CANADA AND THE ST. LAWRENCE

The publication of the report from the Prime Minister of Canada refusing for the present to enter into negotiations for a convention for the execution of the St. Lawrence waterway project is a sharp reminder that the famous proposal is, after all, an international affair. It is a point which seems sometimes to be overlooked by the American proponents of the plan.

HOOPER REPORT

Hooper report there have come suggestions that the Canadian government might use the St. Lawrence as a bargaining point in other issues with the United States, such as those raised by our tariffs or the drainage canal controversy. And there have been fears lest the United States gain too much control over Canada's national river highway.

Few people realize the length of an ocean liner as they see the ship in port or at sea. The above illustration shows how. If turned end on by some giant hand, a 14,000-ton Cunard Canadian Service liner would fit snugly in the 23-story Royal Bank of Canada building.

WEAK AND NERVOUS

The Condition of a P. E. I. Lady Who Again Rejoices in Good Health. "I can't most heartily recommend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to all weak people," says Mrs. Augustin Arsenault, Wellington Station, P.E.I. "Before I began their use I was very weak and nervous. I had always worked hard, with no thought of my health, and I was getting weaker and weaker."
