In Memoriam

CLARK—In loving memory of our brother, George R. Clark, who passed to eternal rest July 10th, 1927.

In our homes he is fondly remembered; Sweet memories cling to his name; We who loved him with deepest affection Still love him in death just the same.

Sadly missed by brothers and sisters.

A despatch from Belgrade states that Stephen Raditch, in the hospital with a bullet wound received in the recent fracas in the House of Parliament, and suffering also from acute diabetes, has proved himself the strongest political factor in Jugoslavina by practically checking King Alexander's plan to form a concentration government of all parties. He sent word to the King that the Peasant Democratic Party would not join a concentration government on any terms, and the King was obliged to order him to send a representative to the Palace with an outline of his demands.

Mystery has surrounded the disappearance of a famous Belgian financier, Capt. Alfred Lowenstam, who was missed from his airplane after its crossing the English Channel, bound from England to Brussels. It was at first thought that he had fallen out, or thrown himself out, and was drowned, and there were rumors that he had been in financial straits as a result of wild "speculating." A second rumor credited him with being in hiding near Lille, France, and that there was a warrant-out for his arrest. But his bankers declared that he was under no great financial stress, and that he might be rated as the third richest man in the world.

LEITCH—In loving memory of Earl G. Leitch, who passed away July 11th, 1927.

Deep in our hearts is a picture of a loved one laid to rest. In memory's frame we will keep it. Because he was one of the best. We know how much we miss him; No one knows the bitter pain We have suffered, since we lost him. Life will never be the same. Friends may think we have forgotten. When at times they see us smile. But they little know the heartache That smile hides all the while. Sadly missed by mother, brothers and sisters.

LEITCH—In loving memory of my husband, Earl Leitch, who passed away July 11th, 1927.

His love is all that I need; His smile is all that I need; His love is all that I need; His smile is all that I need.
