Death of Mrs. R. J. Quinton

A gloom of sadness spread over this community Tuesday morning, January 9th, when it was learned that Mrs. R. J. Quinton had departed this life after being confined to Hoppenstall Hospital, Meaford, some three weeks with blood poison, which latterly developed into septic pneumonia, caused by a cut in the thumb, which received infection while preparing fowl for the market.

The deceased, whose maiden name was Margaret Gertrude Clark, eldest daughter of the late Hugh Clark and Mrs. Clark of Meaford. She was born in St. Vincent township and was in her 43rd year.

In the year 1907 she was married to her now bereaved husband, who survives with a family of five daughters and one son, namely, Eva, Ella, Mildred, Florence, Edna and Gordon. Besides her widowed mother deceased, she is also survived by two brothers and two sisters: Samuel and Ernest Lloydminster, Sask.; Mrs. Andrew Menzies, Walters Falls, and Mrs. Jno. Palmer, Meaford.

The funeral, which was largely attended, took place from the home of her mother, Mrs. Hugh Clark, Pearson street, Meaford, on Thursday afternoon to Lakeview cemetery, services being conducted by Rev. Mr. Vorden, assisted by Dr. McDougall, of Temple Hill Church, of which the deceased was a member. The many floral tributes were as follows: Broken Circle from the husband and family; wreath from Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Menzies; spray from her husband's sisters; spray from Mrs. J. McGinn; spray from Mrs. N. McGinn; Bognot; spray from Mr. and Mrs. E. Artley, Toronto; spray from Mr. and Mrs. G. Wiley, Wodehouse; spray from Mr. and Mrs. G. McBurney, Toronto; spray from Mr. and Mrs. H. Penton, Owen Sound; spray from Mrs. C. Weber, Kitchener; spray from Mrs. J. Knox, Church St. Vincent; spray from Dr. and Mrs. Eagles, Meaford; spray from the neighbors.

The sympathy of the community is extended to the bereaved in their time of sorrow.

W. T. Kells Dead

The Markdale Standard and Chatsworth Banner (News) After a lengthy illness, extending over two or three years, Mr. W. T. Kells passed away at his residence in Markdale on Monday morning of this week, aged 64 years.

The deceased was born near Markdale, Ont., and farmed in that vicinity until 1902, when he moved to Markdale. He and his brother, Mr. J. Kells, took up land in the vicinity of the Markdale and Meaford roads. While they ran both farms, they were successful in their operations. Mr. Kells was a member of the Markdale and Chatsworth Banners, and was a well-known and respected citizen.

Mrs. Thomas King and Son, William T. King

To the people living in the townships of Euphrasia and Holland their name a heavy shadow which has deeply gripped the entire community.

On Wednesday morning, January 10th, the Angel of Death hovered over the community south of Walters Falls when Mrs. Elizabeth King, widow of the late Thomas King and daughter of the late James Curry, answered the final summons as she passed peacefully away in sleep after an illness of a few weeks' duration.

While people were gathered on Friday, January 6th, for Mrs. King's funeral at the house and the church, death came a second time to the same home, when Mr. Wm. T. King, a son of the late Mrs. King, was called to the life beyond. Arrangements were made to postpone the services from Friday until Sunday, January 8th, when a joint service was held at Ebenezer Church, near Goring, where an overflow crowd bore testimony to the esteem in which the two deceased and their relatives were held.

Rev. J. A. Petch, minister of the church, spoke very feelingly and suitably from the text, John 14:1, "Let not your heart be troubled."

After the regular service in the church and at the grave, the Orange Order, of which the late Wm. King was a member and past master, performed the usual brotherhood service at the grave.

Mrs. Elizabeth King was one of the first children of not the first child, born to pioneer parents in the community, in which she lived and died. She was born in 1864, and lived such a life, as to entitle her to the love and respect of her husband and relatives, as well as a large circle of friends and neighbors. She was an earnest member of the United Church of Walters Falls where she was a regular attendant as long as health permitted.

Mr. Wm. T. King was born in the year 1881 on the farm where he spent his entire life, which ended in such a shock to the community. Perhaps the highest tribute that it is possible to pay his memory is to recall the many words of sympathy and appreciation, liberally spoken by his closest neighbors, as well as by many others, including the members of the Ebenezer Church, of which he was a member, having long been an active member of the choir and at the time of his death held a number of the Official Board of the Church.

Week of Prayer

In connection with the Inter-denominational Week of Prayer last week, four united services were held, the first service being held at the church on Tuesday, January 9th, at 7:30 p.m. The service was held at the church, but it was a very quiet one. Rev. Wm. Courts, who has been in charge of the services, was the speaker. He spoke of the "Prayer of the People and the Individual." He said that the devotion, "A large number attended on Wednesday when Rev. Wm. Courts spoke at the prayer in connection with the "Prayer of the People and the Individual." The service was held at the church, but it was a very quiet one.

Calder Should Be Warden

(Durham Chronicle) Everything else being equal, 1928 looks to be the year in which Neil Calder, Reeve of Egremont Township, could occupy the head of the table at this year's sessions of Grey County Council.

It is 20 years or more since Egremont Township was honored by the Wardenship and while it is the Township really that is honored, there must also be considerable attention given the man when the highest position in the gift of the county is being given out.

Mr. Calder has now been a member of six sessions of the Grey County Council. He is a man who represents his municipality well, is also a man of outstanding ability, a good mixer, and very popular with his fellow members of the County Council. If it is qualifications that are needed, Mr. Calder has them.

For A New Calendar

There is considerable agitation in the business world nowadays over a new calendar to supplant the one now in use. The big contention being that the present calendar has objectionable features which cause difficulty in business, owing to the variation in the length of the months. Claims are made that business men counting their months in a calendar of thirteen months is adopted.

The advantages of this calendar are that it gives a more uniform number of working days, and the same number of holidays. The month would always end on Sunday, and holidays would always fall on the same week-day. The date of Easter could be fixed, which is a better advantage. A yearly calendar would not be necessary inasmuch as one fixed monthly calendar would be sufficient.

There is a great deal of prejudice and inertia to overcome before such a change, with its obvious advantages, can be brought about. We remember meeting Mr. Cotsworth in Paris in 1924 and having quite a lengthy conversation on the matter with him. His business appeared to be to bring the plan to the attention of public bodies and public men in the principal centres of the civilized world.

Assiniboine—the Greatest Achievement of the Trail Riders

Mount Assiniboine, one of the most magnificent peaks in all the Canadian Rockies, has been climbed by a party of five men and a dog, as a result of the recent annual expedition of the Trail Riders, who have just completed their most ambitious ride.

The Assiniboine, a peak considered by many to be the highest in the mountains, is a peak of 11,550 feet, which had been considered by some to be the highest in the Rockies. The Trail Riders, who have just completed their most ambitious ride, have now reached the top of this peak, which is a feat of great magnitude.

The Riders, who left Banff on August fourth on the highest, longest and most interesting ride in the history of their organization, broke new trails into an almost unknown country, the route they took has been unused for more than twenty years and lies over a pass which had been closed for many years. The party, which consisted of five men and a dog, was led by the Trail Riders' leader, who has now reached the top of the peak, which is a feat of great magnitude.
