SANDWICH FILLINGS FOR PICNIC TREATS

Cheese Sardines
Spread crackers with bits of cheese and bake until the cheese melts. At lunch time, drain the oil from a can of sardines, and pour over the fish the juice from 1/2 of a lemon. Each diner makes his own sandwich by placing a sardine between 2 cheese crackers.

Radish Sandwiches
Put radishes through the food chopper using the coarse knife, and mix with enough salad dressing to form a stiff paste. This is especially good for use with rye bread.

Sardine Sandwiches
Three parts of chopped hard-boiled eggs to 1 part of minced sardines, is delicious with brown bread.

Cream Cheese Sandwiches
Into cream cheese mix minced onions to suit the taste. Use with brown bread.

Mix finely chopped English walnuts with cream cheese and season with salt.

Into a bowl cream cheese work a small onion, chopped fine and 1 tablespoon of minced green pepper.

To a cream cheese add 1/2 of a cup of chopped English walnut-meats.

Press firmly from which the filling has been prepared—minced fine, 1 teaspoonful of Worcestershire sauce, a few drops of lemon juice. Spread between buttered slices of bread or between thin unsweetened wafer crackers.

English Luncheon Sandwich
Butter lightly slices of whole-wheat white bread and sprinkle with cayenne pepper. Lay between the pieces a slice of boiled ham glazed with brown marmalade. This is unusual, delicious and delicious.

Honey Sandwiches
Mix honey with lemon juice to suit the taste, then add chopped nuts to make the paste quite stiff. This is cold or brown or whole-wheat bread.

Buttered Celery Sandwiches
Get thin slices from fresh bread, remove the crusts and butter each slice. Lay a lettuce leaf across one corner of the bread and roll the slice toward the opposite corner. Sprinkle lightly with salt and roll in melted butter. The groove in a tender stalk of celery may be filled with cheese and the sandwich packed as just described.

Pimento Cheese Filling
Put through the food chopper 2 times 1 pound of yellow cheese, 1 can of pimentos from which the juice has been drained and 1 teaspoonful of salt. Mix to spreading consistency and use as a filling for sandwiches with any kind of bread.

Ham and Chicken Filling

FARM NOTES

The Canning Season
The canning of fruit and vegetables is no longer a hobby but what may be called as "the rule of thumb." The preservation of these foods is now well understood that no risk need be taken with respect to loss by fermentation. The Department of Agriculture at Ottawa, through the Division of Horticulture, Experimental Farm, has carried out many experiments in this work and is now in position to give the most up-to-date and reliable guidance of these who would produce their winter supply of garden produce. Four principal methods of canning are used: water bath, pressure, vacuum, and the hot water method. The latter is the most reliable and is the one which should be used. Looking 'em Over
France and Belgium Will Investigate Razed Fortifications on Eastern Border

Berlin, French and Belgian military experts attached to their respective diplomatic corps in Berlin have received instructions to accept the invitation of General von Pless to inspect the destruction of the fortifications carried out by Germany in accordance with the decision of the Ambassadors' Council.

The tour will begin early in July and it is estimated that three weeks' work will be required to view the forty-eight emplacement ordered razed.

German officials express confidence that the experts will find everything that the trip is intended to check. The experts will be accompanied by a number of German officials who will be interested to show the results of their work.

The tour will be a very interesting one and it is expected that the results of the inspection will be of great value to the Allies.

ANALYSIS.

I. FIRST MEETING OF DAVID AND JONATHAN, 18:1-4.

II. JONATHAN AS TRUE FRIEND AND PEACEMAKER, 18:5-7.

III. THE COVENANT OF FRIENDSHIP, 20:1-43 and 23:13-18.

IV. DAVID'S LAMENT OVER SAUL AND JONATHAN, 2 Sam. 1:17-27.

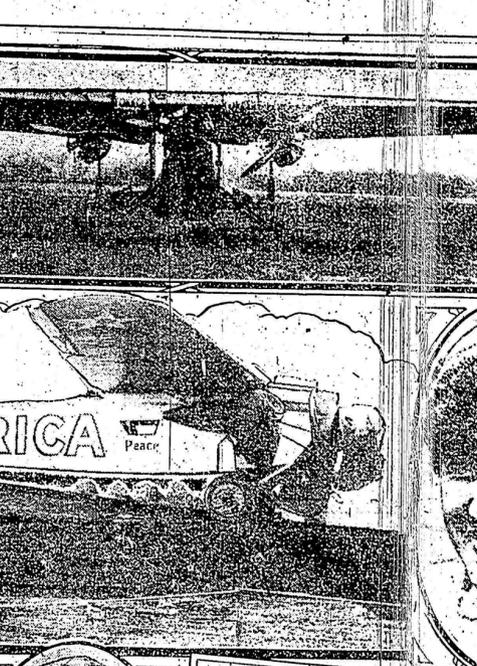

INTRODUCTION—Nothing is more impressive and beautiful than the story of the friendship between David and Jonathan, and it may safely be said that there is nothing finer in all literature, and nothing more true to the best that is in human nature. The character of Jonathan especially stands out in strong relief. Brave, generous, absolutely unselfish, loyal both to his father and his friend, unwilling to believe evil of either one, he is the "very gentle perfect knight" or "Hebrew glory" without fear and without reproach.

I. FIRST MEETING OF DAVID AND JONATHAN, 18:1-4.

It was when David returned to Saul bearing the grim trophies of his victory over Goliath that Jonathan saw him and loved him. This is his first recorded meeting. Whether or not they had met before we do not know. Jonathan is an officer in Saul's army bearing an important command and has been very little seen by his father and David, or even as an armorer's helper. Jonathan's friendship, once known, was whole-hearted. He clothed David in his own garments, his robe, his sword, and his bow, and gave him his own sword, his bow, and his arrows. He made a covenant of friendship with David, and discovered that David was to succeed his father upon the throne. David's shepherd days in Bethlehem were at an end, and he became a captain in the king's household (18:5).

II. JONATHAN AS TRUE FRIEND AND PEACEMAKER, 18:5-7.

The intervening paragraphs tell of David's rapid advance in popularity with the people, in success in which he was aided by Jonathan. Jonathan's jealousy of Saul's success was not his own, but he was not to be deceived by the king's words. He saw the danger to his father and his friend, and he was not to be deceived by the king's words. He saw the danger to his father and his friend, and he was not to be deceived by the king's words.

KITCHEN TIPS

Creaming sugar and butter will be a much easier task if the bowl in which they are creamed is placed in a larger bowl containing hot water. The creaming will thus be expedited greatly.

Linen will improve its look and dress if soapy water is used in making water in washing lines instead of starch. The result will prove highly satisfactory.

In ironing remember to iron with the thread of the goods and iron against the grain if dry, otherwise it will pucker.

A satisfactory proportion for making jelly is three-fourths of a cup of sugar to one-half of a cup of fruit.
