O Wonderful Horse!

"O horse, you are a wonderful thing: no buttons to push, no horn to honk; you start yourself, no clutch to slip; no spark to miss, no gears to strip; no license buying every year, with plates to screw on front and rear; no gas bills climbing up each day, stealing the joy of life away; no speed cops chugging in your rear, yelling summons in your ear. Your inner tubes are all O.K., and thank the Lord they stay that way. Your spark plugs never miss and fuses: your motor never makes us cuss. Your frame is good for mule a mile; your body never changes style. Your wants are few and easy met; you've something on the 'auto yet.'"

The editor, as a rule, is mighty long on giving space in his paper to the things that mean prosperity for his community, and too often the fact is lost sight of that the space the editor so willingly gives to aid his community and his people is his own bread and butter. It is what he has to sell, and when he gives it away it is just the same as if the grocer dished out gratis his coffee and sugar—yet no one thinks of asking the grocer to give him coffee or sugar.—Ex.

Mrs. Ino. McKinney, Erin, recently lost a goose which had lived to the good old age of thirty years. Mrs. Goose was considered one of the most valuable feathered members on the farm as she never failed to bring forth a good flock of goslings and mothered them in real style, having lost but very few of the numerous hatchlings. However, the end must come, and she just lay over in the barn yard and passed on to the better land of the feathered family.—Erin Advocate.

NO ONE KNOWS CORRECT ANSWER

To make sure that no one knows the exact or correct answer to the problem or how many jars of Mox are sold daily, Mr. Hugh C. Anderson, Advertising Manager, The Nor-West Farming, Winnipeg, and Mr. G. F. Gomeroy, General Manager, The Saskatchewan Farmer, Regina, Sask., kindly consented to erase one or more figures from the puzzle chart. This was done at different bases, consequently no one knows just what numbers were taken out. Notes of these figures were made by Mr. Anderson and Mr. Gomeroy, sealed and placed in safety deposit boxes, where they will remain until after the close of the contest. Bear in mind that the Puzzle Contest Department know the correct answer before the figures were erased. After the contest is over the Contest Department will be informed just what numbers were erased. These numbers will be subtracted from the original correct answer, thus giving the present correct answer. In other words, the correct answer to the problem is the sum total of all the figures in the picture printed herewith, which means that the erased figures do not appear in the puzzle so it is not necessary for you to guess at the numbers the judges erased.

SUGGESTIONS TO HELP YOU WIN!

Nearly every person who has solved a puzzle of this kind has one or more methods of his own or her own for securing the solution. For those who may be solving a figure puzzle for the first time the following methods are offered.

Cut the puzzle into square blocks. It is then a simple problem to count the figures, and each block can be checked and re-checked for accuracy. Another method is to blot out each figure on the puzzle chart as it is written down on another sheet of paper. This prevents the possible mistake of counting the same figure twice, but has one disadvantage in that it does not allow you to re-check your work.

The third method is to take a combination of figures, which, when added to gether make a total of 10. For example five and three and two make ten; seven and three, or six and two and two make ten. Tens are not only easily added together, but there is also less danger of making a mistake. A fourth method is to pick out all the figures which are the same, such as the twos, threes, fours, etc. Add them up and cross them out on the chart as this is done. To check this system for accuracy the total number of twos and threes and fours, etc., should be counted and the comparisons made with the additions. Any one of the above methods will be found better than no method at all, for in a contest of this kind where a large number are taking part, it is the extra care that counts.

CAN I WIN?

Will I win the $2,185 Cash, or one of the other large prizes? Can I add these figures up as carefully as my neighbor? Will I win some of the $285.00 extra cash offered for early solution senders? Can I start tonight? If so, why not?

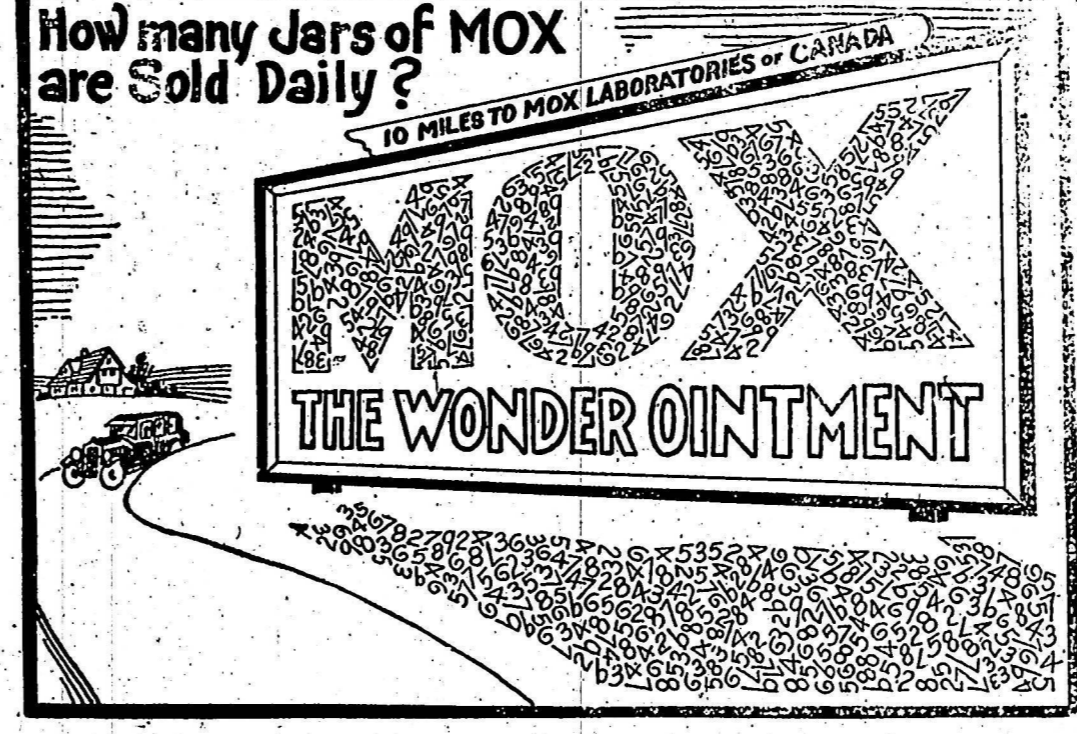

URGE YOUR CHILDREN TO ENTER

As a brain developer there is nothing like a knotty problem. Parents should encourage their children to participate in this competition. There is no trick or chance involved. Every figure is in plain view. Anyone who can add can solve this puzzle. Effort alone will win the prize. Don't delay; start counting today. There are absolutely no tricks in this figure puzzle. Circle any number that you cannot make out on your chart; send it in to us, and we will gladly give a ruling on it.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES
 — Any person in Canada sending in a solution may get subscriptions from friends or relatives in the United States provided that postage at the rate of 50 cents per year be added. That makes the date: One Year $1.50; Two Years $3.00; Three Years $4.50; Four Years $6.00; Etc.

A Golden Opportunity to Win Golden Dollars

220 Amazing Prizes. First Prize Valued $2185.00

THIS IS THE PROBLEM

The problem is to find the sum total of all the figures which, when added together represent the total number of jars of Mox sold daily. Every figure is complete and the drawing is entirely free from tricks and illusions, but like a lot of other things, it is not as easy as it looks. The figures range from two to nine, each standing alone, thus two, three, four, five, six, seven, eight and nine. There are no ones or ciphers in the chart. The tops of the sixes are curved and open, while the bottoms of the nines are straight and closed. By looking at any figure carefully you can easily tell what it is. However, to pick out all the figures and add them together correctly is a task which requires both patience and skill. In the event that no one obtains the exact answer, the prizes will be awarded for the nearest correct solution. Accuracy and patience are the main factors for arriving at the correct count. We wish to have it clearly understood that there are no figures in any part of the picture except the word "Mox" and the shadow of the signboard. No part of the background is made of figures. There is no trick in this puzzle. Every figure can be plainly seen.

Remember, each figure must be added separately. For example: 379745 is to be counted as 3 plus 7 plus 9 plus 7 plus 4 plus 5, total 34, and it is NOT Three Hundred and Seventy-Nine Thousand Seven Hundred and Forty-Five. In other words simply add them as you would if each figure stood one above the other in a single column.

For your information the answer is somewhere between 3,000 and 5,000.
