deadly Tuberculosis

The Public Health Service says that no age is immune against tuberculosis. Young infants succumb rapidly to it and, contrary to the general belief, persons over fifty years of age are by no means exempt, and deaths occur from it in a considerable percentage of the fatalities occurring in old age. About ten per cent. of all diseases among children under fifteen years of age are due to various forms of the disease, and about one-third of all deaths between twenty and forty are due to it—chiefly the pulmonary variety.

MOTHERS WHO HAVE USED BABY'S OWN TABLETS

Always Strongly Recommend Them to Other Mothers.

Once a mother has used Baby's Own Tablets for her little ones who use nothing else—actual experience teaches her that there is no other medicine so equal them for any of the major ailments from which the baby or child suffers. Having found the Tablets in her own home, she is always anxious that other mothers should share her knowledge. "Why Mrs. Creighton White, North Head, N.S., writes the following: "I have given my children the Tablets ever since they were born. I know of no other medicine which does so much for them. I would like to recommend them to all mothers."

Baby's Own Tablets are a mild, thorough laxative that regulates the stomach and bowels; banishes colic and indigestion; breaks up and relieves fever and makes the baby feel happy again. They are sold by medicine dealers or by mail, at one cent a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

BEARS LOSE FEAR OF MAN

BLACK and brown bears at Jasper National Park have become so tame that they frequently visit the public services grounds in search of food, and, according to the report of S. Maynard Rogers, Park Superintendent, be-

NEW STRENGTH FOR WEAK STOMACHS

Indigestion Disappears When the Blood is Enriched.

The urgent need of all who suffer from indigestion is a tonic to enrich the blood. Pain and distress after eating is the way the stomach shows that it is too weak to perform the work of digesting the food taken. In this condition some people foolishly resort to purgatives, but these only further aggravate the trouble.

New strength is given weak stomachs by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills because these pills enrich and purify the blood. The following statement from Mr. Donald L. Latta, Lakeland, N.S., shows the value of these pills in cases of this kind. He says: "A couple of years ago I had a bad attack of indigestion. I had little or no appetite, and what I did eat did not agree with me and caused me pain. As a result of this trouble my general health broke down and I finally had to give up my work. I had taken doctor's medicine but it did not give me any relief. Then a friend advised me to give Dr. Williams' Pink Pills a try. I had completed my third box when I found that they were helping me and by the time I had taken the sixth box every symptom of indigestion had disappeared and my general health had improved and I have since been in the very best of health. I look upon Dr. Williams' Pink Pills as a wonderful medicine for all who are handicapped."

You can get these pills from any medicine dealer or by mail at 50 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Companionship.

I count the shadows on the grass Beyond remembering.
 I catch the moonbeams as they pass,
 And hear when wind and birds sing.

A light I come a wind I go.
 Yet I am not alone.
 Companionship is mine who know
 That beauty is my own.

FLAMES 100,000 MILES HIGH

They Flare Forth From That Seething Furnace, the Sun.

By David Dietz.
 Despite the fact that the sun is millions of miles away from us, astronomers have assembled a remarkable knowledge about the structure of the sun through the use of large telescopes and delicate astronomical instruments. The first fact of interest is that the sun is not a stationary body as many suppose.

It is rushing through space at the rate of 12 1/2 miles a second. That means that since the astronomers of ancient Egypt began observing the stars 5000 years ago, the sun has moved two trillion miles.

Of course the sun carries the earth and the other planets along with it in its journey through the sky. Secondly, the sun itself rotates on its axis just as the earth does.

It takes the sun 28 of our days to complete one revolution. It is impossible, of course, to know anything about the centre or inner core of the sun, though there is great reason to believe that because of the intense heat of the sun, it is liquid.

We know, however, that the surface of the sun is a great white luminous molten sea.

This fact, and the time which it takes the sun to revolve upon its axis were both obtained by the observation of dark spots on the sun's surface known as sunspots.

The fact that these spots move across the disk of the sun prove that the sun is rotating.

The equatorial regions of the sun move with greater speed than do the polar regions. This proves the surface of the sun is liquid. If it were solid like the earth, all parts would rotate with the same speed.

Above the sun's surface is a layer of cooler gases about 600 to 1000 miles in thickness.

Above this is a third layer of red glowing fire composed of flaming gases. This layer is 5000 to 10,000 miles in thickness.

It is invisible to us because of the intense white light radiated from the sun's surface which "drowns out" so to speak.

From this layer, great red tongues of flame shoot out in all directions some miles from a distance of more than 100,000 miles.

This layer of red fire with its gigantic tongues of flame becomes visible during a total eclipse of the sun when the main body of the sun is obscured from our view.

These various layers on the sun are given names by the astronomer. The surface of the sun is called the photosphere. The next layer of gases is called the reversing layer. The layer of red fire is called the chromosphere and the silvery halo is called the corona.

Well-Worn Indeed.
 He took her hand in his and gazed proudly at the engagement ring he had placed on her finger only three days before.
 "Did your friends admire it?" he inquired, tenderly.
 "They did more than that," she replied, coquettishly. "Two of them recognized it."
